Business Transacted by the Conference at Its Sessions on Saturday and Sunday—Addressed by Bishop Andrew and Miss Danforth.

the town, but when her work was showing signs of success, she was subjected to the persecution of the native priests, who demanded that she should be compelled to leave the town in thirty days, and placards were placed around warning her that her residence would be burned and herself and pupils consumed in the flames.

Before they were out of this persecution, a typhoon struck the town and caused terrible havoc and disorganized their work for a time. Following this came the famine, with its awful ravages. She paid regular visits to the lowest quarter of the town where the emaciated people craved like babes, praying for a spoonful of rice to alleviate their overpowering pangs of hunger.

While every ear in the audience was strained to catch every word of her thrilling story she reached a climax when describing the earthquake which, in two minutes, hurled 10,000 souls to eternity. Her description of the wreckage of the house and school, and subsequent escape to the grove, was more than graphic and impossible of reproduction, as the infection of Miss Danforth's voice and her great charm of description would, of necessity, be lacking.

In relating how, during five days and five nights, they were out in the grove while the earthquake shook the earth, fully one-fourth of her audience showed signs of emotion and strong men were seen weeping among them. She had the care of a large number of natives, who had gathered around her in the time of danger, and who relied upon her absolutely for protection from the falls and other dangers which were about them.

At the conclusion of his sermon Bishop Andrews ordained the following candidates in the office of deacon, viz: Clark Callender, of Trucksville, Luzerne; Arthur D. David, of West Nanticoke; Charles Sweet, of Fergusonville, Delaware, N. Y.; George N. Underwood, of Lackawanna, Luzerne; Henry E. Wheeler, of Damascus, Wayne; George Remy, of Judson, W. Davis; David Gloume, of Walter, Wayne and Mart Williams.

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the members of the conference assembled for the annual memorial service, one attended by and reminiscences of the labors of the faithful ones in the Master's vineyard, who had gone to their eternal rest since the last assembly of the ministers.

The following were read: Rev. Luther Peck, Bradford county, Rev. George E. Severson, of Binghamton; Rev. Abiah Brown, East Massonville, Delaware, N. Y., and Rev. Aaron C. Sperry, of Whitney's Point, Broome, N. Y.

The obituaries of the following widows of deceased ministers were also read: Mrs. Kate A. Lewis, widow of Rev. George C. Lewis, Mrs. A. C. Cole, widow of Rev. A. C. Cole; Mrs. Cox, widow of Rev. Hubbard Cox, and Mrs. Blanchard, widow of Rev. H. A. Blanchard.

The following excerpts are from the recorded obituaries: Rev. Luther Peck, born at Pitcher, Chemung county, on March 9, 1827, and died Oct. 21, 1894, at Binghamton, N. Y., after a long illness.

Epworth League Anniversary. This evening at 7:30 o'clock a large audience attended the anniversary of the Epworth league, when Rev. Edwin A. Schell, secretary of the Epworth league, addressed the meeting, explaining the remarkable development of the league.

Notes of the Conference. Colonel J. D. Laclair, of Wilkes-Barre, was an interested visitor at the conference on Saturday.

Death of Mrs. A. Blair. She has for Twenty-five Years Been a Resident of Archbald. Mrs. Archibald Blair, an old and respected resident of Archbald, died yesterday morning at the residence of her daughter, Miss M. A. Early, 208 Spruce street.

him were all things created. It was not for such a life that Christ came on earth, but to prepare the way to live a life which would match our destiny. Man has the power of knowledge to serve God, a power of love and of affection. The reverend gentleman illustrated in detail the difference between the love of human beings and that of animals. The love of man far surpassed that of the beast. Man had a free will and knew right from wrong, and should live in high achievements. Some men lived as though there was no God, and sought wholly the things of the earth, so much that when they would do good evil was present with them. Their faith, love and power to do good are gone and if they remain so it means eternal death; such men have a continual war internally, the lust, jealousy and all ungodliness in which they are living are at war, and consequently that joy is rendered miserable.

REV. WILLIAM EDGAR, Pastor of Carbonade Methodist Church.

All nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost. How spiritual life was received, no one could explain and only He who created the soul could re-make it. He can make it to resist evil and accept good.

The bishop in his peroration made an appeal to his audience to believe in Christ and place their whole trust in Him.

Ordinations of Deacons. At the conclusion of his sermon Bishop Andrews ordained the following candidates in the office of deacon, viz: Clark Callender, of Trucksville, Luzerne; Arthur D. David, of West Nanticoke; Charles Sweet, of Fergusonville, Delaware, N. Y.; George N. Underwood, of Lackawanna, Luzerne; Henry E. Wheeler, of Damascus, Wayne; George Remy, of Judson, W. Rev. W. B. Westlake, Dallas; Rev. John B. Sumner, Pittston, and Rev. John C. Lewis, Scranton, with a choir, and were recorded by the phonograph. In a few minutes the selections were reproduced by the instrument to the delight of the audience, who were able to distinguish the individual voices in the reproduction.

During the week Mr. and Mrs. Fox, of the Anthracite hotel, have been frequently complimented upon their excellent management in catering so skillfully to the large number of visitors who more than filled the spacious dining rooms. Although the number of regular visitors at the hotel was larger than usual during the time conference was in session, and were accompanied by the visitors attending the meetings, it is very creditable to the management that every person's wants were immediately attended to. Mr. Fox has a staff of forty persons who were kept busily engaged throughout the week.

Rev. William Edgar, pastor of the Carbonade Methodist church, will no doubt be glad when the conference sessions are over, so that he may enjoy a well earned rest. For some months Mr. Edgar has been preparing the local arrangements for the conference and much of the success of the meetings is to be attributed to his wise forethought and supervision. All the hundreds of persons who have been entertained for the past few days are delighted with the excellent arrangements prepared for their comfort.

In the advancement of medical science, the kidneys, being almost the organs of greatest importance to human health, have not been neglected, and in placing before you such a cure as Doan's Kidney Pills, the proprietors recognize how far so many statements of the makers of similar preparations have fallen short of their claims, being convinced that no remedy for kidney complaints in existence equals Doan's Kidney Pills for such ailments, strengthened in these convictions by letters that are daily received, the work they are doing for mankind's benefit, old backs and young backs are being constantly freed from never-ceasing aches, and many a lame and shattered one stooped and contracted, is strengthened, invigorated, and infused with new life, with such a medicine—an offer of this kind can be made without hesitancy, for while we lose the box we give you, we make a friend that assists in the sale of many others.
