Scranton's Business Interests.
THE TRIBUNE will soon publish a carefully compiled and classified list of the leading wholesale, banking, manufacturing and professional interests of Scranton and vicinity. The edition will be bound in book form, beautifully illustrated with photographic views of our public buildings, business blocks, streets, etc., together with portraits of leading citizens. No similar work has ever given an equal representation of Scranton's many industries. It will be an invaluable exposition of our business resources. Sent to persons outside the city, copies of this handsome work will attract new consumers and be an unequalled advertisement of the city. The circulation is on a plan that cannot fail of good results to those concerned as well as the city at large. Representatives of THE TRIBUNE will call upon THOSE WHOSE NAMES ARE DESIRED in this edition and explain its nature more fully.
These desirable views of their residences in this edition will please leave notice at the office.

Passing Events of the Day on the West Side of the City Noted.

ARRESTED FOR SHOPLIFTING

Mr. Frank Conway taken in custody. Mr. Richards has taken the Tomstone that is to mark his remains. Death of Patrick Walsh.

Mr. Frank Conway, a resident of Jackson street, was arrested on Saturday afternoon by Constable Timothy Jones for shoplifting. During the day Mrs. Conway, who was a former resident of Dunmore, became intoxicated and shortly afterward went into the store of E. B. Houser, on North Main avenue, and stole two dog collars. She was not detected, however, and went from there to the People's dry goods store on South Main avenue, where she hid a dozen pairs of socks. The latter act she was caught by Miss Marie Kromer and held until the proprietor, Arthur Heil, came. Mrs. Conway was then placed in the West Side station house by the officer.
She raved madly and would have disrobed herself if this unseemly action had not been checked by the officers. Later in the evening she was given a hearing before Alderman Blair, of the Fifth ward. Mr. Houser identified the dog collars as those taken from his establishment.

Erected His Monument.
Thomas A. Richards, who is about 59 years of age, recently purchased a handsome Scotch granite monument and a few days ago it was placed upon his plot of ground in the Washington cemetery. The stone, which weighs over 10,000 pounds and is made from one solid piece of granite. It bears the names of Mr. Richards and his wife as well as the latter's maiden name, Mary Morgan. Mr. Richards wished to supervise personally the stone that will mark his last resting place, hence the erection of the stone at this time. There is a place left on the stone to inscribe the time of death.

Patrick Walsh Dead.
About 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning, Patrick Walsh, an aged and respected resident of this side, died at his home, 122 South Garfield avenue, after an illness of three weeks. Heart failure was the cause of death. Deceased was 58 years of age and was born in Ireland. He was employed in the Oxford mill and was a member of the Oxford Agricultural Society. Walsh was a man of integrity, honesty and sobriety. He is survived by a wife and the following children: Patrick, John, Edward, Mrs. Mary A. Coggins, Katharine, Agnes and Hannah Walsh. The funeral notice will appear later.

COULD HARDLY BREATHE.

Catarrh of the Nose, Throat and Stomach—Life Made Miserable by Headaches, Pain and Cough.
Lida McCandless, 1230 South Thirty-fifth street, Philadelphia, in conversation with a reporter, said: "I had a very bad case of catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach, with frequent headaches, pain under the shoulder blades and a horrible cough. I had to keep my mouth constantly open day and night to breathe, and felt as miserable as one possibly could. I was advised to try Munyon's Catarrh Cure. I am happy to say that from the beginning I felt relieved and continued to grow better until now I am entirely well. I am so thankful that this remarkable remedy was ever discovered, and hope others will take advantage of it."
Have you catarrh? Are you willing to investigate a treatment that cures Catarrh by removing the cause? If so ask your druggist for a 25 cent bottle of Munyon's Catarrh Cure and a 25 cent bottle of Catarrh Tablets. The Catarrh Cure will eradicate the disease from the system, and the Tablets will cleanse and heal the affected parts and restore them to a natural and healthful condition.
Munyon's Homeopathic Home Remedy company, of Philadelphia, put up specifics for nearly every disease, which are sold by all druggists, mostly for 25 cents a bottle.

HE HAS TOO MANY WIVES

Arthur E. La Bar Has One Here and Another in Hallstead.

NO. 2 HAS LEARNED THE TRUTH

She Paid a Visit to This City Saturday and Made an Investigation Which Satisfied Her of La Bar's Infidelity to Her.

Mr. Arthur E. La Bar, of Hallstead, accompanied by Mrs. Doherty, a lady with whom she boards, paid a visit to this city Saturday in search of evidence of a former marriage of Mrs. La Bar's husband. They found it and Mrs. La Bar's emotion when she discovered that her husband had another wife living was distressing to behold. She raved and moaned and declared that she would shoot the man who had deceived and wronged her so cruelly.
Mrs. La Bar is a young woman of 23, pretty and intelligent and of a naturally kind disposition. Her parents are dead and she resided with a married sister at Hallstead, where three years ago she met La Bar, whose home is at Mungor's tannery, three miles from Hallstead. Soon the two became fast friends.
Then La Bar came to Scranton, but continued at intervals to pay court to Miss La Bar. He obtained a position here as a hostler and formed many acquaintances. Among those he became very intimate with was Miss Leah P. Vail, a young woman 19 years of age, who resided on the West Side.
La Bar Takes Up Himself a Wife.
Finally La Bar was asked to marry the young woman, and when he refused a warrant was issued for his arrest, and on May 3, 1893, he was arraigned before Alderman De Long to answer a charge preferred by the young lady's father. Thereupon La Bar decided to marry, and at 9 o'clock that night a marriage license was obtained and Miss Vail married to La Bar by Alderman De Long.
Two days later he deserted his young and pretty bride and went west. Some time later he had her appearance at Hallstead again and obtained work on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad as a brakeman. He renewed his attentions to the young woman, who afterward became wife No. 2, and in July last she consented to elope with him to Birmingham, where they were married. They returned to Hallstead and have since boarded at the house of Mrs. Doherty.
Soon after her marriage Mrs. La Bar began to hear stories intimating that her husband had another wife living about the same time she observed that he had been absent from the city. She sought against the feeling of distrust of her husband that was talking possession of her, but it grew, and unable to bear the suspense any longer, in the absence of her husband, she came to this city Saturday to ascertain the truth.

She Becomes Convicted.

After making many inquiries about the city concerning La Bar, the latter's wife and Mrs. Doherty went to the clerk of the courts' office and there upon the records found the evidence of La Bar's previous marriage.
The young wife almost fainted when she saw the words that convinced her that she had been duped. She cried out: "It has not been decided that she would arm herself with a revolver and kill the man who had blighted her life by his infamous conduct."
Nothing could induce her, she said, to live for a moment under the same roof as La Bar, and she left the court house supported by Mrs. Doherty with the tears streaming down her cheeks. Another stream of happiness had been dissipated.
