NUMBER 8.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

The next session of the Presbyterian Synod, which was in session at Erie, Pa., will be held in the Pine Street church, Harrisburg.

The State Convention of the Young Women's Christian Association adjourned last Sunday evening at Williamsport, after a most successful session, lasting four days.

Regular services will be held in the United Presbyterian church on next Sabbath. The pastor, after a rest of two weeks from the study in the open air, resumes his regular work with such renewed vigor and much appreciation of the kindness of his people in the care for his health and comfort.

Rev. Wm. A. West will conduct communion services in the Presbyterian church at this place on next Sabbath morning at 10:30 o'clock, and at Green Hill at 3 in the afternoon. Preparatory services at this place on Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock, and at Green Hill at 3 P. M.

SPECIAL SERVICE.—Dr. T. C. Billinger, of the Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, will preach in the Lutheran church next Sunday morning. He comes in the interest of the Seminary and will present the needs of the institution. The Doctor is an able and eloquent speaker and no one will regret coming out to hear him. All are heartily welcome.

The title of Doctor of Divinity was recently conferred upon Rev. W. A. West, President of Metzger College, Carlisle, by Westminster College, New Wilmington, Penn.

A notable act in Presbyterian legislation was the unanimous vote of the Pennsylvania Synod at Erie in favor of the tithe system as the standard for contributions to the church. Every voice heretofore to accomplish this end has been overwhelmingly defeated, and the Pennsylvania Synod is the first of that faith in the world to adopt the tithe plan. This method is outlined in the Scriptures and recommends that all church members pay not less than one tenth of their incomes to the support of the church, this amount not to include contributions to charitable or semi-religious causes.

Rev. H. S. Cook and family left Chambersburg last week for Hanover, N. Y. Cook preached an impressive farewell sermon in Zion Lutheran church before leaving for his new charge. His departure is sincerely regretted by a host of friends in Chambersburg.

CO-OPERATIVE FARMING.

We regret to learn that owing to the fact that David T. Fields, of Tod township, has felt called upon to abandon agricultural pursuits, the co-operative system of farming which has been carried by that gentleman and Samuel Marshall, will, in a measure, be discontinued. We have not the space in this News to outline the system, but our readers can gather from brief and fragmentary colloquies between them, something of its nature.

"Say, Daddy, guess I'll go to work today."

"All right, Sammy."

"Daddy, I think I'll quit working for you. Got a better job, Sixty dollars a month and boarded."

"All right, Sammy. How much do you owe me?"

"Three dollars. You aren't mad, Daddy?"

"No, no, Sammy."

"Next morning."

"Why, hello, Sammy."

"Good morning, Daddy. Going to work?"

"All right, Sammy."

"Yes me off a week, Daddy, to go to election."

"Go on, Sammy. How much do I owe you?"

"Three dollars. You aren't mad, I'll get you stick, Daddy."

"Horror Sammy." And so on ad infinitum.

GRAHAM OIL COMPANY.

On Friday last the directors of the Graham Oil Company, met in special session in the private room of the Bank of Commerce. Encouraging reports were received and Capt. George W. Palmer, directed to go to Pittsburg, in an early date, and secure the services of an expert and such financial data as might be necessary to fully complete the well. It is now thought that the stock will be taken to the amount of $5000 the original capital. We are becoming more and more assured that we are living in an undeveloped oil field and that the day is not far distant when oil derricks will stand prominently upon our hills and in our fields. The evidence is sufficient to warrant the prediction. The earth has been penetrated to any great depth, but it has given every indication that under our rough surface there exists a smooth article called oil. In 1867 a company was formed at Hancock and hole driven down 600 feet when a flow of gas almost ascertained the operators. When an analysis was made, ten per cent, of oil was found to exist. At Franklin Mills, Hancock, oil of a good quality was found at a depth of 400 feet, Hancock Star.

OVERCOMING DIFFICULTIES.

One of our female reporters tells us this little story about how her mother and sister solved a perplexing question as to how to drive with one trace, while going down the Cove the other day. It seems that midway between this place and their destination the trace became loosened. To fasten it seemed an easy matter, and both alighted for that purpose. One backed the horse, and the buggy backed also, and the trace could not be attached; then the horse was pulled forward and the buggy persistently followed and the trace was no nearer the point of adjustment. After debating the matter for a time they concluded that one should pull forward at the buggy shaft while the other would pull backward on the trace. This they did, while the horse proceeded leisurely along, all parties seemingly pleased at this happy triumph over an embarrassing situation. Finally a gentleman came along and hooked the trace without the slightest difficulty and then their cup was full to overflowing.

THE AGE OF STEAM.

Mrs. Scott Hann, of Ayr township, has come to realize that this is an age of steam. Recently as she was driving along on the hill, near Mrs. Dr. Cook's residence, her horse took fright at a traction engine that was approaching, wheeled suddenly around and broke the shafts of her buggy. Her presence of mind prevented a more serious accident. Then, last week she visited her sister at Lehighville, and from there took the train to Chambersburg. This was her first trip by railroad and she derived much more enjoyment out of this experience than the former one, although both of the agencies were steam.

IT COSTS MONEY TO CUT TIMBER.

A party of hunters out raccoon hunting in Trough Creek valley a few nights since, says the Huntingdon Semi-Weekly News, found that night's hunt rather expensive sport. Having tired one of the ring-tailed animals, they proceeded to build a fire under the tree, and on the coming of daylight cut down the tree to secure their game. Just about that time the owner of the land put in an appearance, and a few days later warrants were served on all the participants to appear before Esquire Kelly in this place to answer to two separate charges, building a fire in the woods and cutting timber without leave. The case was aired on Friday, with the result of each participant being mulcted in the sum of $7.88. Some of our farmers complain that there is too much cutting of timber done on their premises, not only by hunters, but by others. The law is explicit in the matter, and makes the penalty for violations of this kind two and three times the value of the timber.

NOT WILD ONES.

Mr. Mack Dixon, Pleasant Ridge's hustling merchant and farmer, has a nice flock of tame turkeys. Like everybody else who has any success raising turkeys, he allows them to range at will over his fields and through his woodland. A few days ago, a hunter espied a nice bunch of turkeys not far from Mack's, and quickly stole up to where he could get a good shot, and blazed away. He succeeded in killing one and crippling two. To the hunter's surprise, the turkeys did not fly, and he found that he had made a mistake, a thing he no doubt regretted very much, for the flock proved to be Mack's. Consequently, turkey on the bill of fare before Thanksgiving.

TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL.

On Monday morning, a week, Dr. J. G. Hanks took Clara Hixson, of Brush Creek township, whose scalp was torn off by the mill shaft, about three weeks ago, to a Philadelphia Hospital. She has written two letters home, and is getting along as well as could be expected. The little sufferer has stood every operation heroically.

FULTON COUNTY BUCKWHEAT.

The buckwheat season has commenced, many carloads going from Hancock annually. This is the distributing point for the famous Fulton county buckwheat, ground in old burr mills driven by water power. This brand goes all over the country and is exported.—Baltimore Sun.

A LARGE ONE.

Ephraim Hart, of Brush Creek township, raised several large sweet potatoes this season. The largest one, which was weighed at Locust Grove postoffice, weighed 7 pounds, less half an ounce. Six or eight tubers of that size ought to satisfy the cravings of hunger of an ordinary man.

Dr. Guy Miller, of Hill Valley, who recently located at Blair's Mills, has removed to Burnt Cabins, Fulton county.

DIXON-RUNYAN NUPTIALS.

The most brilliant event of the Needmore social season was the marriage on Wednesday evening of Miss Mary Edith Runyan daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ahimaz Runyan to Mr. Robert C. Dixon, of Pittsburg, Pa., son of Captain and Mrs. C. T. Dixon, of this county.

Promptly on the hour the large company assembled in the parlor of the bride's parents and the usual hush was broken by the beautiful strains of Lohengrin rendered by Miss Cora Morgret, of Hancock. With quiet dignity the bridal party appeared. Mr. Ed. Palmer, of Warfordsburg, acting as groomsman and Miss Ora Dixon, sister of the groom, bridesmaid. The bride wore a beautiful gown of organdie on train trimmed in white satin ribbon and carried a large bouquet. The rooms were lavishly decorated with flowers, evergreens and autumn leaves, and the surroundings were such as to make the picture very beautiful and the ceremony, which was performed by Elder C. L. Funk, very impressive.

The presents were very numerous and beautiful, consisting of cut glass, silver, china and linen.

A large reception will be given at the home of the groom's parents this afternoon.

In about two weeks, the bride and groom expect to be in their own home in Pittsburg.

MRS. AGNES M. STOUTEAGLE.

The subject of this notice, wife of John V. Stouteagle, died at her home in this place early Tuesday morning, aged 36 years, 4 months, and 24 days. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Hixon, of Brush Creek valley, and was married to Mr. Stouteagle February 27, 1883. Besides her husband she leaves to mourn her, four children, Olive R., Marden S., Amos H., and John F. Her funeral took place Wednesday afternoon and her remains were placed in the family lot in Big Cove cemetery.

While Mrs. Stouteagle was not a very strong woman physically, her death at this early age, was an unthought-of event, and produced quite a shock.

About five weeks ago, her son Amos was attacked by typhoid malaria, and the constant care of the mother over her sick boy for three weeks caused her to break down physically, and she was compelled to take her bed. The most tender care of her husband and family, coupled with the skill of one of our best physicians, was not enough to restore her, and she gradually grew weaker until the end came.

At the early age of twelve years, she became a member of the M. E. church; and her sweet, pure, christian life showed, that at the time her name went on the church books here, it was inscribed in the Lamb's Book of Life above.

The sympathy of a very large circle of friends goes out to the grief stricken husband and children; as well as to her parents, brothers and sisters, all of whom survive her except Fred, a well known teacher, who died several years ago.

Miss Phoebe Hoover, the Phillipsburg school teacher who started for the Klondike over a year ago and who has been doing all kinds of work up there, is now reported to be teaching school in Dawson City, with thirty pupils at $10 each per month.

Extensive improvements are being made to the Everett Furnace. A new set of boilers of 600 horse-power capacity has been put in, also a new pot oven, which will increase the working capacity of the plant. The works are to be illuminated by electric light.

D. R. Bridenstain, a former resident of Everett, Bedford county, but who has been in the Klondike for the past two years, returned to his home from Dawson City Saturday. He has been in the west for the past fifteen years prospecting for silver. He is the owner of many valuable claims from which he realizes handsomely. He says the reports of enormous costs of living are greatly exaggerated.

A careful mother will take great pains to teach her children to read aloud acceptably. Much time and money are often expended in cultivating the voice for singing, and yet quite as much pleasure may be given by the person who reads aloud in a pleasing manner. No attempt need be made at elocution as the word is ordinarily understood; distinct utterance and proper emphasis so as to convey easily to the hearer the meaning of the sentences read are all that is necessary.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

A LETTER.

Sam Parsons Has a Good Time in Perry County.

Hagerstown, Md., Nov. 7, 1899.

Mr. B. W. Peck, McConnellsburg, Pa.,

Dear Sir and Bro.:—For the good of the FULTON COUNTY NEWS, and the satisfaction of my many friends in Fulton county, I will write the following: I left home Oct. 24, at 12:20 p. m., to attend the 60th anniversary of Mackinaw Lodge, No. 380 I. O. O. F., at New Bloomfield, county seat of Perry county, Pa., and had a grand, old-fashioned time, and enjoyed myself among the 5000 people present. I met some of my dear friends among them, Rev. H. K. Ash, formerly of Burnt Cabins, who treated me as a brother. I attended church with him last Sunday and took supper with him. He is enjoying good health and is doing a great work on his charge. His beloved wife is in good health and does her part to welcome their friends from Fulton county. They have two sons, Paul, 4 years old, and Harold, 15 months. I met my cousins who live there, Dyson Parsons, and his sister Mrs. Briner. They were glad to see me. I visited D. Oscar Stoops, who is in business there. He treated me like a king, that is, because I am a nimrod; and by the way, we had a hunt together, and bagged ten pheasants, one turkey, 8 rabbits, and three squirrels. I think I could have killed a carload, if I had stayed a few days longer.

I arrived at home last night at 6:24 P. M. and found my family well and glad to see me.

I am going to Clearfield co., on Friday to finish my hunt for work. Wishing the editor, as well as the new paper, success, I am your friend,

S. E. PARSONS.

DICKEYS MOUNTAIN.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Zimmerman spent last Sunday with Mrs. Zimmerman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hess.

J. V. Fisher, of Brunswick, Md., is visiting his brother-in-law, P. P. Shives.

Sarah Gregory spent Sunday with Miss Trout.

George W. Bishop is adding to the convenience and comfort of his family by having a well drilled near his dwelling.

Mrs. Susan May expects to move to Sideling Hill Wednesday; Oliver Peck will move into the house vacated by Mrs. May.

Austin Lynch is visiting his mother, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Peck spent Sunday with Mrs. Lynch and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Emma Mellett and Mary Shives, with Mrs. May.

Will Black of McConnellsburg was down this way Sunday.

Rev. Hughes will preach at Zion Sunday 10th at 3 o'clock.

Miss Margaret Truax is quite poorly.

SPRING HOUSE VALLEY.

Miss Mollie Mayhugh, of Shady Grove, is renewing old acquaintance here. We are always glad to have Mollie with us.

Quite a number of our young folks thought they started in time to attend the love feast last Saturday evening, but reached the church as the people were starting home.

Harvey Richards is reported on the sick list.

George Paylor is going around again.

Frank Mayhugh, of Franklin county, spent part of last week with friends here.

Mr. John Siders spent last Monday in Franklin county.

There will be preaching at this place on the 18th and 19th of November. All are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. John Souders spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otho Souders, of Tod.

Miss Daisy Clevenger, of Jughtown, spent part of last week with friends here.

Miss Lottie Hookensmith, of Harrisonville, is spending some time with the family of John Carbaugh.

Mr. William Patterson, who spent last summer with the family of William Paylor, will spend this winter with David A. Nelson.

Elmer Selders, accompanied by Miss Mollie Mayhugh, attended the love feast last Saturday evening.

COVALT.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Covalt are visiting friends and relatives at Port Littleton.

Frank Post, of Blackoak Ridge, paid James O'Rourke, or some one of the family, a prolonged visit last week and was accompanied home by Miss Mamie.

Mrs. Lizzie Pittman, of this place, is some better.

Ephraim Mellett and wife, of Pleasant Ridge, and Alfred Peck and wife, of Needmore, visited the family of Mrs. Mary Peck, of this place.

BURNT CABINS.

Editor B. W. Peck called at our sanctum recently.

Ira Minich, of Shade Gap, spent several days with his uncle, Wm. McGowan last week.

Dr. Hudson, of Shade Gap, making professional calls.

Gracey Naugle expects to occupy his new house soon.

Peter Npely and wife, of Washington D. C. visited our town last week and called upon a number of old friends here.

New goods just received at the Welch Store of North Main St. Prices to suit the times.

Rev. J. Smith Gordon preached a temperance sermon from his pulpit on last Sabbath. This place needs a mighty revolution on the temperance issue.

Clell Cisney's new house is being pushed to completion rapidly. It will not be ready for occupancy, however, before spring.

Rev. McNay, pastor of the Burnt Cabins Charge, M. E. church, is engaged in revival work at Fannettsburg.

WELLS TANNERY.

We are glad the mountain fires have been extinguished. The loss of young timber has been great to the owners of the mountain land surrounding us.

Some one fired the cabin belonging to the Altoona Hunting Club, and it, with all its contents, was burned. The club have since erected a tent, but they are not finding much game.

Mrs. Blanche Kirk and son have gone to Pittsburg for a few weeks' visit.

Miss Minnie Swope is in Bedford visiting friends.

Mrs. Hayes Bivens was summoned to her home in Rays Cove on account of the illness of her mother, but before she could get there, her mother was called to her long resting place.

Mrs. James Barnett, also, received a message that her sister, Mrs. Witter, of Waterfall, had departed this life. Her funeral took place Monday afternoon.

The schools of our township, so far as we can hear, are all doing nicely. Since our superintendent has taken unto himself a wife, we wonder whether he will get around to see us three times this winter? Hope he may.

Two representatives of the Salvation Army visited us Sunday afternoon. One of them was blind but could read from his Bible, prepared for the unfortunate blind.

Our town is again enlivened by a saw mill company that have bought all of W. L. Woodcock's timber. They have employed all our men that want work; and several families have moved from Altoona that are connected with the work. We hope they will be more successful than Long & Co.

W. B. Stunkard and Albert Helsel have purchased a saw mill and expect to begin work at once. W. L. Moseley tells us he is going to start his mill very soon. We think by the time they all get in operation we shall have a lively town.

SIPES MILL.

Quite a large crowd of our young people attended preaching at the German Baptist church on Pleasant Ridge.

Miss Nellie Duebaun, accompanied by her brother John of Greencastle was the guest of Miss Laura Bard Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Sampson J. Mellett whose illness was noted in last week's issue is still improving.

Martin Truax, accompanied by his friend Edward Bitner, spent the last of the week with Mr. Truax's parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Truax, of this place; they also visited Needmore. Ed thinks real well of Needmore.

Miss Frances Deshong of Licking Creek spent last Saturday evening with her cousin Anna Deshong of this place.

Silas Mellett and wife of this place, and Mrs. Caleb Mellett of Knobsville, went down to Cagions Knob in Franklin county to visit their sister Mrs. Sallie Fletcher.

Miss Rosa Deshong spent last Sunday in Needmore with her friend Miss Etta Everets.

Mrs. Mandie Bard and her son Carl left last week to make their home in Everett. Miss Martha Bard accompanied them and expects to stay with her aunt a couple of weeks.

NEW GRENADA.

Since the weather has become cooler, our coal Barons smile.

Dr. W. J. Campbell, an eminent physician, of Mt. Union, Pa., spent part of last week with his brother, Dr. R. B. Campbell of our town.

Misses Mae Cunningham and Maud McClain Sundayed with the family of Dr. C. A. R. McClain, of Cassville.

Attorney S. W. Kirk, of McConnellsburg, made a business trip to our town last Thursday. It was not a political call as some of our people thought.

Misses Martha Mills and Rilla Houck spent a couple days recently with friends in Taylor township.

A number of our young people attended the revival meeting at the U. B. church which is being conducted by the Salvation people of Knobsville.

Some of our nimrods have been bagging the rabbits since the opening of the season. Our boys are cracker-jacks when it comes to marksmanship; at least, we infer that from their yarn swaps after they have been out a day.

While our young friend Clyde Plummer was on his way to church Sunday night, riding on horseback, he met with what might have been a much worse accident. His horse stumbled, throwing him among the stones and cutting his face badly. Commissioner Cunningham, who chanced to be present, brought him home, when a physician was summoned and the wounds, which proved to be only flesh wounds, were dressed and Clyde put in good shape again.

NEEDMORE.

The preaching at this place last Sunday by Elder Palmer was well attended.

Martin Peck, of Park Head, was visiting relatives in this place a few days ago.

Prof. B. N. Palmer spent Saturday and Sunday at home.

MISS BELLE DIEHL, who has been visiting her sister Mrs. James Peat at Rays Hill has returned to her home in Whips Cove.

CHARLES AND BOYD MOSSER of Upton, Franklin county, spent Saturday night with Daniel E. Fore's family of Tod township.

MRS. JACOB BRICKER, of Chambersburg, and Mrs. John Myers, of Upton, were visiting their sister, Mrs. Henry Scott, of this place.

JACOB KAUFFMAN, of Pleasant Ridge, was a Saturday caller. We are sorry to note that our friend Jacob is afflicted with rheumatism.

JOHN SNYDER and little daughter Mary, of Mercersburg, spent Monday of this week as the guest of Isaac Hull. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Bryson.

GEORGE WILSON, of Dublin township, paid the NEWS office a call on Saturday last. If all reports are true Mr. Wilson will get a more extended notice by-and-by.

MISS OLIVE GRISSELL, the accomplished and talented teacher of Forest Dale school, in Licking Creek township, spent Saturday and Sunday at her home in this place.

J. R. CLAPSADLE, employed in Grissinger's creamery in this place, has accepted a similar position with the Montgomery Creamery Association at Oellig's, Franklin county.

REV. LEWIS CHAMBERS, of Webster Mills, whose visits to town have become very infrequent of late years, was in town on Monday, and visited the NEWS office. He was heartily greeted by his many friends.

MISS CLYDE HESS and Daytie Lake, of Needmore, are both situated in a delightful home on Park avenue, Philadelphia. The young ladies are fortunate in securing so nice a place, and in being in the same family.

JAMES C. HOLLINSHEAD, of Licking Creek township, was in town on Saturday last. Mr. Hollinshead will move to near Upton, Franklin county, in the spring. He is a good citizen and we regret this decision on his part.

MISS HATTIE SIPES, of Gapsville, is the guest of Miss Bertha B. Barton, this week. Mrs. Philip Barton and Mrs. P. M. Barton, visited friends in Hustontown, a couple days this week.—Rays Hill correspondent of Everett Press.

B. W. PECK spent Sunday with his brother in Philadelphia.

REV. W. W. REESE, of Rays Hill, a former pastor of the M. E. congregation of this place, stopped for a short time in town, on his return from a visit to his brother-in-law, A. B. Loderbaugh, in Mercersburg, last week.

MISS FLO REKROTH, and Mary and Sallie Dickson returned from Philadelphia on Monday evening. They were accompanied from Chambersburg by Mrs. Jas. McFerrer who will spend a few days visiting the Misses Rekroth.

MISS GERTRUDE ROKE, of this place, who is president of the Y. W. Christian Association at the Shippenburg State Normal, spent from Thursday until Monday at Williamsport, Pa., as a delegate to the State convention of that organization.

MISS MYRTLE STOUTEAGLE, of Libonia, Franklin county, is spending this week at her home in this place.

MRS. JOHN B. RUNYAN is spending a week with friends in Needmore.

JOSEPH H. LOHR, for many years a leading teacher of the county, but like most of that profession, has retired to the quiet life of the farm or something else, was a caller at the NEWS office Wednesday.

MISS MARY E. DANIELS spent Sunday and Monday with her parents at Green Hill.

OUR friend, J. C. Brewer, of Plum Run, was one of our visitors on Wednesday. Call again.

JAMES J. DUNLAP and wife, of Lehigh, are in town, and attended the funeral of Mrs. John V. Stouteagle.

WALKER R. FAUST, of Williamson, Franklin county, spent Saturday and Sunday with the family of David V. Sipes.
