THE GREAT TRIAL.

The Villains Against the Democracy Exposed.

Sentiments of Leading Republican and Democratic Statesmen During War are the Friends of the Union.

We call the whole people together as a jury to consider the charges of the Republican and Democratic parties. We have heard the different parties and the different representatives of the day, and have no doubt that the Republican party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republican party is the friend of the Union.

The Republican party is the friend of the Union, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union.

There will be no war until the Republicans have done all that they can to prevent it. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republicans are the friends of the Union.

We call the whole people together as a jury to consider the charges of the Republican and Democratic parties. We have heard the different parties and the different representatives of the day, and have no doubt that the Republican party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republican party is the friend of the Union.

The Republican party is the friend of the Union, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union.

There will be no war until the Republicans have done all that they can to prevent it. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republicans are the friends of the Union.

We call the whole people together as a jury to consider the charges of the Republican and Democratic parties. We have heard the different parties and the different representatives of the day, and have no doubt that the Republican party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republican party is the friend of the Union.

The Republican party is the friend of the Union, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union.

There will be no war until the Republicans have done all that they can to prevent it. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republicans are the friends of the Union.

We call the whole people together as a jury to consider the charges of the Republican and Democratic parties. We have heard the different parties and the different representatives of the day, and have no doubt that the Republican party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republican party is the friend of the Union.

The Republican party is the friend of the Union, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union.

There will be no war until the Republicans have done all that they can to prevent it. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republicans are the friends of the Union.

We call the whole people together as a jury to consider the charges of the Republican and Democratic parties. We have heard the different parties and the different representatives of the day, and have no doubt that the Republican party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republican party is the friend of the Union.

The Republican party is the friend of the Union, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union.

There will be no war until the Republicans have done all that they can to prevent it. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republicans are the friends of the Union.

We call the whole people together as a jury to consider the charges of the Republican and Democratic parties. We have heard the different parties and the different representatives of the day, and have no doubt that the Republican party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republican party is the friend of the Union.

The Republican party is the friend of the Union, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Democratic party is the friend of the Union.

There will be no war until the Republicans have done all that they can to prevent it. We will not listen to the explanations of the different parties, and the Republicans are the friends of the Union.