NEXT LEGISLATURE CLOSE ON PROHIBITION QUESTION

"Drys" Hail Sprout's Victory—Wets Claim Majority in Senate. While House Membership Shows Sentiment Nearly Even.

Philadelphia Delegation All Republican

Senator Sprout's election to the Governorship is hailed as a victory for the "drys."

He was pledged to the ratification of the national prohibition amendment, and his opponent, Municipal Judge Eugene C. Bonniwell, the Democratic nominee, waged his campaign chiefly on the "wet" issue.

The House interests delivered an onslaught on Senator Sprout in the closing days of the campaign.

It is believed the House interests confined their efforts largely in behalf of the candidate for the United States Senate.

While the "wets" on the face of returns received so far from over the State claim a majority in the Senate, the vote in the House between the "wets" and "drys" is conceded to be close.

Five Republican members of the State Senate and forty-one Republican members of the House were elected in the city.

Three of the successful candidates for the Senate and fifteen for the House will be new members.

Of the city delegation in the next Legislature the Vore forces claim six of the eight Senators and thirty-two of the forty-one members of the House.

The Senators elected yesterday in the city are:

Second District, Samuel W. Kalus, re-elected; Third District, William J. McNichol; Fourth District, Edward W. Vore, re-elected; Sixth District, George Woodward; Eighth District, George Gray.

Elections for Senators were held in the city.

line of reconstruction, especially with Congress Republican and determined to reassert its authority as a co-ordinate branch of the Government.

Struggles To Come

For the election of a Republican Congress will mean a struggle with the President for a return to constitutional methods.

This government is likely no longer to consist of an executive and a legislature which merely records its will.

The process of subordinating Congress to the President has been going on for a long time and has reached its climax.

Naturally enough during the war Congress has been merely an appropriating body and a legislative perfecting body.

Laws have originated in the executive departments and been sent to Congress to be passed substantially as drafted.

It is difficult to say exactly what was in the people's mind in rejecting Mr. Wilson's plea for a Democratic Congress.

but one thing that must have been there was a determination to restore the Government to its constitutional form.

What the country was threatened with was the complete subordination of the legislative to the executive even in peace time.

This one significance of the election on the positive side, and there would appear to be a rejection by the country of radicalism.

Voices Note of Caution

There is a note of extreme caution in yesterday's vote. It is the nation's first reaction to Mr. Wilson's policy toward organized labor and toward industry.

The effect of yesterday's verdict will probably be to limit the likelihood of the President's being a candidate to succeed himself.

Three Seats in House at Washington Lost by the Democrats

Harrisburg, Nov. 6.—Returns from all over central Pennsylvania today continue to pile up impressive all Republican candidates.

even in districts ordinarily regarded as Democratic strongholds. In every contest in which National Chairman James C. McCormick set a candidate and where he conducted vigorous campaigns in their behalf, Republicans were elected.

The Congressional contests in this part of the State were marked by the defeat of every Democratic candidate.

Congressman Henry J. Struble, of the Eighteenth District, lost to Republican James A. Bennett, Thirtieth, Clinton A. Sowers, Fourteenth, William J. Hamilton, Fifteenth, Robert A. Duncy, and Edwin Stott, Seventeenth, William T. Wallace, Nineteenth, Samuel J. Ephraim, and Arthur R. B. Fox, Twenty-fourth, Thad S. Krause, Twenty-fifth, Philip H. Crockett.

election over Stephen H. Hession, of the same city, by a decisive majority.

In several districts the rival candidates are running close and official figures may upset the standing of the delegation as it appeared early today.

The Republicans stand a good chance, early figures indicated, of reducing the Democratic membership of ten in the State Senate. Several districts are yet to be heard from.

It is probable the Republicans will increase their representation in the House. Early figures are yet available as to the actual standing of the "wets" and "drys" in the Legislature.

G. O. P. Gain in Legislature

Republican State leaders claim that at least three of the present districts in the State are expected to elect Democrats have elected Republicans, and that the Democratic representation in the Legislature has been cut from ten to twenty-seven members of the House.

Representative Woodward, Republican nominee for Secretary of Internal Affairs, led the ticket in Philadelphia with a plurality of 10,000 over A. H. Johnson, of Bradford, his Democratic opponent.

Senator Biddleman's plurality over J. Washington Logue, the Democratic nominee for the Legislative Government, was 109,552 in the city.

Judge Bonniwell carried only one ward in the city, the Sixth, where his fight to elect Senator Sprout, and once he was defeated by Common Councilman Charles A. Schwarz, the Democratic nominee, by a vote of 469 to 328.

The vote of Justice Simpson in the city for Supreme Court was 90,387, and that for Judge Kephart, 34,180.

While the Republican candidates for Congress-at-large ran well along with the heads of the ticket in both the city and State.

Both constitutional amendments carried by big majorities in the city. The amendment providing for a $50,000,000 bond issue to improve State highways was approved in the State.

Little interest was manifested in the State over the amendment to increase Philadelphia's borrowing capacity from 10 to 16 per cent for general purposes.

But the big vote which it received in the city is believed to have carried it through.

In the Party-sixth Ward the Vore candidate, in the contest for Governor, was defeated by Common Councilman Charles A. Schwarz, the Democratic nominee, by a vote of 469 to 328.

Democrat 13,000 Ahead of Weeks in Senate Contest

By the Associated Press

Hoston, Nov. 6.—Pluruses tabulated at midnight indicated that former Governor David I. Walsh, Democrat, is leading Senator John W. Weeks, Republican, for re-election for United States Senator in Massachusetts by nearly 13,000 votes.

Walsh leads in 113 precincts, including 150 in Boston out of 1103 in the State, says the Associated Press. Walsh (13,111-16,111); Weeks (11,982-10,982).

DEMOCRATS REPULSE VARE RAID ON SIXTH

Serenade Home of Ryan, Dead Leader, After Winning Seat in Council

Efforts of the Vares to capture the lone Democratic ward in the city—the Sixth—failed yesterday.

Charles A. Schwarz, Democratic nominee for Select Council received 649 votes against 328 for Walter J. Littleton, the Vore hold.

The election was a special one held to fill a vacancy caused by the death of John Maguire, the former city treasurer, who was elected to Select Council from the Thirtieth Ward by a vote of 1,000 to 500.

When it became apparent that the ward was to remain in the Democratic column, despite the fact that the Republican opposition had been larger, the "old-timers" of the ward organized a celebration.

With a blaring band and an abundance of red fire, they led a procession to the home of the late Mayor John H. McLaughlin, who was leader of the ward for many years.

The band crashed out a stirring serenade in honor of the memory of the old leader and yells and cheers split the air.

Suddenly the door opened and Mrs. Ryan appeared on the steps.

"I know what this means," she said, "in the name of the Major I thank you for keeping the honor true to its principles and the honor you have done me by paying tribute to his memory in the hour of your victory."

Special councilman elections were held in the other wards to fill vacancies caused by the death of William A. McLaughlin, city treasurer, who was elected to Select Council from the Thirtieth Ward by a vote of 1,000 to 500.

There was no opposition in either case. Shikins succeeded Herbert Shikins who was elected to the Thirtieth Ward, and William A. McLaughlin, city treasurer, succeeded William A. McLaughlin, city treasurer.

In the Twenty-first Ward, there was a contest over filling a vacant seat in Common Council. The Republican nominee, Thomas S. Mackler, who was elected to the Fourth Ward, by a vote of 1,000 to 500.

There was no opposition in either case. Shikins succeeded Herbert Shikins who was elected to the Thirtieth Ward, and William A. McLaughlin, city treasurer, succeeded William A. McLaughlin, city treasurer.

Overseers of the election were appointed by the court at the request of the Board of Supervisors for the Democratic City Committee, who also journeyed to Washington and presented his case to the Federal authorities with the result that Department of Justice agents were instructed to keep watch on the election.

In addition, Mayor Smith sent Police Captain Henry Smith to guard against disorder. This action was taken because the Democrats had asked the transfer of Lieutenant Phiseman from command of the Fourth District, which covers the ward.

STATE HOUSE ROOF FINISHED

New One an Exact Copy of Original Covering

The new roof on Independence Hall in which every piece was made an exact copy of the original has been finished.

Aside from the fact that the new roof was built in precisely the same line as were followed in the construction of the original roof, the fact that it is also made of the same material, it is provided for in the plans prepared by the Philadelphia Chapter, American Institute of Architects.

This feature of the work was done by first constructing a roof of asbestos over which shingles were laid. The shingles are of a special kind—made to fit cypress shingles. Care was exercised to duplicate the lines in the roof, such as rafters, beams, sheathing and slings and the best quality dry hemlock.

To follow the exact lines of the original construction of the roof, it was necessary to transfer two skylights which were in the north wall to the roof to the south slope and to change the lines of the old roof considerably.

Knute Nelson Returned to Senate. State Goes Dry

By the Associated Press

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 6.—United States Senator Knute Nelson (R.) today returned to the Senate after a two-year absence.

Governor J. A. Burnquist (D.) led his three opponents by about 100,000 votes. The vote for governor in 1910, carried by one-sixth of the total in 1913, was carried by Burnquist, 20,677; David H. Evans, Nonpartisan League candidate, 15,217; Fred E. Whelan (Dem.) 14,258.

Latest returns on Prohibition gave the amendment 18,234 votes and 16,366 opposed to it.

The latest tabulations for State officers show that all the Republican candidates are in the lead. The delegation in Congress probably will stand Republicans, eight, and Democrats, two.

BALTIMORE GOES DEMOCRATIC

Congressman Condy and Lindheim Are Re-elected

Baltimore, Nov. 6.—The Democrats swept the city in yesterday's congressional election, returning Representatives Charles P. Condy and J. Charles Lindheim, whose districts lie entirely in Baltimore, by largely increased pluralities.

The new charter for Baltimore providing home rule and the merit system in making municipal appointments was adopted overwhelmingly despite bitter opposition by a number of politicians of both parties.

The constitutional amendment providing the ballot for voters absent in the military or naval service of the United States carried this city by 10,000 and its adoption by the State was regarded as a certainty.

Maryland's House delegation in the Sixty-sixth Congress will stand three Democrats and three Republicans, a Republican gain of one.

Republican Representatives Mudd and Zihlman were re-elected by safe pluralities, an Arnold S. Johnson, defeated Representative Price, Democrat, by about 400 votes.

Merchantville Votes Dry

Merchantville, N. J., Nov. 6.—This town voted dry at yesterday's election. There is but one saloon. Volney Bennett was elected Mayor without opposition.

"SAVE GASOLINE"

Says the Fuel Administrator—

If every car driven in America were a FRANKLIN we would save in one year 400,000,000 gallons of gas.

The Franklin travels 20 to 25 miles on a single gallon.

Then, too, if every car driven in America were a FRANKLIN the Automobile owners of America would save in one year $192,000,000 in tires.

The Franklin travels 10,000 instead of 5000 miles on a set of tires.

Although the entire Franklin factory has been put at the disposal of the Government for the making of war materials, the Sweeten Automobile Company, anticipating this measure, purchased every available Franklin and now has cars (particularly of the enclosed winter types) on hand for immediate delivery.

When this stock is depleted there will be no more Franklins available, as the factory cannot resume production until months after peace is declared.
