

FROM MEXICO,

It appears by an article in the Blige of the 8th that Gen. Don Mariano Paredes, Ex-President of the Republic, died in the capital the preceding day, after a lingering illness. The editor abstains from panegyric or eulogy of the deceased General, simply stating that his character belongs to history.

A communication from the Mexican Minister of Foreign Affairs has been addressed to the British Ministry, through the Governor of Balise Honduras, complaining of the assistance afforded by that colony to the insurgent Indians. A reply has been given, in which the English Ministry asserts that in reference thereto, the colony has limited itself to the simple exercise of its undoubted rights.

Gen. La Vega has collected at Tampico 850 men, eight pieces of artillery, and armed the steamer Herrera and a sloop, to defend the river there, in order to oppose the landing at that port of Col. White's anticipated expedition. A brig with five pieces of artillery, 200 muskets, and a quantity of ammunition had been sent to Tampico from Vera Cruz. By a recent Bull issued by the Pope, Vera Cruz has been erected into a Bishopric.

The cholera is midgating its ravages throughout Mexico. Robberies seem to be less frequent in the country, and with the exception of the war in the Sierra, and the perennial outrages of the Indians on the frontier, the Republic, notwithstanding the spasmodic movements of the Santanistas, appears to be unusually free from perturbation.—N. O. Peapunc.

THE WILMOT PROVISION.

Here is strong additional evidence as to General Taylor's determination to sanction the adoption of the principle of the Wilmot Provision in California and New Mexico. The Hon. George P. Marsh, of Vermont, late Representative in Congress and recently appointed by Gen. Taylor Minister resident of the United States at Constantinople, has issued a valedictory address to his constituents, in which he makes a statement of the policy of the administration, upon the correctness of which he adds "I am content to risk whatever I may possess of reputation as a man of veracity and honor." In this he says that "neither he (the President) nor his Cabinet expect or desire the extension of slavery into California or New Mexico—but that, on the contrary, the Administration is now encouraging the formation of a new constitution in these territories, with a view to their immediate admission into the Union, and that, not with the bare expectation, but with an almost certain knowledge that their constitutions will contain absolute prohibitions of the existence of slavery in any portion of the territory lately ceded to us by Mexico.

GEN. TAYLOR AND SLAVERY.

The Butler County (Penn.) Whig, a Whig paper, states that during Gen. Taylor's recent visit to Pittsburgh, he was interrogated in regard to his views on the subject of the extension of slavery. The Whig reports the substance of the General's response as follows:

"Although a slaveholder himself, he regarded slavery as a great moral and political evil, and would be infinitely rejoiced if it were utterly extinguished. He did not believe that Congress possessed the constitutional right to interfere with slavery in the States wherein it now exists; but it had the right, and should exercise it, to prevent its extension into territory now free. Since he had left Washington, he had received a letter informing him that notice had been given to the government, that the people of California were about to form a State constitution, containing the slavery prohibition, and would apply for admission into the Union at an early day. He expressed his gratification at this, and declared that it should receive his cordial sanction, as he was utterly hostile to the introduction of slavery into the new territories."

Gen. Herrera, a chivalric Mexican, has been traveling at the north this summer with his beautiful New England wife, who was once an operative in the Lowell Mills. He is described as a tall, finely moulded specimen of the Mexico-Spanish gentleman. His mouth and chin are buried in a profuse blending of moustache and whiskers, while beneath a smooth and jetting forehead, a pair of dark and singularly winning eyes constitute the most expressive feature of his handsome face. His complexion is a deep sallow, and in repose his countenance is slightly melancholy. He is now on a visit to the native seat of his wife, that nestles like a gem in a wild and beautiful valley, lying in the shadow of the White Mountains.

Religious revivals, says the Mobile Herald, seem to be much in vogue in parts of Mississippi. At a camp-meeting held near Paulding, there have been seventy or eighty converts. As Potatoes there have been one hundred and fifty; at another meeting five miles south of that place there have been fifty; twelve miles east of it twenty-five; a large number at another place, and about one hundred and fifty at a place south of Houston.

It has leaked out from an office holder at Washington, who is an intimate associate at the White House, that next month Gen. Taylor, not satisfied with his present Cabinet, not one man of whom he had seen before their selection, means to remodel his Cabinet, and to smooth their descent by sending them off on foreign missions. This course has been warmly pressed by the New York Mirror, New York Herald, and other Taylor organs, as the only salvation of a sinking cause, and would certainly be most wise, for the Cabinet could not be worse than it is. Among other speculations as to the succession, the Louisville Democrat recommends the following:

- J. G. Bennett, of New York, Secretary of State.
- George D. Prentice, of Kentucky, Secretary of War.
- Fitz Henry Warren, Secretary of the Treasury.
- Truman Smith, Home Department.
- John Norvell, of Michigan, Secretary of the Navy.
- A. C. Bullitt, Attorney General.
- Parson Brownlow, of Tennessee, Postmaster General.

The Dead Sea Expedition.—An English periodical remarks: "Curious enough that it has been reserved for the piety of the navy, and the enterprise of America, to accomplish an object which has hitherto escaped the notice, or defied the nerve of European travellers. Lieut. Lynch is the first who ever performed the voyage from the lake of Galilee all down the Jordan into the Dead Sea, and all around that lake funeral which now covers the ancient plain of Sodom."

DREADFUL MORTALITY.—On Saturday night, week ago, as we learn from the Cireleville (Ohio) Watchman, the cholera broke out amongst the hands employed in cutting broom corn, on the farm of J. O. B. Rennie, near Lockbourn above Cireleville. There were seventy hands employed, and in thirty hours from the time of the first attack, no less than thirty of the seventy were swept into the grave. This is certainly one of the most extraordinary cases of mortality of which we have ever heard; and it is said that great consternation prevailed in that vicinity in consequence.—Kentucky Flag.

The U. S. Schooner Taney has been ordered by the Secretary of the Navy to proceed to the Coast of South America, for the purpose of testing the truth of Lieut. Maury's Wind and Current Charts. If the theory of Lieut. Maury is correct, vessels may sail in a direct line to Rio. The question to be tested is a most important one. Another object in sending the Taney to the South American Coast is to test the strength of the eddy currents and their bearing.

"'Tis drunken again, eh?" "No my love, [his] not drunk, but slippery. [his] The fact is, my dear, somebody has been rubbing the bottom of my boots, till they are as smooth as a pane of glass."

Intuitive Knowledge.—It has been remarked in Belgium, that whenever the cholera became violent in a village or town, the swallow and other birds assembled and emigrated, but that they returned on the decline of the disease. Thus it happened at Verriers, when 20 people died of the cholera per diem out of a population of 2000, that not a single swallow or singing bird was to be seen. When the cholera went away the birds returned.

THE OCOREE STATION FOR SALE.

This place, situated in Pickens District, on the Ocoree Creek, 12 miles North of Pickens C. H., and immediately on the road leading from the latter place to Clayton, Ga., contains 1000 Acres of fertile Land, which will be disposed of on terms the most advantageous to the purchaser.

As a grain and stock farm, the Ocoree possesses many peculiar advantages; its fields producing abundant crops of Corn, Wheat, Rye, Oats, and Potatoes, while the hills for miles around are covered during 9 months of the year with coats of the richest grasses.

On the premises there are all the necessary buildings for a well regulated Farm, including a two-story Brick Dwelling.

The narrative of this Station forming as it does, an important chapter in the early history of our State, is well known to every Carolinian, and it is equally celebrated for the purity of its atmosphere, the exuberance of its soil, and for the beauty and romantic wildness of its scenery.

Persons wishing further particulars will please communicate with

J. A. DOYLE,
Pickens C. H., S. C.

The South Carolinian, Pendleton Messenger, and Laurensville Herald will please give the above three insertions and forward their accounts to this office.

WAREHOUSE AND Commission Merchants.

Market-Street, HAMBURG, S. C.—WATERPROOF.
McIntosh-Street, AUGUSTA, GA.—FIREPROOF.

Take this method of informing their friends and the public generally, that they still continue the WAREHOUSE and COMMISSION BUSINESS in this place and Augusta, Ga., where they offer their services to RECEIVE, STORE OR SELL COTTON, FLOUR, WAX, &c.; RECEIVE AND FORWARD MERCHANDISE, BUY GOODS, FOR PLAINERS OR MERCHANTS.

Their Warehouse in Augusta is on McIntosh-street, in the centre of the Cotton trade.

Their Warehouse in this place is safe from water and isolated, therefore not exposed to fire.

As they will be constantly at their post, promoting the interest of their friends (which they are aware will add to their own). They solicit and hope to merit and receive a full share of that liberal patronage heretofore bestowed, and for which they now return thanks.

Liberal cash advances will be made, when required, on any produce in store.
