The Lancaster Ledger

The Agricultural Meeting.
The regular anniversary of our Agricultural Society was held at the Sketchie Hotel on Saturday, attended by a large number of persons in attendance. The meeting was of a character to be expected at such a time, and the proceedings were conducted with order and decorum. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of agriculture, and the necessity of continuing the efforts of the society in promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

Col. Allen, of the U.S. Army, visited our city last evening.

The Amherst Cranberry Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Wednesday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of the cranberry industry, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Literary Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Thursday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of literature, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The telegraph is now in full operation and is doing a very good business.

The Columbus Cricket Club, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Friday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of cricket, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Musical Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Saturday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of music, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Art Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Sunday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of art, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The telegraph is now in full operation and is doing a very good business.

The Columbus Literary Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Thursday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of literature, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Cricket Club, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Friday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of cricket, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Musical Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Saturday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of music, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Art Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Sunday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of art, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The telegraph is now in full operation and is doing a very good business.

The Columbus Literary Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Thursday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of literature, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Cricket Club, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Friday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of cricket, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Musical Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Saturday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of music, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Art Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Sunday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of art, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The telegraph is now in full operation and is doing a very good business.

The Columbus Literary Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Thursday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of literature, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Cricket Club, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Friday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of cricket, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Musical Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Saturday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of music, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Art Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Sunday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of art, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The telegraph is now in full operation and is doing a very good business.

The Columbus Literary Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Thursday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of literature, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Cricket Club, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Friday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of cricket, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Musical Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Saturday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of music, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Art Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Sunday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of art, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The telegraph is now in full operation and is doing a very good business.

The Columbus Literary Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Thursday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of literature, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Cricket Club, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Friday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of cricket, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Musical Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Saturday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of music, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.

The Columbus Art Society, under the presidency of Mr. J. H. Childs, held its annual meeting on Sunday last. The proceedings were conducted with great regularity, and the society was in a healthy state. The President, Mr. J. H. Childs, in his opening address, referred to the importance of art, and the necessity of promoting its interests. The meeting was then adjourned.

By James H. Childs, Editor.