DUBLIN, July 4.—In the closing matches to-day, Wilson, of the Belfast Club, won the Wilkes cup. Colman and Gildersleeve, of the American team, made four bulls' eyes each; at 500 yards, in the contest for the 100 guineas cup, presented by the London Dramatic Aecies. Colman won the final shot, but the cup goes to Gildersleeve, under the rules, as Colman won the Spencer cup. A strong, irregular wind blew during the shooting, but no rain fell. There was an immense crowd present at the distribution of prizes. Several of the American riflemen dined to-day at the residence of Mr. Milnor, of the Irish team, and others at the residence of Mr. Waterhouse. The affairs were private and informal. The usual sentiments were proposed by the host, and among them the most honored "the day we celebrate." The American team have been invited to a banquet in Edinburgh, and will soon visit that city, stopping at Belfast and Glasgow on their way.

LONDON, July 5.—The Times, in a late issue, referring to Lady Franklin's critical condition, says she continues to manifest the same deep interest in all connected with the Arctic expedition, which has been the leading feature of her life. A despatch says: "I regret to hear that beyond a rally which she made on Sunday, the 27th of June, and which is still maintained, there is no material improvement in Lady Franklin's health, and that her recovery is considered hopeless."

MADRID, July 5.—General Jovellar has thrown 400 shells into Coutaveija, and he is expecting reinforcements of heavy artillery. The Carlists are unwilling to risk a second engagement, and General Dorregaray, with their main body, has withdrawn in the direction of Garubel. The Carlist committee have advised from Tolouse, July 3: Our artillery repulsed 8,000 Alfonsists, between Livina and Allo, in Navarre. A column of 14,000, with supplies for the relief of Vittoria, was defeated beyond La Puebla. Don Carlos has taken chief command of the Northern army. A general advance has been decided upon. The report of Doregreny's defeat is false. Several Alfonsist officers of the latter have joined us. The city and fortress of Nollins De Rey, nine miles from Barcelona, surrendered to the Carlists, with the garrison, cannon and munitions; prisoners, including seven superior officers.

LONDON, July 6.—200 persons were present at the banquet given by the Americans, last evening, in honor of the anniversary of the declaration of independence. Among the guests were U. S. Grant, Jr., Messrs. Hoffman and Chesborough, of the legation in London; Messrs. Woodhouse and Stevens, Hugh McCulloch, General Bradford, the American Consuls at Dundee and Southampton; H. M. Watts, Naval Constructor Barnaby, Sir Frederick Perkins and Henry Richard, member of Parliament. The Standard, of to-day, contains an exceedingly violent article against the celebration by Americans. It says none but Americans would venture upon such a display of bad taste and discourtesy as was shown in yesterday's celebration, and none but English would tolerate it. It is hardly decent for any loyal Englishman to participate in a celebration of English disasters. The American insurrection was about the most unprovoked revolution in history. In the present times, forbearance and conciliation on the English side are returned by America with insult and abuse, which is only encountered by bringing flattery, and this Dean Stanley calls reconciliation and peace-making. The Standard, in concluding its article, says: "Among Americans, there are but few not actually participating on the general system of public plunder in the country, who would not joyfully exchange their institutions for the order, honesty and loyalty of this empire, from which a century ago they made their insane revolt."

MADRID, July 6.—General Lomabas has effected a junction with Gen. Quesada.

PARIS, July 6.—The different groups of the Right met to-day, and decided against a dissolution of the Assembly in August.

Granier De Casagnac holds Gambetta responsible for insulting language used in La Republique Francaise, and demands satisfaction. Rosate, of La Presse, and Peravier, of Le Figaro, fought in Belgium. Peravier was slightly wounded in the chest and arm.

Gambetta has declined to accept Granier De Casagnac's challenge to fight a duel. He says he cannot hold himself at the disposal of the first comer among his political adversaries, as he has other duties and responsibilities to fulfill towards his party, France and the republic.

LONDON, July 6.—The festival given by the Americans at the Crystal Palace was a grand affair. The marble hall and banqueting room were magnificently decorated; thousands visited the palace during the day and evening.

Moody and Sankey go to Paris, where they will attempt to hold revival meetings.

It is denied that Moody and Sankey intend opening meetings in Paris; there is no falling off in the number of attendants at their meetings here. Large numbers of persons continue to visit the "inquiry rooms."

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The Executive Committee of the National Grange continued their session. Dr. Worrall, representing the co-operative societies of the highlands, was introduced to the committee and submitted for their consideration a proposition for fraternal co-operation between the Patrons of Husbandry and the Co-operators of England. Dr. Worrall has four associates en route, who are daily expected, to aid him in effecting his object. A sub-committee, consisting of D. T. Chase, of New Hampshire, and J. T. Jones, of Arkansas, was appointed to take the subject under consideration and report on Monday next. The committee also had under consideration the removal of the headquarters of the National Grange, but reached no conclusion. Four cities—Nashville, Louisville, Indianapolis and Cincinnati—offer special inducements. Cincinnati is especially anxious to secure the headquarters, and proposed to send a delegation of prominent citizens to Washington to confer with the Executive Committee, but the latter notified them that they must submit their propositions in writing, and that no delegation would be received. A proposition looking to the improvement of the business interest of the order was referred to a sub-committee. The sum of $500 was donated to-day to the Patrons in Colorado suffering from the ravages of the grass-hoppers.

The Executive Committee determined to send three of their members, viz: Messrs. Shankland, of Iowa, Chase, of New Hampshire, and Jones, of Arkansas, to represent the Patrons of Husbandry in the Cotton States Congress, which meets in Raleigh, N. C., on the 13th instant. The committee have spent considerable time in receiving and considering the proposition of the English co-operators for a union for commercial purposes of the two bodies. The co-operators are represented by Thomas D. Worrall, of Manchester, England, who is the managing director of the company which is proposed as the bond of union. It appears that the British co-operative societies are not a secret body, hence it will be impossible, under existing circumstances, to unite with the Patrons; but this difficulty has been met by the formation of a trading company, having the endorsement and support of the united co-operative lodges in England, and fully organized under the English laws. The propositions are to have two branches of the society, one in England and the other in the United States. The board in each country is to have absolute control of the funds subscribed, which are to be used for the purpose of international exchange of commodities. The capital is $25,000,000, and all transactions are to be cash or its equivalent. The British co-operators number 500,000 members, and have over 1,000 stores, some fifty or sixty cotton spinning mills, about twenty flouring mills, agricultural and horticultural societies, and a number of manufactures, and, of course, consume a large quantity of American products. The funds subscribed by the English branch of the company will be employed in the purchase of supplies, the erection of warehouses, and the manufacture of such articles as are in constant demand among the Patrons of Husbandry. The ships will bring goods to New Orleans or other Southern or Eastern ports if necessary, and they desire the Patrons to employ their portion of the capital in carrying the American staples and products to meet these ships, and thus to make the necessary exchange in the most direct and simple manner. The co-operators have a large surplus capital, which is constantly on the increase, and which they think can be profitably employed in this trade. While each branch of the company will have control of its own affairs, the two boards will form a council who will, by joint action, decide what branches of business will be engaged in, and define the method and conduct of the same. America will send to Liverpool to watch the interests of the Granger branch of the company, and the English board will have a like representative in New Orleans, while the general supervision will be in the hands of the managing director already elected, and who, though an Englishman born, has been twenty-three years in America. The proposition is regarded with great favor, and it is expected that the sub-committee of the National Grange, to which the whole matter has been referred, will report on Monday.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 5.—The Executive Committee of the National Grange held another meeting to-day, and adopted the report of the sub-committee, to whom had been referred the subject of international exchange between the co-operative societies of Great Britain and the Patrons of Husbandry of the United States. The report is as follows: First. That they have been impressed with the earnest desire of our subordinate Granges and members of every section of the Union for active co-operation in business enterprises, as expressed by efforts in this direction, and by appeals to this Executive Committee, for a systematic and uniform plan for such organizations and with our obligation to mature and submit such a plan for adoption. Second. That we would willingly and cordially grasp the hand offered by our brethren across the Atlantic, and pledge to them our readiness to co-operate with them in all laudable efforts to secure for productive industry its just rewards, to restore honest dealing in all commercial transactions, and to advance the moral, intellectual and material interests of the masses of the people. Third. That having examined the details of the plan of the co-operative societies of Great Britain, as presented by their deputation, to us popularly known as the Roohdale plan, and its wonderful success, we heartily recommend it to the careful consideration of our State and subordinate Granges, and to the members of our order, and advise such action on the part of the Executive Committees of the several States as may be necessary to the organization and operation of such co-operative association within our order.

Fourth. To this end, we recommend the appointment of a committee to secure from the Hon. Thomas D. Worrall, of the English deputation now present, such rules, regulations, articles of association, pamphlets and other writings, as may be deemed necessary to place the desired information in this connection before the members of our order, and that said committee be authorized to have printed so much of said information, and in such amount as they may deem advisable to be distributed to the Executive Committees of the State Granges, with circular letters communicating the action of this Executive Committee herein, and such other instructions as may be desired.

Probabilities.—For the South Atlantic and Gulf States, slight change in barometer. South-west to South-east winds, continued warm, clear or partly cloudy weather.

NEW YORK, July 5.—A Havana letter, of June 26, says: "According to official reports from Santa Clara, several forces of the battalion of Bozo, on the Liguana, surprised the encampment of Guayabo, and killed eight rebels and captured seven prisoners, on the 15th June. On the same day, a column of Catalans, in combination with a battalion of Bozo, surprised the encampment of Cecilio Gonzales, in the Lomas Devargas, and killed five insurgents. The column of Leon had an encounter with another small band of insurgents, on June 15, and killed three of their number. The insurgents, in these recent encounters, are estimated to have had seventeen killed, and lost seventy prisoners and thirty-one horses. In this Cuban affair, the horse is an important animal, and takes a prominent place in all army reports. More horses have been reported captured and killed than have ever existed on the island of Cuba."

NEW YORK, July 5.—A London letter of June 22 says as the time draws on for the departure of the Prince of Wales for India, the difficulties of the journey are more clearly appreciated. It has not yet been settled whether the Prince is to supercede the Viceroy, or to accompany him as a guest. The old Indians are very much divided on the question—some asserting that it will have a bad effect on the mind of the natives if the Queen's son plays second fiddle to the Queen's deputy, while others argue that it is of more importance that the Viceroy's dignity should be maintained at the highest point, as, after all, he is the permanent representative of Great Britain in India. The Prince's costume is another problem. A prince in a calico shooting jacket would, it is thought, not be sufficiently impressive; and though the red coat and cocked hat of an English field marshal is no doubt imposing enough, it is very fatiguing to the wearer in a hot country. It was at one time contemplated that the Princess would accompany her husband, but this idea has been abandoned, partly on account of the difficulties in regard to etiquette, and partly on economical grounds. The Government is still scheming how to get money for the expenses of the trip out of India. For some months past the Prince has been suffering from sciatica, and it is to be hoped that the Eastern climate will do him good.

NORFOLK, Va., July 6.—The steam tug Lumberman, from Fortress Monroe, while returning, last night, with a pleasure party of eighteen on board, was run into, off Sewell's Point, by the steamer Isaac Bell, and sunk immediately in fifty feet water. Bonts were lowered from the Bell and several of the survivors were picked up. The following is a list of the lost: Mrs. Elizabeth Hudgins, a widow lady, and her colored servant, Geo. Wilson, Mrs. Josie Frederica, Capt. Edward Cook, James C. Borum and Henry Borum, of Norfolk; Miss M. S. Borum, of Mathews County, and the engineer of the Lumberman. Capt. Brown, of the Lumberman, was struck on the head and severely injured by the wheel of the Bell, but he had strength to rescue his wife; he had to crawl through a window of the pilot house, to avoid being carried down by the fast sinking boat. Mrs. Brown was severely injured internally, and it is feared she will not survive. Boats were sent down to drag for the bodies.
