THE STORIES ALL AGREE. When the steamer arrived in the city

The most careful and perhaps the most professor asked the reporter. "Well, that is exactly what the creature we saw last night seemed to be. It was about 25 feet ong, with a long tail, which tapered until within about five feet of the end, when it broadened out and looked much like a

"The creature weighed about 1000

a terrapin as anything else of which

"This horny substance was brown color and of a greenish tinge. The belly of the creature, which I saw after the rope slipped and the carcass was going down, was cream white. Its eyes were round like those of a fish and it did not wink."

NAPOLEON JONES IS ALMOST HERE.

Sons of Veterans Had an Enjoyable Time at Their Outing Yesterdey.

The opening attraction at the Sons of Veterans' annual field day at Crescent

Park yesterday was a ball game between Shannock and Pawtucket. The former

Mayor Fitzgerald of Pawtucket caught from the third inning, and in the fifth

He collided with the third baseman while trying to catch a foul fly and his

The make-up of the nines follow: Pawtucket-Dickerson, catcher; Gifford, first base; Pollard, second base; Landry, third base; Myles, short stop; Burlingame, centre field; E gar, right field; McKenna, left field; Lynn, pitcher. Shannock-B. McKennis, catcher; J. McKennis, pitcher; W. Basford, first base; J. Braw-

ton, second base; B. Barber, third base; C. Weaver, short stop; F. Matterson, Following were the events and winners, the prizes being awarded by Miss

One-mile bicycle race, 1st prize, bicycle

Three-legged race, prize, box of cigars,

One hundred yards dash, 1st prize, solid gold cuff links, Frank Congdon, Camp

No. 2; 2d prize, pipe, Elisha Congdon,

Shoe race, prize, pair of shoes, Frank

Standing jump, prize, box of cigars, Frank Congdon, Camp No. 2.

Running jump, prize, smoking jacket, Frank Congdon, Camp No. 2.

One-half mile running race, prize, commander's cup, Frank Congdon, Camp No.

The starters were Past Capt. Lynn and

Capt. Southwick of Pawtucket; judges, Gen. Fred E. Bolton, Boston; Col. Fred

E. Warner, Salem, and Robert M. Pollard,

Col. Fred E. Warner, commander of the

The field day committee was made up

as follows: Past Col. Frederic E. Carpenter, chairman; Past Col. Herbert S. Thompson, Past Col. Walter R. Williams,

Lieut. Edward S. Moulton, Adjt. Charles

A. Hammond; committee on games, Lieut.

Col. John H. Leonard, chairman: Past

Col. Arthur B. Spink, Past Capts. Chas.

A. Lynch, John P. Davis, A. Bert McInnis and the captains of the several camps; reception committee, Maj. George W. Hoxie, chairman; Past Cols. Charles

H. West, Theodore A. Barton, Thomas M.

Sweetland, William M. P. Bowen, Arthur B. Spink, Reuben H. Dexter, Herbert S. Thompson. Charles W. Abbot,

NAPOLEON JONES IS ALMOST HERE.

BY MOONLIGHT.

Brown & Sharpe Employes and

Avis Social Club Made a Trip

Down the Bay.

Employes of the Brown & Sharpe Manufacturing company enjoyed their second annual moonlight excursion last evening,

George G. Ross, William T. Franklin,

Alfred Latham and Frank II. Thomas omprised the committee of arrange-

Another moonlight that was none the less enjoyable was the second annual of the Avis Social club last night.

The steamer Mount Hope was well filled with the members' friends and, after a sail around Prudence, dancing was enjoyed at Rocky Point. The Savoy or-

The members of the club, William Kierhestra furnished music.

ients.

Jr., Walter R. Williams.

Massachusetts S. of V., and Quartermaster Fred E. Bolton of Boston were upper lip was cut by one of his teeth.

Wood and Congdon, Camp No. 2.

won, 10 to 0.

was injured.

umpire.

prize,

Annie Hoxie!

Camp No. 2.

Camp No. 2

Sherman, Camp No. 9.

Congdon, Camp No. 2.

AN INTRIGUE IN FINANCES

Mme. De Witte Caused a Crisis in the Realms of the Czar.

SHE SHOOK THE ENTIRE EMPIRE

Used Adolph Rothstein to Conduct Tramendous Speculations.

RADIANTLY BEAUTIFUL WOMAN.

The Anger of the Emperor Leads to Divorce From Her Husband and Her Exile From the Country.

Adolph Rothstein, the great Russian banker, who was in New York recently and negotiated a loan for his government, Is a character in one of the most remarkable remances of the Czar's court.

It is a story of financial intrigue, of a beautiful woman, the Russian minister of Finance, Sergius De Witte, and of Rothstein himself, one of the greatest bankers

As a Poor Girl in Moscow.

In Europe. The story has just come ou through the perpetual decree of exile against Mme. De Witte, the woman in the case.

It has never been published in Russian newspapers, but it is part of the whispered court scandal attendant upon the narrowly averted disgrace of Minister De Witte a year ago. At that time a gre Russian ratiroad scheme collapsed, and the Minister of Finance was accused of using his official position to assist him in stock-jobbing schemes. He hurried to the Czar's palace to make explanation, and was refused admittance. Crimination and recrimination were hurled back and forth among the powermembers of the Czar's cabinet, and De Witte's disgrace was demanded in nearly all quarters. He was admittedly the ablest man in Russia, and many began to believe him the most unscrupu-

Suddenly, everything was hushed up. Mme. De Witte was exiled, and her husband was restored to the confidence the czar. Just how it was all brought about remained a mystery outside of No Russion newspaper dared printaline of the strange story of the grasping in-trique of a woman width wrecked some of the tremendous business enterprises of the government and cast a shadow upon her husband's reputstion. Editors in Russia print very much what the; are told to print; etherwise they are given transportation to Speria. So this episode in the lives of Adelph Rothstein and Mme De Witte was merely gossiped in drawing rooms and clubs.

he heroine of the story was born in Moscow of parentage so lowly that it is unknown. She was called Martha, and she grew up to be a radiantly beautiful woman-with a beauty all the more fascinaupg that it was informed by wonderful intelligence.

Bride of DeWitte.

She captivated a substantial tradesman named Lissanewitch, and they were married. Madame Lissanewitch was as ambitious as beautiful, and she persuaded her husband to remove to St. Petersburg. In the capital she found almost un-dreamed-of possibilities for advancement Act like magic—strengthening the Muscular System, restoring the long-lost Complexion, bringing back the keen edge of Appetite, and arousing with the Rosebud of Health the whole physical energy of the human frame. One of the best guarantees to the Nervous and Debilitated is that Beecham's Pills have the Largest Sale of any Patent Medicine in the World, and this has been achieved without the publication of testimonials.

10 cents and 25 cents, at all drug stores

by the two weapons of womanhood-beau ty and wit.

RISE OF DE WITTE.

Serge Witte, or Sergius De Witte, as he is now called, was just rising to be the great man of the czar's realm. Plain, blunt, a great thinker and a man of unresting energy, he had forged forward from the position of station agent on a railroad to a place second to the czar humself.

Now he is known as one of the great men of Europe. His name is linked with the plans for internal development which have placed Russia in the forefront of the powers of the earth.

Mme, Lissanewitch became the divinity of Sergius De Witte, all of the time in which he was not engaged with the business of state was spent in her company. Lissanewitch was a stolid, prudent man, and he recognized the forces arrayed against him. He saw that there was no head to be made against the czar's favorite and against the will of a beautiful and ambitious woman.

Planning a Coup with Rothstein.

"I want you to consent to a divorce," said De Witte. "How much will you give me?" asked prudent Lissanewitch. "Twenty-five thousand rubles," replied

The thing was done, and Mme. Lissanewitch became Mme. De Witte. Matilda of Moscow was at last raised to a place even more influential throughout the court than that of the Czarina herself. She helped her husband to climb higher and higher, and at last he was made Minister of Finance.

Mme. De Witte now had opportunities of meeting great bankers, men who car-ried on gigantic business enterprises of the empire. She wanted to be the richest woman in the empire in her own right, as well as the most influential. Her eyes fell upon Adolph Rothstein, who is now the Baron Rothschild of Russia. She determined to use his knowledge to win the prize that she coveted so much. Rothstein was a German who, valuable schooling in an English banking house, had become renowned as a broker in Berlin. His skill in doing business in Russian banknotes led to his engagement at a high salary by the International Bank of Commerce, in Russia. In course of time he acquired almost a wocratic control of the bank, and managed it with so much skill that it has, been identified with all Russia's important financial moves in recent years He also organized the Russo-Chinese bank, which is a controlling factor in the problem in the Far East today. He is now a member of the imperial council of the Deported by Order of the Czar.

treasury of the Russian empire, and gov ernor of the Imperial Bank of Russia. MADAME BEGAN TO SPECULATE. Advised by the banker, it is said, Madame speculated on an immense scale, By a single coup she won $5,000,000, while other smailer transactions running over a period of ten years netted her fully twice that sum. Rothstein's position forbade him to appear in the role of a stockmarket speculator.

He was able, however, to furnish invalnable information to the woman he befriended, and so it came about that Mme. De Witte, the Moscow peasant, was power to be reckoned with in the world of finance. Sae was all the more formidable that for a long time no one suspected her manipulations.

Among the securities with which she dealt was the stock of the Moscow-Yaraslay railroad, the directors of which, owing to her speculations, lost over $10,-000,000. Of the losers the heaviest was M. Mamonto:, the president of the road, who was left with a debt of $3,500,000.

Mamontoff didn't take kindly to his losses. He began an investigation and discovered the speculator who had ruined him. Naturally he jumped to the conclusion that, hiding behind his wife's skirts, the Russian Minister of Finance was using his official position to juggle the stock markets. He laid the facts before the czar, and the czar fell into a towering rage. De Witte, hearing of Mamontoff's disclosures, hastened to make his peace with the emperor. He was refused an audience, and there were exciting rumors of his suicide.

Somehow, nobody knows just how, De Witte was finally restored to favor. One of the stipulations upon which terms were made was that Mme. De Witte should leave Russia and not return. She is now living in Nice in considera ble luxury on the millions which came out of the pockets of the directors of the Moscow-Yaraslav railroad, and of other

NAPOLEON JONES IS ALMOST HERE.

PARK CONCERT PROGRAM.

Reeves' American Band, Bowen R. Church, leader, will render the following program at the band concert at Roger Williams Park this evening: March, "Fan Tan," Burt Anthony; overture, "Pestival," Leutner; polka caprice, for reeds, Periede; "Mosquito Parade," Henry; bari-tone solo, "The Song That Reached My Heart," John Hanna; "Life Among the Gypsies," Thiele; trombone solo, ways," Shelley; prison theme from "Tro-Messrs. Church and Spar; Belle of New York," Kerker.

SENECA LAKE SEA MONSTER.

Killed by Steamer's Sidewheel Last Friday Night.

NEARLY FIFTY FEET IN LENGTH

Looked at Boat, Opened Its Mouth and Displayed Sharp Teeth.

DULL THUD AS THE BOAT STRUCK IT

The Force of the Impact Threw Evaryone Off His Feet, and the Vessel Careened Violently to Port.

Geneva, N. Y., July 25 .- The Otetiani, a sidewheel steamboat belonging to the Seneca Lake Steam Navigation company, officered by Capt. Carleton C. Herendeen and Pilot Frederick Rose, was between Dresden and Wilkard a few minutes before 7 o'clock Friday evening when Pilot Rose saw, about 400 yards ahead, what appeared to him to be an overturned boat.

He called Capt. Herendeen, who examined the object with the glass. It appeared to be about 15 feet long, with a very sharp bow and long, narrow stern. Amidships it was much broader and higher than at either end.

A number of passengers gathered around the pilot house and discussed the supposed boat. Among them were President F. A. Mallette of the board of public works, editor and publisher of Sunday Review; Commissioners of Public Works Albert L. Fowler and D. W. Hallenbeck; Police Commissioner George G. Schell, Fred S. Bronson, manager of the Geneva Telephone company, and Charles E. Coon, a commercial traveling man of

THE OBJECT MOVED AWAY.

When Capt. Herendeen completed his examination of the object the pilot signalled the engineer to slow down. The steamboat approached to within yards and preparations were made to lower a boat. As the davits were swung outward the supposed upturned boat turned and began to move away.

"Full speed ahead!" shouted the captain. The object was moving slowly and the steamboat gained on it rapidly. The object ag in turned, this time toward the boat, raised its head, looked in the direction of the boat and opened its mouth, displaying two rows of sharp white

The captain said that he would ram the creature, wound it and take it alive if possible. Otherwise he would kill it and either take it aboard or tow it to Geneva. The boat was turned so that the creature would be approached from the side. The deck was crowded with passengers. These the captain ordered amidships

The captain cautioned everybody to get a life preserver and keep cool, because he said he did not know what would happen when the boat struck the monster. Some of the women, who were in tears, retired to the cabin, the others showed as much interest and excitement as the creature. The captain signalled full speed ahead, and in a moment the Otetiani was under way. Everybody on deck was watching the monster and hardly a person was breathing normally.

MONSTER DUCKED THE STEAMER. The boat fell away some distance and turned to make the attempt to ram the

While the boat was some distance from it the monster again looked at the boat, sank out of sight, and the boat passed over the spot where it had been. Some of the passengers declared that they could see the dark outline of the crea-

The steamer prepared to continue her course to this city. "There it is!" suddenly exclaimed one of the women passengers who was standing on the after-deck. "The thing has come up." "The thing has come up."

The passengers, with the captain in advance, ran to the stern of the vessel, and within fifty yards the long body of the nonster was lying on the surface in practically the same position as when dis-

The captain ordered the boat put about and the attack was renewed. Instead of trying to strike the creature full in the side the boat was maneuvered so that the starboard paddle wheel would strike it about midway between its head and tail.

The boat went ahead under full steam; monster paid no attention to it, and with a thud which all heard and felt the boat struck the mark at which it aimed. The force of the impact threw every one off his feet, and the vessel careened viclently to port, but quickly righted.

A PAINFUL SILENCE FOLLOWED.

For an instant, in which everybody condered what would happen next, there was not a sound on board except the en gine. Then the men on board cheered and some of them recovered from their fright. Lying beside the steamer with a gap in its side was the monster. It raised its head, gave what sounded like a gasp, and lay quiet. Its spinal column had been broken and it was dead.

The lifeboats were quickly lowered and rowed to its side, and with the aid of boat hooks ropes were passed around the car-cass. Other ropes which were fastened on board the steamer were then passed

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

If you haven't a regular, healthy movement of the bowels every day, you're sick, or will be. Keep your bowels open, and be well. Force, in the shape of violent physic or pill poison, is dangerous. The smoothest, easiest, most perfect way of keeping the bowels clear and clean is to take going on the Bay Queen. There were a sail around Paudence Island and dancing at Crescent Park. Ned Young's orchestra furnished the music, down and attached to the improvised swings. All helped to haul the monster in. The carcass was clear of the water when the rope near the tail slipped off and the tail dropped into the water. The weight on the other rope then became so great that it began to slip through the hands of those holding it. They were compelled to let go or go overboard. As soon as the body struck the water it began to sink and disappeared.

KEEP YOUR BLOOD CLEAN | nan, Frank McCaffrey, James Morgan, Matt Mackey and A. H. Downey, constituted the committee.

At the point where the carcass was lost the lake is over 600 feet deep, and, as is well known, bodies of persons who have been drowned in that part of the lake never again rise or are recovered. OF CAMPAIGN.

Jacob Posey and His Three Hundred Talking Crows.

shortly after midnight the stories told were about the same and the length of ALLOUT FOR BRYAN AND SILVER the monster was estimated at from 25 to trustworthy account was given by Prof. G. R. Ellwood, a geologist, who lives in They Will Travel Extensively Over boats that made a rope fast around the the West and Shout for 16 to 1. "Do you know what a clidastes is?" the bounds. Its head was perhaps four feet Strange Performances by These Feathered ong and triangular in shape. Its mouth was very long and was armed with two Mimics That Belong Down in Texas, and rows of triangular white teeth as sharp as those of a shark, but in shape more like those of the sperm whale. Its body was covered with a horny substance, which was as much like the carapace of Something About Their Peculiar Owner.

THEY WILL COME EAST, VERY LIKELY.

> Marble Falls, Texas, July 25 .-'Caw!" said the crow, and "Caw," said 'All men are liars." Te-he-te-he -Old Folk Song.

> But you would not think so if you could see Jake Posey and his talking crows. Posev and his crows recently invaded this town on their way to Illinois. His aerial army is trained to shout, "Hurrah

> Posey and the birds are campaigning for 16 to 1 in their own peculiar way. They will cross Missouri after leaving this state, and expect to make the entire Middle West before the November elec-

> The crows all talk. As for Posey, he calls himself "Uncle Sam," and he does bear some resemblance to the portraits of that historic individual.

> Jacob Posey has been living the life of a hermit on an island in the Rio Grande for about twenty-five years. A few weeks ago he started to make a tour of the country on foot, accompanied by a flock of about 300 pet crows.
>
> From time immemorial there has been > a famous crows' roost on Mustang Island. Countless swarms of these birds possessed this island when the Spaniards first occupied the country.

>
> The Indians used to make long journeys

> at certain seasons of the year for the pur-pose of reaching this locality during the breeding season, and they would remain here for several weeks feasting upon eggs and young crows. HUNDREDS OF THEM TAME.

The hermit, in the course of his long isolations, has cultivated friendly relations with the birds, and succeeded in taming several hundred of them.

People in southern Texas who have vis ited "Old Jake," have had some wonderful stories to tell of the strange sights that they witnessed on the island. The old man has succeeded in making nearly all of the vast roost of birds as tame as right field; J. Collins, centre field; D. Crandall, left field. O. K. McKennis was chickens, and he has taught many of them to say a few words as plain as ever Barnaby Rudge's famous raven shrieked, After dinner, which was served at 1 o'clock, the field sports were taken up "I am a devil!"

and lasted all the afternoon.

Hundreds of Hundreds of Jake's birds are constantly saying: "Hurrah." "How are you?" "Sick 'em." "Go it, Hell." "Ha, ha, ha," and dozens of other short exclamations and short phrases.

He has been living upon such terms of lamp, A. L. Sherman, Camp No. 9; 2d sweater, Elisha W. Congdon, close familiarity with the flock of birds that they seem to regard him as a very essential part of their world. Whenever men, 1st prize, silver knife and fork, J. One-quarter mile race, for married the birds miss him on account of sick-ness or absence from his cabin they are W. Collins, Camp No. 4; 2d prize, silk umbrella, George W. Hoxie, Camp No. 4. evidently greatly distressed. Egg race, prize, silk suspenders, A. L.

Upon his return or when he opens his door they greet him with a passionate outburst of caw, and flocks of the tamer ones flutter about his head, uttering such words as "Halloo, Jake," or "Poor

No one knows who or whatever put it into Jake's head to start on a tramp over the country with a flock of his birds. He is an eccentric character and he will not permit any one to advise him or interfere with his plans.

He started out with the intention of reaching Kansas City in time to be present at the Democratic convention, but he was badly informed as to dates and the geography of the country.

BUSINESS IS SUSPENDED.

When he enters a town the people know it and business is generally sus-pended for the next few hours. Every-body is interested, from the oldest citizen to the babes at their mothers' knees. He walked into the little town of Mar-ble Falls about 10 o'clock in the forenoon and sat down under the shade of a large oak tree that stands in the only business About ten minutes after the street. boughs of the big oak were literally alive with crows and the housetops in the vicinity were black with the birds

One of the birds shouted: "Wake up!" Wake up!" The whole 300 shrieked simultaneously, "Wake up! Wake up! That was enough to bring the people to their doors, and the air was full of such expressions of surprise. The birds replied by taking wing, and as they cir-cled low in a black cloud over the town, "How are you? Hurrah for Bryan! Hurrah for Billy!" Crowds of people gathered in the stree about Jake, and many of the more injuisitive began to hurl questions at him. He answered very few of them. His attention appeared to be absorbed by his flock of birds.

He made them all settle on the ground and form in a double column, and then, at signal from their master, they shrieked: "Hurrah for Bryan!" adding to the slogan a chorus of "caws" that were deafening.

Then they faced about and marched around Jake, hurrahing and cawing like so many devils. Halting after they had formed a complete circle around their king, each bird turned his head to one side and looked wise. "Who will be the next president?" said

Jake. That question seemed to tickle them, for they stood as straight as they could and answered, "Billy Bryan," flop ping their wings and screeching "Ha, ha, Ha!" as if they were enjoying a fine joke. BILLY IS ALL RIGHT.

"How is Billy?" said Jake. The birds answered "All right!" drawling out the words to perfection. At a signal from the old man they all ascend-ed into the air, cawing and hurrahing for

After a few moments Jake called sev eral of the old birds to him and gave each of them a little tin cup. They seemed eager to take the cups in their bills, and as soon as they secured them they flew straight at the crowd that had assembled in the street, shricking The moment a piece of money was dropped in one of the cups the bird would seize the cup with one of its feet and crow and "Ha, ha," as if he were immensely tickled.

The old man campa wherever pight NAPOLEON JONES IS ALMOST HERE.

AMUSEMENTS, EXCURSIONS, ETC. FIRST CAMPAICN PARADE.

IN THE

WILBUR

Repertoire

PROVIDENCE OPERA HOUSE.

Continued Success of the

WILBUR OPERA

CO.

THIS

WEEK

on., Tues., Wed.

Beggar Student

Thurs., Fri., Sat. THURSDAY NIGHT, SOUVENIRS.

PRICES: Daily Mats. 10, 20.
NEXT WEEK-Wilbur Opera Co.

Evenings at 8:15, 10, 20,

New Vaudeville Between Acts.

THIS WEEK:

Katherine Rober

Mon., Tues., Wed. Mats. and Eves.

THE BANKER'S DAUGHTER.

Thur., Fri., Sat. Mats. and Eves.,

MOTHS.

Next Week-"LA BELLE MARIE" and 'IRON MASTER."

The Day We Celebrate!

CLAN-NA-GAELS

Of Rhode Island and Bristol County,

To Rocky Point,

Grand street parade in Providence at 9 o'clock a. m. Military part of parade will be commanded by Col. John J. Dockry and Maj. John T. Flynn. Second

Grand Competition Drill for the $200 set

BASEBALL CAME

FALL RIVER vs. CENTREDALE,

For a purse of $50.

Capt. Frank Canning, Chief of Staff. JOHN F. QUINN, Chairman, THOS. J. MATHEWS, Secretary,

SUNDAY

Str. Awashonks

Will leave Providence at 10 a. m., going via Newport, weather permitting. Re-turning, leave Seaconnet at 3 p. m., stop-ping at Pierce's wharf, Tiverton and

Shore Dinners Served In the New Dining Hall.

STR. QUEEN CITY

Will LEAVE PROVIDENCE at 9:30 a m., stopping at Bristol, Tiverton and Pierce's wharf. Passengers returning overtakes him and his birds roost in the rees over his head. He says that some of them must stand guard, for they always give him warning whenever a man or an animal of any kind approaches.

He buys beef and corn of merchants butchers and farmers, and he says that he has to feed the birds well or they would leave him and return to their island home in the Rio Grande. He thinks that several of the birds have already deserted the flock and found their way

The old man tells many strange stories plains of Old Mexico they happened to the scent of the viands or native devil-try, they circled about and settled in the

THE MEXICANS FRIGHTENED.

They contented themselves by turning their heads to one side and watching the people for some time, but when an ora-tor ascended a platform and began to deliver an oration, the birds were suddenly seized with a desire to display their own colloquial powers, and they all shouted

"Hurrah!" in a chorus.
The ignorant Mexicans began to look toward the skies, evidently in doubt as to the origin of the disturbance. The next instant some 300 or 400 crows began to flop their wings and caw out such phrases as "Get out," "Sick 'em," "Hell," "Hell," "Devil," "Devil."

Men. women and children fied as if the very Old Nick himself was at their heels.

Any unusual disturbance or commotion always tickles distmgII rahtmarfdwrfd always tickles a crow, and when the birds saw the people running they flew after them, shricking curses and words of terrible meaning. The poor Mexicans were nearly frightened to death, and they never stopped running until they reached

The birds returned, and after devouring the abandoned picnic dinner, they, of course, tore every basket to shreds. Jake expects to travel through Missouri, Indi-ana, Illinois and Ohio during the presi-dential campaign, and if he does not get too tired he may visit Washington city.

One sees few sights in the course of a lifetime more interesting than this peculiar old man and his flock of talking

their homes

crows.

tree over the heads of the revelers.

back to the old roost.

via steamer Awashonks at 3 p. m

JOHN L. GANNON, Treasurer, Committee.

D.:

Lieut, Frank Grant, Chief Marshal

of colors.

MOST

POPULAR

OPERAS

The great street parade in honor of HON. HENRY B. METCALF. Vice Presidential Candidate, will take place in Pawtucket THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1900. A large marching club will leave Providence from the Union Passenger station at 7:05 p. m., accompanied by a band. All those over the age of 16, wishing to march with the club will report to the undersigned on Exchange place, Burnside Monument, at 6:30 p. m., Thursday, July 26, 1900. The towns of Cranston, Johnston and Scituate are invited to join with Providence. Correspond with or report at place of formation on Exchange place.

OPEN Every Day and Evening

Steamboats Every Hour.

Grand Vaudeville Performances.

Best Shore Dinner on the Bay. Continuous Popular Concerts.

R. A. HARRINGTON.

LEAVE PROVIDENCE FOR

Returning 2:45 p. m., week days; 3 p. m., Sundays. EXCURSION TICKETS $1.00

LEAVE PROVIDENCE FOR

NARRAGANSETT PIER

Returning, 4:05 p. m., week days; 4:20 p. m., Sundays. EXCURSION TICKETS..... 75c

Week days, 9 a. m., 2 and 5 p. m.; Sundays, 10 a. m., 2, and 8 p. m. Leave Newport for Providence—Week days, 7:15, 10:30, a. m., and 5 p. m. Sundays, 8 and 11:30 a. m., 5, 5:15 and 9 p. m.

EXCURSION TICKETS, 60 Cents.

LEAVE PROVIDENCE STEAMERS

FIELD'S POINT and CRESCENT PARK Every 30 minutes ofter 10 a. m., until Every hour commencing 9 a. m. days; 10 a. m. Sundays. (See local Time

CEACONNET CICAMBOAT OCHOMNIEL SICHWONHI COMPANY.

On and after SUNDAY, June 24, 1900, STEAMER AWASHONKS will leave Providence, foot of Planet street, East Side, for SEACONNET POINT daily (Sundays excepted), at 9 a. m., Bristol at 10:15 a. m. and Tiverton at 10:50 a. m. Returning, leave Seaconnet at 3 p. m., Pierce's wharf 3:35 p. m., Humphrey & Church's wharf, Tiverton, 3:55 p. m. and Bristol 4:35 p. m.

SUNDAYS.

Leave Providence 10 a. m., Seaconnet 3 b. m., stopping at Pierce's wharf, Tiver-tion and Bristol returning. PIANO ON BOARD FOR USE OF PATRONS. SHORE DINNERS served in the New Dining Hall.

STEAMER QUEEN CITY Will leave Seaconnet for Providence daily (Sundays excepted) at 6:30 a. m., Pierce's wharf 7:15 a. m., Newton 7:35 a. m., Humphrey & Church's wharf, Tiverton, 7:50 a. m. Returning, leave Providence 2:30 p. m., Tiverton 4:40 p. m.

SUNDAYS.

Leave Providence 9:30 s. m., stopping at Bristol, Tiverton and Pierce's wharf. Passengers returning via steamer Awashonks 3 p. m. Matines excursions every Saturday afternoon, leaving Providence 2:30 p. m., Seaconnet 7 p. m.

EXCURSIONS TO BRISTOL

Leave Providence daily (Sundays excepted) at 2:30 p. m. via Queen City; returning, leave Bristol 4:35 via Awashonks.
Will land at Seasonnet, weather per-J. A. PETTEY, General Manager, P. O. Box 153, Providence, R. L.

EXCURSIONRATES.

about his birds, one of which at least is worth repeating. During a time when food was scarce a flock of good talkers wandered a little further away from the roost than usual, and while scouring the THIS FAVORITE SHORE RESORT fly over a crowd of Mexicans who were enjoying a picnic, and, impelled either by

Will Open for the Season on June 17 Dinners will be served upon the arrival of 11:30 boat. Continuous dinner until 8 p. m. 5 O'CLOCK BAKE. Providence, Fall River and Newport S. B. Co. sells tickets to Field's Point and return, including dinner, for 65 cents. To Crescent Park and return and stop over at Field's Point, 25 cents. Rocky Point and return, with stop over at Field's Point, 30 cents. S. S. ATWELL, Proprietor.

LUNDIN TURKISH and RUSSIAN

BATHS Banigan Building. MASSAGE AND SWEDISH GYMNASTICS

. . HOURS LADIES . . . WEEK DAYS: QA. M. to P. M. SUNDAYS: IP. M. to 7 P. M.

... GENTLEMEN .. WEEK DAYS: 1P. M. until 8 o'clock SUNDAYS: Until 1 P. M. & after 7 P. M.

BAILEY'S MUSIC STORE.

Renting, Repairing

and Installments. Rehairing Bows a Specialty.

Prohibitionists, Attention!

S. E. STONE, Marshal, Prov. Div., 86 Weybosset st., Room 50.

Trolley Cars Every 30 Minutes.

Visit Rocky Point Today.

Week days, 9 a. m. Sundays, 10 a. m.

LEAVE PROVIDENCE FOR

NEWPORT

4:39 p. m. (See local Time Table at Ticket Office.) STEAMERS FOR

Table at ticket office.)

FIELD'S POINT, 1900.

Given at the Bath or at Patients' Horoat the Advice of Their Physicians By Attendants Holding First-Class Diplomas.

OSCAR R. LUNDIN, Manager.

72 WEYBOSSET STREET OPPOSITE_ARCADE