HUMOROUS ITEMS.
A medical question: Is opening a dead letter a post mortem examination?
An unpleasant sort of arithmetic.—Division among families.
The last thing a man should be out of—Temper.
The game of old sledge was invented by Nebuchadnezzar. He got his living on 'all fours' for seven years.
A Troy newspaper speaks of a man with one eye named Robert Welch, but does not mention the name of the other eye.
A coroner's jury lately said that they were of "A Pinion Decest met his death from Violent Information in the hed, produced from Union Cauz."

The Shakers don't marry. If young Shakers fall in love, they are set weedin onions—which kures them forthwithly.
In Wisconsin there has been invented a pocket stove warmed by alcohol. The New York Post says, "We have seen one of them. It looks very much like a pint-flask filled with brandy."
An afflicted husband was returning from the funeral of his wife when a friend asked him how he was. "Well," said he pathetically, "I think I feel better after that little walk."

A temperance editor, in drawing attention to an article against ardent spirits in one of his papers, says, "For the effects of intemperance see our inside!"
During the delivery of a lecture by Mrs. Dr. Walker, in Kansas, a few days ago, a precocious youth in the audience cried out, "Are you the Mary that had a little lamb?" "No," was the ready reply, "but your mother had a little jackass!"
A singing-master, while teaching his pupil, was visited by a brother of the tuneful art. The visitor observed that that the chorister pitched the tune vocally and said: "Sir, do you use a pipe?" "No, sir," said Semibreve, with admirable gravity, "I chew."

A sorry case was that of a Yankee tailor who dunned a man for the amount of his bill. The man said he was "sorry, very sorry indeed, that he could not pay it." "Well," said the tailor, "I took you for a man that would be sorry; but if you are sorer than I am, I knock under."
A man who, on being told by a generous farmer that he would give him a barrel of cider, asked him if he would bring it to his house.—"Certainly," replied the farmer, "with pleasure." "Well," said the grateful recipient, "what will you pay me for the barrel when the cider is done?"

An elderly lady who was handling a pair of artificial plates in a dental office, and admiring the fluency with which the dentist described them, asked him: "Can a body eat with these things?" "My dear madam, mastication can be performed with a facility scarcely equaled by nature herself," responded the dentist.—"Yes, I know; but can a body eat with them?"
A Newspaper published in the regions of Lakes Memphremagog and Winnepesaukee says that "fish in Lake Holleyhunkemunk, Me., are said to be superior to those of either Lake Weeleyobacoc or Mooselockmegautuc. Those of Chauhugungungamung were very fine, but they all got choked to death in trying to tell where they lived."

An Irish boy trying hard to get a place, denied he was Irish.
"I don't know what you mean by not being an Irishman," said the gentleman, who was about to hire him; "but this I do know that you were born in Ireland."
"Och! your honor, if that's all, small to blame that. Suppose your old cat had kittens in the oven, would they be loaves of bread?"
He was employed.
"La me," said Mrs. Partington, "here I have been suffering the bigamies of death for three mortal weeks. I was seized with a bleeding phrenology in the left hampshir of the brain, which was exceeded by a stoppage of the ventilator of the heart. This gave me an inflammation of the borax, and now I am sick with the chloroform morbus. There's no blessing like that of health, especially when you are sick."
