

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Tells of Several Postponed Parties Due to the Weather—One Dance Turned Into a House Party—Other Bits of Interest

WHILE the weather, to my thinking, was just great Saturday, Sunday and yesterday, I must acknowledge it was not easy to get around in. And several hosts and hostesses who had time to do so by telephone postponed the parties scheduled for Saturday night. The William Watermans, who were to have given a buffet supper at their home on Hartwood street, postponed the party until next Saturday, and the Charles Stanley Hortons, who were to give a dance for their daughter, Elizabeth Jamison Horton, postponed that event until Friday night of this week.

The party at Wetherills, however, had their party (it was a dance for Logan Starr), and the storm was so heavy that the party of the guests were forced to spend the night with them. I heard, too, that Logan, the guest of honor, and some others were a bit of a party at the dance, and that when they started bravely out in an automobile for Chestnut Hill their motor stalled in enormous snow.

Among the guests who will attend the supper dance to be given this evening at the Haverford Club by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson McAndrews, of Haverford, Pa., will be Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Hoover, of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Hoover, of Washington, D. C., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Edgar Hoover, of Washington, D. C.

Now, I always had a weakness for dolls myself and used to dress them a great deal. In fact, I learned how to make my own clothes in this very way, as I started to talk with Elmer, who said: "Does she need another dress? That one she has on is very pretty."
