Very fascinating game, furnishing fine amusement for the long evening, and don't cost much. -The new line of choice books at Dunn's drug store includes the Imperial and the King Corner series. Don't fail to see the stock. -Don't forget to call at F. Walters & Co.'s for the latest styles in fall and winter head gear. Also ready-made skirts, shirt waists and belts. -The appearance of many of the State papers might lead one to believe the National Guard had been called out for the purpose of having the officers' pictures taken. -A cordial invitation is extended to the teachers in attendance at institute next week to call at Joyce's millinery and inspect the sensible hats made for sensible heads. -The Wano Sanitarium has been established at Warren, Pa., where viatical treatments will be given for all ailments, and accommodations furnished at the Sanitarium. -A fine new lot of ready to wear hats and dress shapes have just been received at the leading millinery store of F. Walters & Co. Also tailor made skirts in the very latest styles. -Dr. Dunn has a very nice barn about completed on the rear of his lot. It is not only commodious and convenient, but nice enough in appearance to pass for a dwelling for man. -Following is the list of letters remaining uncalled for in the Tionesta, Pa., Post Office, for the week ending Oct. 15, 1902: Rev. J. C. McAninch, Mr. Peter Swanson, D. S. Knox, P. M. -An important event for star-gazers will be a total eclipse of the moon on the night of October 16th and morning of the 17th. The moon enters the shadow at 11:17 o'clock and leaves the shadow at 2:50 a. m. -Business is booming at Joyce's millinery these days and another big shipment of new goods has just been received. Leave your orders early and get good work for their trimming is all done at home and after up-to-date patterns. -Monday's storm was one of the most terrific of the season in this section. Wind, hail and rain made things look fierce for a short time. Another of the large hickory trees in rear of Prothonotary Robertson's home was blown down. -R. O. Carson, of Perry, one of this county's successful farmers, took 13 head of prime 2-year-old beef cattle to the Oil City market one day last week. They were a fine lot, and will keep the hungry denizens of the Hub from starving for several days. -Our sales of ladies' and children's jackets have been almost twice as large this year, up to the present time, than they were last year. Why? Because we have a stock twice as large, of a great deal better jackets, and have marked them at prices that make it easy for you to buy. Come and look over our stock. Heath & Feit. -Parents, give your daughters a "bread winning education. Give them the accomplishments, if you will, but do not forget to add what will enable them to win their way, if thrown on their own resources. A knowledge of shorthand and typewriting has been the salvation of many a woman who has been forced to earn her own living. The War-Business University, Warren, Penna., is noted as a shorthand and typewriting training school. Send to-day for full particulars. A postal card does it. -An attempt was made to burglarize the residence of Patrick Joyce, in the north ward, Monday night last. About 1 o'clock in the morning Mrs. Joyce was awakened by unusual noises in the house and proceeded to arouse the members of the household. This of course frightened the burglars who made their escape through a rear window which they had opened to gain an entrance. The entire neighborhood was stirred in short order, but the miscreants were not apprehended. It is thought there were two of them at least. No valuables were taken. Keep your shooting iron handy.

-The hobo nuisance on the railways is assuming an acute phase, according to a railroad man's statement to-day. He said it is necessary now, on night runs, for trainmen to have revolvers. The things have become bold, climb into cabooses and order the crew about as if they owned the road. To be held up for dinner pails and their contents is a common experience.-Bradford Era.

-From this day on till the 15th of Dec. it is lawful to kill certain species of game in certain limited quantities. Everybody by this time is so familiar with the law that it needs not to be reiterated at this time. Bunnies are not ripe till Nov. 1, and neither are deer, but of the latter game there need be no special mention, for it isn't likely there will be very many killed either now or when the season opens.

-Jay Catlin, of Forest county, who has been located in Alaska during the past five years prospecting for gold, arrived in the city last evening on his way home. Since leaving here he has been located at Seattle, Wash., and Nome, Alaska. Although not successful in uncovering a bonanza he has gained much experience and knowledge that there are worse places in the country than Northwestern Pennsylvania.-Derrick.

-The Leeper correspondent of the Clarion Republican notes the death at that place on the 4th inst., of Mrs. John Frasier, of dropsy. A devoted husband and one sister, seven sons and four daughters are left to mourn her loss. Her sister, Mrs. Rosa Mealy resides at Tiona. Her children are Bert and Mrs. Chas. Kohl, of Marienville, Wess, of Byrington, William, of Cloughs, and Lizzie, Rosa, Pearl, Curtis, Clyde, Charles and George who are at home.

-Now that the hunting season is on it is well enough to remind dealers that an Act of Assembly forbids the sale of ammunition to boys under sixteen years of age under severer penalty. This may seem hard on the boys, but it may save some bad accident. One boy was telling another a word or two ago that while out in the woods his gun "went off twice just 'cause I had the hammers cocked and forgot to put them down, but it didn't hurt anybody." The boy was aged about 14 years.

-A baby girl arrived in Phillipston one day last week at the home of Ross Mook, who can boast of more than the average child in line of ancestry. Besides her father and mother, she has living two grand-fathers and two grand-mothers none of them yet out of the forties one great-grandfather and three great-grandmothers, who are yet in the sixties, and one great-grandmother aged 85, still in good health, which is a showing of five generations.-East Brady Review.

-The sixth annual convention of the Allegheny River Improvement Association will be held in the Court House at Kittanning, Pa., on Tuesday, October 22. To this meeting all municipalities, boards of trade, manufacturers, shippers and contractors, whether members of the association or not, are invited to send delegates, and all citizens interested in the project to improve the Allegheny river. Hon. S. B. Cochran, of Kittanning is President of the association, and E. B. McKee is secretary.

-A point of law with regard to fishing on Sunday is being discussed generally in this locality, says the Warren Mirror. The point is a very dull one to say the least. The law prohibits fishing or hunting on Sunday, as any level-headed judge will promptly decide. The last act passed on the subject of fishing fails to mention it, but the old law still covers the point, not having been repealed by the new act. The law, however, seems to be a sort of dead letter, probably because the authorities think it scarcely worth while to molest the fellow who will perch himself on a mossy rock and lazily pull out a lazy sucker now and then.

-At the last regular review of Tionesta Hive of the Ladies of the Macabees the members were honored by the presence of their Great Record Keeper, Miss Nellie Lounsbury, who imparted valuable information in regard to conducting our hive. Miss Lounsbury is a woman of great tact and business ability. During the evening two new members were received into the hive, and five applications for membership read. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting, and enjoyable time was reported by all present. Miss Lounsbury departed for Nebraska the following day to install the officers of the new hive organized there.

-Wid. Range, of East Hickory, employed at James Church's saw mill, two and one-half miles up Prather run, was badly hurt on Tuesday afternoon of last week by being cut with a circular saw. He received a cut or tear about six inches long between the lower border of the shoulder blade and the spinal column. The belt of the sawmill carrier was not working right and he went down under the saw to see what was the matter, and raising up suddenly was caught by the slowly revolving saw and thrown up against the saw bearings and held there until the men turned the fly wheel back one revolution. Had the saw been run fast he would have been cut in two. He is getting along nicely under the care of Dr. W. G. Morrow.

-At the last meeting of the Reading school board monthly examinations in the schools were abolished. This action was taken because Superintendent of Schools Foss declared the examinations are vicious, unjust, unnecessary and prevent the true aim of education. In his report Superintendent Foss says: "These monthly examinations are vicious not only in the fact that they overtax the pupils, but the latter are simply being 'stuffed' or prepared to pass them. Frequent examinations must necessarily narrow instruction, create mechanical methods and bring about unfortunate habits of study." This quotation contains much more than a grain of truth. Not only the pupils but the teachers are kept under a nervous strain by these examinations, and the teacher has come to know that her reputation for efficiency depends more upon her ability to crowd her pupils through the examinations than upon a broad view of her success in developing young minds and equipping them for practical work.-Ex.

Killed By Circular Saw.

Tauman McNamara, of Pleasanton, met with an accident yesterday afternoon which resulted in his death a couple of hours afterwards. He was at work at Strain's sawmill, about a mile east of the town, when, at about 5 o'clock, as he was passing by the big revolving saw in the mill he slipped and fell upon it. His right leg was nearly cut off and his right arm sawed through from wrist to shoulder. Mr. Strain was in the mill at the time but did not see the accident. He discovered McNamara lying on the floor, where he had been thrown by the saw, and hastened to his assistance. He put a twist of rawhide around the wound in the leg and also one near the shoulder to stay the flow of blood and then sent for Drs. Hatch and Goodwin at Pleasanton. It was some time before they reached the scene. After a hurried examination and finding that they could do nothing for the injured man there, they had him sent to this city in a carriage that he might be attended at the hospital. Dr. Jamieson had been notified and was present at the institution when the man arrived there. He was then unconscious and almost dead from loss of blood. With the assistance of Dr. Spicer Dr. Jamieson administered restoratives and endeavored to revive the patient. It was, however, too late and McNamara died shortly afterwards. He was about 60 years old and is survived by his widow and children.-Titoville Courier, 11th inst.

Basham--Fox Nuptials.

At 9:30 o'clock, October 11, was celebrated at the home of S. H. Haslet, a quiet wedding when Miss Blanche St. Clair Fox, granddaughter of Mrs. Haslet, was united in marriage to Mr. A. K. Basham, of Jacksonville, Florida. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. O. H. Nickle, pastor of the Methodist church. The bride entered the room resting on the arm of Mr. S. H. Haslet and was met by the groom at the flower-adorned alcove where the ceremony was to be performed. Master Kenneth Haslet, a cousin of the bride, acted as page, entering in advance of the bridal party and bearing the wedding ring upon a silver tray. His sister, Miss Marguerite Haslet acted as flower girl. The bride's gown was white silk and ribbon with full veil and train, the veil being held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of bride's roses and maiden-hair fern. The color scheme which was carried out in the house and table decorations was autumn's colors, crimson and gold. Mr. and Mrs. Basham left on the noon train for an extended trip which includes Niagara, New York and other points. Among the out of town guests attending the wedding were Miss Hattie Good, Miss Cynthia Walker, Mrs. Helen Hunt, Mrs. Julia Deyoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Deyoe, of Oil City, and the Misses Elizabeth and May Bellows, of Reno, Pa. During her stay in Tionesta the bride has made many friends who will extend to her their sincere wishes for a life filled with much happiness and prosperity. She was the recipient of a number of handsome presents.

From the Scene of the Strike.

MT. CARMEI, Pa., Oct. 10, 1902. Ed. Republican: Dear Sir:—Just a few lines to you to let you know how everything is here. The only place we encountered any trouble was at Warren. When our train stopped there, there were about five or six hundred people there and a mob threw stones through the car windows, and called us scab protectors and other vile names. But when we got to Sunbury there was a guard put on top of the engine and cars with twenty rounds of ammunition and were ordered to shoot to kill if anyone threw stones, but everything was quiet and peaceable when we arrived at Shamoken. We were there about three hours and the striking miners treated us fine. They said they were glad we came. We then got orders to proceed to Mt. Carmel, our present home. We have a fine place to camp on the side hill overlooking the town. We can see all over the place and the people could not treat us better if they tried. We had a little trouble with the deputies one night. They were throwing stones at the soldier boys and the sentry shot one. Before he died he confessed he did it to make believe it was the striking miners. Well, he has thrown his last stone. We have not heard just how long we are to stay here, but they say it is not settled in ten days we will go into winter quarters. The deputies will get discharged Monday next and the soldiers will then take charge of everything. The miners say they are determined to stand firm if it lasts a year. The climate is good, but so awful cold nights—lots of frost. The State issues extra blankets, shoes and shirts to us today, so it don't look much for coming home yet. With best regards to all in town, I am, yours respectfully, PRY. FRED BRISTOW, Co. G, 10th Regt., N. G. P., 2d Battalion, Mt. Carmel, Pa.

Letter to T. F. Ritchey.

Tionesta, Pa. Dear sir: James Ackley's house in Cairo (Catskill Mountains), N. Y., a conspicuous one in the midst of the village, was painted 14 years ago with Devco; has not been painted since; and the paint is in good condition to-day. He is going to paint, but there is really no necessity of it. Devco has been sold in Cairo 15 years. Our agent is Gaston Wyneopp. House-owners there want Devco, and painters there point Devco. It would be a hard job to persuade a Cairo man to paint lead and oil—of course a painter paints whatever his customer wants, even if it's buttermilk. Marian Van Hoesen, a Cairo painter, has painted Devco for 15 years. There are two or three others; all for Devco, we are told—don't know their names. It's the same wherever Devco gets into a town; it stays there and owns the whole business. Yours truly, F. W. DEVCO & CO. P. S.—Jas. D. Davis sells our paint.
