Farmers Attend Enthusiastic Meeting.

Orangeburg.—Orangeburg county farmers recently braved one of the hardest rain storms of the season and came to hear N. E. Winters, soil fertility specialist from Clemson college, at a meeting held at the Southern Packing corporation's plant in this city.

Other speakers were County Agent L. S. Wolfe, who told of the great advantages to be derived by the farmers in raising hogs and cattle, and Jerome M. McMichael, who has for 25 years been experimenting with the growing forage crops.

The meeting was characterized with more spirit than has ever been witnessed at a farmers' convention in this county and evidenced an intense interest in greater crop production and the raising of more and better live stock.

The farmers who attended the "big get-together" meeting have decided to put their shoulder to the wheel and make Orangeburg county the greatest producing county in the state.

An inspection of the big packing plant of the Southern Packing corporation, which will also operate the packing plants at Wilmington, N. C., and Beaufort, S. C., was made by those who attended the meeting, after which sandwiches, lemonade, ice cream, cigars, etc., were served by a committee of ladies from Orangeburg.

UNION.

With the good season we are having makes it possible for the boll weevil to appear in great quantities and they are destroying from fifty to seventy five percent of the crop and getting all of itetaoietaoiinn and plenty of late cotton. We had a very serious hail storm about ten days ago which did a great bit of damage to both cotton and corn. The hail followed the same path as it did about a year ago.

The Rev. McClest, of Orangeburg, and our pastor, Mr. Mayes, of Winnsboro have concluded the meeting at Union which I think was the best we have had in many years.

MOSSY DALE.

To the Voters of Fairfield County, Male and Female:

Inasmuch as the land is infested with oily tongued office-seekers, who would make you believe, if they are elected, that you will be forever blessed and finally go to heaven on flowery beds of ease, a little advice from a hoary-headed comrade may not be out of place, as our opportu-ity may soon be passed.

There was a time when we as voters could afford to take a warm handshake and a cold drink every two or four years for our votes, but that time has past. We must look after our own interests, and we must do so before the 29th of August. After that time we need not expect more than a passing nod of the head.

I think therefore that we should demand nothing less for our vote than a sack of flour and 8 pounds of good rib bacon. Of course the ladies could take the equivalent in face powder and chewing gum. And we should ask from every candidate that approaches us too whether he is sane
