BIG SUIT FOR WATER RENT

Gas and Water Company Against L. I. and C. Company.

IT IS BEFORE JUDGE GUNSTER

Several Days Will Be Required to Try the Case--Judge H. M. McClure Is Holding Court in No. 3 This Week.

Court room No. 1 was well filled yesterday with interested listeners to the important assumption suit of the Scranton Gas and Water company against the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company, which was called for trial before Judge Gunster. The suit involves a sum of $91,941.66, claimed as water rent for the consumption of water by the defendants, which, it is alleged, they were not entitled to according to the terms of the contract between the gas and water company and the steel company. It will be remembered that last August the steel company brought an injunction proceeding against the water company, the latter, it is claimed, having threatened to shut off the water, if the amount in dispute was not paid. Both sides came to an amicable adjustment of the difficulty by an agreement to continue the matter in open court until the suit, which was opened yesterday, was settled.

No trouble was found in selecting a jury, and Attorney Lemuel Amerman opened for the plaintiff. He was assisted in the case by Attorney J. H. Burns. W. W. Scranton, president of the Gas and Water company, sat beside them. General Manager McKinney and Master Mechanic Henry Wehrum, representing the defendant steel company, occupied seats inside the bar rail just behind the defendant's table. Attorneys Joseph O'Brien, of this city, John G. Johnson, of Philadelphia, M. E. Olmstead, of Harrisburg, and Hamilton Wallace, of New York, conducted the case for the defendant.

On Aug. 31, 1874, a contract was made by the water company with the defendant, the latter agreeing to pay $100 a month. On Feb. 19, 1881, another contract was made, a yearly one, and the terms were that an annual rental of $1000 was agreed to as the price of the water supplied. "for steam, fire, and for all other purposes."

Testimony of President Scranton. The testimony of W. W. Scranton, who was on the stand when court adjourned, covers the case. He has been president of the water company since 1879. He had been connected with the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company, then operating the North works and blast furnaces, for six years prior to 1880. In that year he left the employ of the iron and coal company and, with others, built the Scranton Steel mills, of which he was general manager, for seven or eight years, or rather from the year that the mills were first operated, until the Scranton steel company and the Lackawanna Iron and Coal company became consolidated and formed the Scranton Iron and Steel company, which took effect in March, 1881.

Mr. Scranton discovered soon afterward when he examined the supply pipes leading to the mills, that water was being used contrary to the agreement in the contract, that to put in figures the amount of water consumed which was not paid for, approximated from three to four hundred thousand gallons of water a day. This water was used against the terms of the contract for use for miscellaneous purposes, for cooling, condensing, hoses and tapers.

He immediately notified General Manager E. S. Moffat, and simultaneously sent in a bill of $15,000 at the rate of $1,500 a year for ten years. The bills were not paid, nor were subsequent bills sent in for water consumed by the Lackawanna Iron and Steel company. By the agreement made in 1881 the iron and coal company consented to build a reservoir and pump water from the river to be used in the extra consumption for which the water company is now suing to recover rent.

An Interesting Exhibit.

A miniature facsimile of the water pipes leading from the mills to the reservoir on South Washington avenue was exhibited in court. It showed the

IN LOCAL THEATERS.

Tomorrow evening "Kentucky" will be produced at the Frothingham by a fine company. One of the exciting features of the piece is the realistic stable and great race scene on the Lexington, Ky., track. There are other fine scenic effects.

At the Academy of Music Thanksgiving afternoon and evening George Dixon and a fine vaudeville and specialty company will be seen. Dixon, who is the champion feather weight of the world, will spar at the evening performance with Harry Woods, the well known light weight of this city.

There is a fine attraction in store for theater-goers at the Frothingham Thanksgiving afternoon and evening when that genial veteran, Joseph Jefferson, will appear in "Rip Van Winkle." There is no better Rip Van Winkle than Mr. Jefferson and never has been. It is his greatest role and with it his name is inseparably connected and will be when the historian of the future writes the history of the American drama of today.

Twenty-two people, one horse and a car load of scenery are absolutely required to properly portray Manager Eugene Robinson's new version of that famous play, "Rip Van Winkle." The play was entirely re-written by the late Steele Mackaye, and Manager Robinson has invested it in the same prodigious manner for which he is so well known and promises everything new from the curtain line to the back wall, and has selected a company with great care to interpret the various roles. This splendid attraction comes to the Academy of Music Friday evening.

FLOODING THE PARK.

Stream 10 by 12 inches has partially submerged the Natural Park. For several days the flooding of the Driving park, which is to be made a winter skating rink and speedway, has been in progress. A stream of water ten by twelve inches is being pumped from the river by the Capouse works and when the flow of water is stopped the entire park area within the outer edge of the track will be inundated, excepting the knoll in the north-eastern corner.

Electric wires have been strung about the park which will be lighted by night with arc lights located every 250 feet. The gentlemen interested in this novel feature have engaged several hundred pairs of skates for rental and arranged for having the old grandstand fitted with ladies' and gentlemen's rooms and restaurant.

The space within the outer edge of the track is a natural basin and will have to be banked only from a point 100 feet south of the grandstand to a point 250 feet north. The water yesterday had filled all the space from the inner side of the first turn to the ground occupied by the judges' stand.

Hewitt Wants His Divorce. In the divorce case of William H. Hewitt against Ella B. Hewitt, which was heard before a jury two weeks ago, court has granted a rule to show cause why a decree in divorce shall not be made as prayed for. The amount of alimony to be paid the respondent is also to be determined. The rule is returnable to argument court.

Yonkers Congregation Highly Pleased with Work of Rev. F. M. Davenport. A recent issue of the Yonkers, N. Y., Herald contains the following editorial regarding the work in that city of Rev. F. M. Davenport: "We are pleased to note that the official board of the First Methodist church at its regular session last evening unanimously adopted the following resolution: "In view of the acceptability and usefulness of Rev. F. M. Davenport to our church during his ministry, Resolved, That the official board respectfully ask the presiding bishop of the next annual conference to return him to this charge."

"Mr. Davenport's work in Yonkers has indeed been of a useful character and he has proved himself far-sighted, resolute and independent. He is one of the leading and aggressive spirits in the association which has been formed with the intention of seeing that existing excise laws are enforced."

"It is for the possession of admirable qualities like these that we are pleased to see Mr. Davenport's services in Yonkers recognized by the official board as being both 'acceptable and useful.'"

Rev. Mr. Davenport is well known in Scranton and has a large circle of warm friends and admirers here. For several years he was a member of the faculty of Wyoming seminary, during which time his eloquent voice was frequently heard in Scranton pulpits.

BOULEVARD IN WINTER

Will Be Kept in Good Condition for Sleigh-riding.

By the time snow flies, at least by Dec. 15, the iron bridge over the Roaring Brook at Nay aug will be completed. The structure is now being erected by a large force of workmen.

To counterbalance past disappointments and the present inconvenient approach to the boulevard, the company will make an extra endeavor during the winter to keep the driveway in a splendid condition for sleighing. Drifts will be removed and bare spots covered and everything possible done to make the boulevard one of the greatest winter pleasure drives in the country.

A VICTORY FOR PASKOLA.

It Receives the Official Endorsement of Eminent Experts and a Jury of Representative Citizens.

The suit brought by Ohio's food commissioner against a Cincinnati druggist for selling Paskola on the ground that it was nothing but glucose, resulted in a great victory for Paskola and a verdict against the state.

During the course of the trial Professor Shaller, of the University of Cincinnati, testified that Paskola was not glucose, and even if it was, it would be harmless. He also bore witness to its activity as a digestive agent.

Professor William Dickore, of the Miami college, testified to the same facts. So did Professor Schmidt, the chemist of the board of health; Professor William Hoffman and others.

A practical test was made in court, showing the digestive action of Paskola on eggs and meats of various kinds, whereas glucose under precisely the same conditions produced no effect whatever.

This test but confirmed the experts' statements that proved Paskola to be of great value in indigestion and wasting diseases.

This verdict disposes of the malicious attack that has been made against Paskola by interested rivals, and suits have now been brought against the proprietors of a well known emulsion of cod liver oil for having given wide circulation to a false formula and other misrepresentations regarding it.

The animus of this attack will be the better understood when it is stated that Paskola is being largely used in the place of cod liver oil.

WONDERFUL

SOUTH SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 10, 1894. Mr. C. W. Campbell--Dear Sir: I have my boy, Freddie, 7 years old, son of Dr. Campbell's Magic Worm Sugar and Tea, and to my surprise this afternoon about 2 o'clock he passed a tapeworm measuring about 30 feet in length, head and all. I have it in a bottle and any person wishing to see it can do so by calling at my store. I had tried numerous other remedies recommended for taking tapeworms, but all failed. In my estimation Dr. Campbell's is the greatest worm remedy in existence. Yours very respectfully, ERD HEFFNER, 782 Birch St.

TICKLED TO DEATH

That is the verdict of the jury of parents whose children have got copies of PALMER COX'S QUEER PEOPLE which we are now distributing to our readers. His fascinating stories of GIANTS AND GOBLINS, who perform wonderful feats of strength and daring, and terrorize whole regions of country, until finally brought to some untimely end are perfectly entrancing to the little people. Among these STORIES OF MARVELOUS INTEREST is that of the giant thief and marauder, Grim Griffin, who finally caught a whale and was drawn far out into the ocean and never heard of afterwards.
