TO EQUALIZE THE PRICES

Individual Coal Operators Fight the Lehigh Valley.

DEMORALIZED STATE OF TRADE

The Individual Producers Combine for the Purpose of Inducing Carriers to Equalize Line and Tidewater Prices. Prices Are Being Cut.

By the United Press.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16. The action of the general managers of the individual Anthracite Coal Operators' association in New York yesterday, in adopting a resolution requesting the Lehigh Valley Coal company to meet the market and sell their coal at the best price obtainable at any and all points, in order that line and tidewater prices may be more in harmony, is considered here to be in the nature of a protest against the inequality existing between line and tidewater prices. The individual operators represented in the association sell their coal to the lines over which they ship for 60 per cent of the selling price at tidewater. This "water" price is invariably lower than the price charged at other points, so that the individual operators receive considerable less for coal at the mines than do the larger producing and carrying interests. At present the individual operators are getting about $2 for stove coal at the mines, this being 60 per cent of the tide price, while owing to the higher prices prevailing at interior points, the big companies secure about $2.40 per ton. At $2 there is very little profit in mining for the operators, and they contend that either tide prices are too low or line prices too high.

Important Factors in Trade.

The individual operators mine about 12,000,000 tons of coal annually, and are important factors in the trade, and if their demands are granted the coal trade will be revolutionized by causing a reduction in the price of coal at non-competitive points and by permanently establishing an equality between the line and tidewater prices, the latter being their ultimate aim.

Not all of the individual producers of anthracite coal are members of the association, its members being confined to the shippers over the Lehigh Valley line, but no other company handles as much coal from individual operators as does the Lehigh Valley.

The demand upon the Lehigh Valley is looked upon as the precursor of similar demands to be made on the other companies in an attempt to force the coal combination to equalize line and tidewater prices. What action the Lehigh Valley company will take in the matter could not be learned today, but it is probable that a course will be outlined next week and communicated to the Operators' association. The immediate cause of the operators' action is the present demoralized state of the coal trade. Prices are being freely cut by a number of the larger companies with a view to increasing tonnage, and the operators hope to bring the big producers together by means of forcing them to meet competition at a still lower level.

AN OVATION TO DAYTON.

West Virginia Republicans Hold a Big Rejoicing Over Wilson's Defeat.

Phillipi, W. Va., Nov. 16.—This little town nestled among the hills presented a wildly picturesque scene last night, such as the natives have never seen before. It is the home of Congressman-elect Dayton, and the great celebration was in honor of his splendid victory over William L. Wilson. Spectator trains came from Granton and Belmont, the surrounding counties sent large contingents, and altogether the multitude that congregated was so great that the streets of Phillipi were almost impassable. The procession extended from one end of the town to the other. In the line of march were hundreds of horsemen with their steeds gayly caparisoned, bearing torches, followed by wagons with many devices. The whole town was decorated and illuminated, and from Court House square there was a magnificent display of fireworks. The multitude cheered incessantly. Congressman Dayton's home was beautifully decorated. Mr. Dayton stood in front of his residence when the procession passed and received an ovation.

POWDERLY'S VINDICATION.

Movement on Foot to Make Him Again a Leader.

New Orleans, Nov. 16.—Ex-Grand Master Workman Powderly declines to admit that he is a candidate for reelection before the general assembly. He said this morning that he came to New Orleans on private business. Nevertheless, he has been decorated with Knights of Labor leaders ever since he has been here. His friends in the convention are making a quiet canvass in his behalf, and it is said that if they see their way clear his name will be presented to the convention, not because he wants the office, but because he desires vindication. Some of the delegates say that the men who are ostensibly supporting Powderly will cast their votes for Powderly if they get a chance, and that the drift is toward the old leader.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

Dun's Weekly Review Notes Gradual Increased Activity in Trade—The Effect of the Bond Issue.

New York, Nov. 16.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade tomorrow will say:

In nearly all branches of business gradual improvement appears. Last week was noted the fact that the main conditions of business and trade had not only changed, but it has become clearer to the disappointment of some. Low farm products, low wages and only partial employment of labor, still retard distribution, and the limited demand which hinders the progress toward recovery has not ceased. Many establishments have resumed or added to their productive force, some also advanced wages, but it will take time to lift business out of its depression, and the progress made, if less than the sanguine expected, is at least encouraging. The decision to offer $50,000,000 bonds for replenishment of the treasury reserve, was, by bankers, generally approved, but events are showing that restoration of confidence cannot by itself remove all embarrassment.

It is generally assumed that the offered bonds will be taken at once. The effect is less easy to anticipate, for the formal announcement that, after a general reconstruction of the revenue laws, it is still found necessary to borrow largely, tends to raise doubt about financial provisions for the future. The reported exportation of gold from London, with a loss on its face of $7,500, at present exchange rates, is presumably meant to effect the bond subscriptions.

Some withdrawal of gold from the treasury by redemption of notes to make payments for bonds, and goods rather than gold are likely to come from Europe. London has also sold here about 15,000 shares of stock during the week. Money continues to accumulate, none going west, while the outgo to the south has diminished. Bankers are much encouraged by indications of larger business, but there is no increase as yet in commercial borrowing. Failures in the first week of November were larger than of late; being 27 in the United States, against 22 last year, and 28 in Canada, against 36 last year.

PRESIDENT YOUNG'S VIEWS.

New York, Nov. 16.—The National League men during this morning's session discussed the new American association. FITZSIMMONS ARRESTED.

He Knocks Partner Rioridan Completely Out of Time.

Syracuse, N. Y., Nov. 16.—While Bob Fitzsimmons and Con Rioridan, his sparring partner, were boxing at Jacobs' opera house in this city tonight, Fitzsimmons caught Rioridan with a blow on the point of the jaw and he was knocked down. The blow was a light one, but Rioridan had been drinking heavily and did not recover consciousness despite the efforts of two physicians, who gave him hypodermic injections and applied an electric battery. Shortly after midnight Fitzsimmons was placed under arrest. Rioridan is still unconscious and shows no signs of improvement.

DEATH OF DR. MCCOSH.

Ex-President of Princeton College Passes Away.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 16.—EX-PROFESSOR McCosh, of Princeton college, died tonight at 10 o'clock.

James McCosh was born April 1, 1811, in Carskeoch, Ayrshire, Scotland, and was educated at the universities of Glasgow and Edinburgh. At the latter institution he was a pupil of the famous Dr. Chalmers. He chose the church for his profession, and was ordained a minister of the Church of Scotland at Ayr in 1835, whence he removed in 1837 to Brechin. His first work was published in 1842, and was entitled "Method of the Divine Government, Physical and Moral, which discusses cause and effect in physical nature, and in the human mind, the laws of substance and phenomenon. He received the degree of LL. D. from Aberdeen in 1850 and from Harvard in 1855, while Queen's university, Ireland, has given him that of D. Litt.

In 1858, having been elected president of Princeton college, he came to this country. His administration at Princeton was remarkably successful, and during his incumbency the college increased considerably. From an average of 200 the number of students went to 600, while his own classes in philosophy numbered over 200, and the staff of professors increased from seventeen to forty. His advancing years induced him to offer his resignation in November, 1887, to take effect April 8, 1888.

Meanwhile a crowd gathered in the vicinity of the tragedy, but no one dared go near him. Straight realized that they would attempt to kill him and shot at them. He then deliberately drew forth his other weapon and fired again at Mrs. Whitford. After firing the last shot he remarked: "I guess I have fixed both of you," and sitting down on a horse block, emptied four chambers into his body near the heart.

Mrs. Straight was shot three times in the back, the balls lodging in the abdominal cavity and base of the lungs. She died at 7 o'clock this evening.

Mrs. Whitford was shot twice, one ball passing through the arm and lodging in the posterior side of the thorax, the other shattering the spinal column near its base. She is still alive, but sinking rapidly. The murderer was removed to the hospital and retained consciousness for several hours. He graphically described the murder to the district attorney. He is now unconscious and death is but a question of a few hours.

The parties are all well known, respectable citizens of Elmira, and the tragedy has created great excitement.

THE ALLEGED INSULT.

Statements in Reference to the Imprisonment of Consul Hollis Appear to Have Been Exaggerated.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The facts in regard to the alleged insult to the Stars and Stripes implied in the reported incarceration of American Consul Hollis in the dungeons of a fortress of the Portuguese colony of Mozambique, Africa, which have been so much exaggerated in dispatches from this city, are officially stated as follows:

United States Consul W. Stanley Hollis of Massachusetts, shot at a burglariously inclined Kaffir one night in September and the wounds proved mortal. Mr. Hollis was tried just as a British homicide in Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence, but which under Portuguese law appears to carry with it a mild sentence of imprisonment, evidently intended to restrain the Kaffirs from too much indiscriminate killing on slight provocation. The Mozambique penal code also has a unique provision that the prosecution may appeal, and unless the appeal warrants an increase of sentence the convict is acquitted.

The state department has been informed that such an appeal has been filed, presumably in the consul's behalf, and that Mr. Hollis enjoys full liberty on his own recognizance.

SHE STRUCK A BARGE.

Accident to the United States Cruiser Cincinnati.

New York, Nov. 16.—The United States cruiser Cincinnati which left the Brooklyn navy yard this morning, returned this afternoon, having met with an accident on her way to New London. When the vessel was passing Execution Rock in Long Island sound she struck a sunken object, which broke some of her plates forward amidships near the boiler.

The water began to pour into the air chamber and all the bulkheads were closed. Although the accident was not a serious one, Captain Glass deemed it wise to return to the navy yard.

At the time the vessel struck she was ploughing through forty feet of water, and there are no rocks charted there. It is surmised that the object struck was a sunken coal barge. The Cincinnati will be placed in dry dock and examined.

THE DIPHTHERIA CURE.

Experiments Made with Antitoxin Are Encouraging.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—A clinical report of five cases of diphtheria treated with the antitoxin, or diphtheria, the new cure for that disease, is published in this week's issue of the Medical News. Injections were made in the presence of Doctors Brown and Carman, resident physicians of the Municipal hospital, and Drs. Fress and Knies, of the German hospital. Subsequently Dr. Louis Fischer, of New York, visited the hospital and injected three additional patients in the presence of several physicians.

The first patient, a child 2½ years old, had been ill a little longer than two days when admitted. Ten cubic centimeters of the antitoxin were injected on the day of admission. The child lingered until last Saturday, ten days from the day of admission, when death occurred. Ten minutes after the first baby was treated, the second case, a little girl, aged 2 years and 8 months, was injected.
