

COLUMBIA.

Sunday Morning, August 11, 1867.

An Abiding Faith.

Our cotemporary of the Charleston Mercury, in discussing the question as to when a revulsion in feeling at the North will come, has the following paragraph:

"There is nothing to be gained by kicking against the pricks, and we care not to trust to a hope that a moment may sweep away. It may be that the Northern people are more cruel in spirit than they were two years ago—that they are more disposed to crush us now than they were six months since. It may be that Congress but represents the feeling of its constituents; that it is but the moderate mouth-piece of incensed Northern opinion. It may be that measures harsher than any of which we yet have knowledge may be proclaimed against us; that confiscation, incarceration, banishment may brood over us in turn. But all these things will not change our earnest belief—a belief as earnest as our belief in our own being—that there will be a revulsion of popular feeling in the North, and that there will be a tide in our affairs, upon the bosom of which our people may safely ride to fortune."

For some years before the war, and for all the dreary years since its commencement, we have hoped—although we must confess not with a very lively faith—to see and realize its benefits, this long-promised re-action in the popular feeling at the North. But every succeeding opportunity these people have had to manifest this popular feeling, it has only developed as more deep-rooted and bitter than those which went before. Experience has taught us and the Southern people not to "trust a hope that a moment may sweep away," and which has been swept away so often, that we thought no sensible man could ever be induced to trust to it again. No, the only "tide in our affairs, upon the bosom of which our people (that is to say, the present generation,) may safely ride to fortune"—good or bad—is to mount the platform, or clamber into the raft, which Congress has constructed for us, and make the best of it, using our exertions in the most efficient method to reach a harbor of peace. This thing of waiting for "a revulsion of public feeling" at the North is all moonshine, and has already led the South into almost inextricable difficulties, and brought upon her devoted head all the innumerable evils she now groans under.

Register!

There is one thing that we desire to call the attention of all our readers to, and that is, that the mere act of availing themselves of the privilege of registration does not commit them to an endorsement of the reconstruction Acts, or to voting for a convention. It is simply an act of qualification, conferring upon them the right to vote as they please on the questions at issue. They should bear in mind that, having registered, they can vote for or against a convention, can select their men to represent them in that body, and can vote to adopt or reject the constitution it may submit for their approval.

This is an important point for those qualified to consider. The mere registration of their names does not commit them one way or the other, and, indeed, if they choose, they may refuse to vote at all. But, by registering, they will have secured that option, whereas the neglect to do so precludes them from exercising their judgment at the ballot-box of either men or measures, and disqualifies them from voting for or against either, so long as these laws are in force. Register, then, if you do not go near the ballot-box, and thus preserve to yourselves the highest privilege conferred upon the citizen.

A grave mistake—accidentally burying a man alike.

Southern Manufactures.

The New York Herald thinks it strange that it does not hear of extensive investments, powerful companies and great schemes for the introduction of manufacturing establishments in the Southern States, from cotton and woolen factories, from iron and steel, to leather boots and shoes and farming implements. It says very truly, that the South has not only the finest region in the world for cotton growing, but "the best facilities and greatest advantages for cotton manufactures to any extent," and adds, that from its generous soil and mild winter climate, men can live more cheaply and realize larger profits from manufactures of all kinds than can be made in New England or Old England, if they only go properly into the business. The Herald then says that men of capital, looking about for investments, will find their best field in the Southern States.

No paper knows better than the Herald the true position of the Southern States at the present time. All that is said in the editorial to which we allude is true, and it has not overdrawn the picture in its statements of the resources of the South. She does present the best field for investment (as well in manufactures as in agriculture) that can be found anywhere; her resources, both as regards her soil and its abundant products and her mineral wealth, are boundless—but, as the Herald well knows, they are not available, because capital and labor will not come to the rescue. The Herald is not ignorant of this state of things, and the expression that it thinks it strange that such and such things should not be, is merely a sort of prefatory introduction to the subject to which attention is to be called.

If the Herald, like the immortal "J. N.," the peripatetic philosopher, could "lift the veil and remove the pressure," its glowing predictions of the future of the South would no doubt be speedily realized. But her future is closely veiled in obscurity, while the pressure on all her energies and capabilities is crushing in its effects. Patience and endurance may see the accomplishment of many of the brightest predictions which have been uttered for the South; but oh! how many of her people, in the meantime, will sink, never to rise again, beneath the buffeting waves of an undeserved adversity.

FOR SALE.

A NEAT SET of STORE FIXTURES, including Counters, Cornices, Shelving, &c., all complete, and affording an excellent opportunity for furnishing a new store. Apply at this office. Aug 11 5

FOR SALE,

G. & C. RAILROAD BONDS. G. C. & S. C. Railroad Stock. New York Exchange. WANTED—G. & S. C. Railroad Bonds and Coupons. THOS. E. GREGG & CO. Aug 11

RELIABLE LYE! Concentrated Lye, IN IRON BOXES,

JUST IN AT JACKSON'S DRUG STORE. Aug 11

CLARET.

ON TUESDAY next, 13th inst., we will have on draught one pipe CLARET. Very LOW for cash by Aug 11 E. & G. D. HOPE.

NEW FLOUR, SYRUP AND CORN.

5 BBLs. BEE-HIVE SYRUP. 500 bushels White and Mixed CORN. 100 sacks Extra FAMILY FLOUR. Low for cash by Aug 11 E. & G. D. HOPE.

FOR RENT,

A HOUSE, on Main street, containing six rooms. On the premises are a good kitchen, stable and all necessary out-buildings. The location is opposite the South Carolina University. For further particulars, apply to JOHN McINTOSH, Main street, one square below the State House. Aug 11 6

FRESH LEMONS.

JUST received at Aug 6 J. C. SEEGER & CO.'S.

THE IRON-CLAD.—The last military act of Congress required that the "iron-clad oath" shall be taken by all persons hereafter appointed or elected to office during the Provisional Government. It seems to be understood that this oath will not be required of members of the State Constitutional Convention.

A banana tree, full of fruit, in the garden of Hon. George A. Trenholm, in Charleston, is attracting considerable attention.

D. B. McOndight, Esq., from ill health, has dissolved his connection with the Winnsboro News.

PARTIES who expect me to GIN their COTTON will please notify me at once, and state the probable time and amount to be Ginned. W. B. LOWRANCE. August 11

Ohicora Base Ball Club.

AN EXTRA MEETING of this CLUB will be held on MONDAY EVENING next, at 8 o'clock. Punctual attendance requested. By order of the President. August 11 I. SULZBACHER, Sec'y.

4,000 GINS!

Ready for the Season, at the MANUFACTORY.

Send your order to the South Carolina Cotton Gin Warehouse, COLUMBIA, S. C.

THEY GIN Faster, Cleaner and make a better Sample than any Gins in the country with the same power. They have been adopted by the East India Cotton Agency Company, by the Manchester Cotton Supply Association, by the Viceroy of Egypt, and by the Governments of Turkey, Brazil, Italy, Greece and India, in their efforts to raise this staple in their midst; and their merits are even more fully understood by those using them in our own country during the last two years. They are also warranted to give satisfaction, or no sale.

ALSO,

Corn Shellers, Feed Cutters, PLOWS, CULTIVATORS, &c.

Wood's MOWING and REAPING MACHINES, which have taken the first premium at the Paris Exposition.

The following gentlemen, to whom I have recently sold these Machines, will gladly testify to their merits:

- Dr. B. W. Taylor, Columbia, S. C.
  - W. L. Mikell, Columbia, S. C.
  - Gen. J. J. Bratton, Winnsboro, S. C.
  - M. E. DeGraffenreid, Chester, S. C.
  - O. G. Wells, Newberry, S. C.
  - J. P. Kinard, Newberry, S. C.
  - J. F. Kitchers, Union, S. C.
  - L. A. Lowrance, Salisbury, N. C.
- Terms accommodating. Address, W. B. LOWRANCE, South Carolina Cotton Gin Warehouse, Aug 11 12 Columbia, S. C.

REMOVAL.

HAVING removed my FURNITURE business to the National Express old stand, I would be glad to see my former patrons and the public generally give me a call, as I have a nice stock of FURNITURE on hand, and will make to order or repair anything in the Furniture line very reasonable, and workmanship to please even the most fastidious. JEROME FAGAN, Washington st., bet. Main and Assen'y, A few doors from old stand. Aug 10 6mo

Bacon and Tobacco.

ONE THOUSAND lbs. Country BACON SIDES. 1,000 lbs. Killicknick Smoking Tobacco. 10 boxes low-priced Chewing " 3 bales 7-8 Heavy Shirting. For sale low by ALFRED TOLLESON. Aug 5

Violin and Guitar STRINGS!

A LARGE and choice selection of genuine, ITALIAN STRINGS—something very durable, and also desirable, for their clear sweet tone. Also, a full assortment of VIOLONCELLO STRINGS; a variety of VIOLIN BOWS, SCREWS, TAIL and FINGER BOARDS, VIOLIN BRIDGES, ROSIN, &c. Just received at E. POLLARD'S. Aug 4 mw24*

FLOUR! FLOUR!

FIFTY bags new EXTRA FAMILY FLOUR, in bags of 98 lbs. For sale by ALFRED TOLLESON. Aug 9

FLOUR! FLOUR!

FRESH-GROUND FLOUR, at wholesale and retail, at Aug 6 JOHN C. SEEGER & CO.'S.

Wheat Wanted.

WANTED, 200 or 300 bushels WHEAT, for which the highest market price will be paid. T. WIBBELT, Columbia, S. C. Aug 6*

Harvey's Rat and Mice Paste. GET RID OF THE RATS.

HARVEY'S RAT PASTE exterminates Rats, Mice, Roaches and Ants from your store-room, corn houses or cribs, your kitchens, your houses; saves you money in providing for these thieves; a sure cure for these depredators and destroyers. For sale by FISHER & HEINITSH, Aug 7 Druggists.

Local Items.

Matthew Brown, who is charged with the murder of N. Beraghi, has been granted bail by Judge Green in the sum of $10,000.

FINE GRAPES.—Mr. George Lever will please accept our thanks for a liberal supply of fine, juicy grapes—of the Madeira and Malaga varieties. Mr. Lever is a thoroughly successful tiller of the soil—his fruits and vegetables comparing favorably, we verily believe, with any that can be produced in this vicinity.

Mr. G. A. Neuffer, an old and efficient flour and grain merchant, of Charleston, has made arrangements with Messrs. Street Brothers & Co. to sell on commission all kinds of produce consigned to them. Mr. N.'s experience in the business is a sufficient guarantee that all matters entrusted to him will be faithfully attended to.

MEAD'S GRAPE CULTURE.—The full title of this new work is "An Elementary Treatise on American Grape Culture and Wine-making," by Peter B. Mead, illustrate with nearly 200 engravings drawn from nature. A handsome octavo of 483 pages, just issued by Harper & Brothers. It treats of all the facts and principles involved in grape-growing and wine-making, laying them clearly in order before the reader, and linking them together with just so much of the theory as is necessary to explain lucidly their relations to each other, and unite them in the mind of the student in one harmonious and systematic whole. The author, a practical wine-maker, claims to have given in this book a simple record of his own practice and experience, stating no fact that he had not repeatedly verified, and which may not be repeated by others with like results. His idea is, that any man with common sense can, by the aid of this book, raise good grapes and make good wine, anywhere in America, South of certain Arctic localities. He explains how to lay out vineyards; how and when to plant vines; how to train them, giving pictures of different kinds of frames, and how to trim and tend them; how to manure the different varieties; when and how to gather and preserve from decay and insects—and, in a word, all that the grape-planter need to know.

He then gives a detailed description of the different varieties of grape, from the Iona, which is the best American grape, down to the Neff—several hundred in all. He tells how to propagate the grape-vine by budding, cuttings, layers and grafting. The various tools and implements needed in the culture are described and given in pictures. Diseases and insects are discussed carefully.

The chapters upon wine-making treat of tubs, crushers, presses, casks, vats, saccharometers, thermometers, siphons, cellars and bottles; of fermentation, racking, second fermentation, sulphurizing, sediment, lees, clearing, adulterations, coloring, galling, and a lot of other things that the wine-maker must know.

Making wine, however, is not the only object in raising grapes discussed by our author; but table use of grapes is carefully treated, and the varieties best suited to this use are pointed out in the chapters on varieties.

Upon the whole, the author strongly urges upon Americans the expediency of grape culture and wine-making, both as a means of relieving the country of the spurious and adulterated wines that are now so extensively used, and as a means of realizing handsome profits.

The book is to be had in Columbia at Duffie & Chapman's bookstore. The price is $3.

Messrs. Duffie & Chapman have placed on our desk a copy of Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine for September. The fashion plates are curiosities, and of a character that they must be seen to be understood—as they are really indescribable—at least, by the uninitiated.

BASE BALL.—That this healthful and pleasing game is attracting attention here, is proved by the fact that several clubs have been organized during the past week. A meeting of the "Chicora" is called for to-morrow evening.

Mr. Sheriff Green assumed the duties of his office a few days ago. He informs us that the tax executions for the present year amount to only 291. There are about 300 executions in the office against different persons for a year or two past; but a "stay" has been placed by General Sickles on proceedings in those cases.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES THIS DAY.—Trinity Church—Rev. P. J. Shand, 10 1/2 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Presbyterian Church—Rev. W. E. Boggs, Pastor, 10 1/2 a. m. and 8 1/4 p. m. St. Peter's Church—Rev. J. J. O'Connell, 10 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Washington Street Chapel—Rev. D. J. Simmons, 10 1/2 a. m. Rev. Wm. Martin, 5 p. m.

Marion Street Church—Rev. Wm. Martin, 10 1/2 a. m. Rev. D. J. Simmons, 5 p. m.

Baptist Church—Rev. J. L. Reynolds, 10 1/2 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Lutheran Lecture Room—Rev. A. R. Rude, 10 1/2 a. m.

Christ Church Congregation—Theological Seminary Chapel—Rev. J. M. Pringle, 10 1/2 a. m.

THOMPSON, THE MARTYR.—"Palmetto," the Washington correspondent of the Charleston Mercury, writes:

I notice that certain radical papers in the North are attempting to make political capital out of the insignificant broil at Columbia, S. C., a few days ago, wherein one Thompson became involved.

I am reliably informed that the said Thompson is now under bonds in this city to appear at the next term of the Criminal Court, to answer the charge of assaulting the bar-keeper at the Metropolitan Hotel, last spring, because he wouldn't give him credit on a drink of whiskey. So much for the martyr Thompson.

JOB PRINTING.—The Job Office of the Phoenix is as complete as any in the South. It is furnished with new fonts of type of all descriptions and of the most modern styles. All work executed promptly, with taste and skill, and at reasonable rates.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Attention is called to the following advertisements, which are published this morning for the first time:

- E. E. Jackson—Reliable Lye.
- E. & G. D. Hope—Claret, &c.
- John McIntosh—House to Rent.
- Jacob Levin—Auction.
- Apply at this Office—Store Fixtures.
- D. C. Peixotto & Son—Auction.
- Thos. E. Gregg & Co.—Bonds for Sale.
- W. B. Lowrance—To Planters.
- " "—Cotton Gins, &c.
- G. A. Neuffer—Flour, Grain, &c.
- I. Sulzbacher—Ohicora Base Ball Club.
- Levin & Mikell—Auction.
- G. V. Weir—Special Order No. 15.

A fine lot of Desirable Goods have just been opened by Mr. E. C. Shiver, who still adheres to his popular principle of good articles for little money. Read his advertisement, and then examine the goods.

Charleston Advertisements.

Flour, Grain and Produce.

I HAVE made arrangements with Messrs. Street Brothers & Co. to sell, on commission, all kinds of PRODUCE consigned to them. I will devote my personal attention to the sale of the same.

With an experience of twenty years in the Flour and Grain Business, and with the advice and assistance of Messrs. Street Brothers & Co., I am confident that any business entrusted to them will prove satisfactory to those who favor the house with consignments. They will make liberal cash advances on all produce shipped to them for sale or shipment to their friends in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Baltimore. G. A. NEUFFER. Address all letters to "Street Brothers & Co., Charleston, S. C." August 11 mw2mo

Wool, Hides, Beeswax.

WE are prepared to purchase the above articles at the HIGHEST PRICES for CASH on delivery. Prices Current sent free to parties through the country.

MOSES GOLDSMITH & SON, Vendue Range, Charleston.