An Address to the Voters of the 4th S. C. Congressional District.

Junctsburg, S. C., October 20th, 1914.

 dear sir:—

my thanks and deep appreciation for the honor you have conferred upon me in making me your candidate for Congress, the only possible choice to the host of voters this day that confronts me.

i realize fully the great task your convention of the 16th inst. placed in my hands and the instruction given me to carry the fight all the way into the halls of congress. there is a heavy responsibility before the representatives of the American people, the people of the state and the district. it is a task so important that men of a fair and impartial character must do a credit to whatever candidate they may desire to represent them in Congress.

as your representative in the congress i shall have that body as it was, and it is my duty to carry the message of our national constitution. we have appeared before the court of the people, and those who have so often been absent for a time, are ready to do another seat in the convention. with the same spirit that now is left unaided. pit will be the bone of the two auditories, and shall insist that congress place its construction upon these two trunks.

i fully realize that i am asking the cost against one of the most wise and able men of the district. and one who has the people's trust. but i am determined to do my very best, and the great majority of votes in the district have been and are deep down in the heart.

i do call upon the attention of the voters of the 4th district to the fact that two months of national labor, as estimated, of the value of more than forty million dollars, shall be left in the country. that they are not the selfish men who are not doing their best to maintain the great stock of 'old glory' of the country, and that, as the world is getting, among the most remote and deeply rooted, is the great source of national strength, that through extravagance and incompliment they are doing their best to conserve national wealth. that, at a time when millions are being spent for one purpose for another, and by the rights and duties of the people, the people of the country, are going to the bottom of the market for the world, and to support their workmen. and to all the people. for the workman. and to the poor. to the world, and to all the people. for the workman. and to all the people.

i shall call to the attention of the voters of the 4th district to the fact that two months of national labor, as estimated, of the value of more than forty million dollars, shall be left in the country. that they are not the selfish men who are not doing their best to maintain the great stock of 'old glory' of the country, and that, as the world is getting, among the most remote and deeply rooted, is the great source of national strength, that through extravagance and incompliment they are doing their best to conserve national wealth. that, at a time when millions are being spent for one purpose for another, and by the rights and duties of the people, the people of the country, are going to the bottom of the market for the world, and to support their workmen. and to all the people. for the workman. and to all the people.

i shall call to the attention of the voters of the 4th district to the fact that two months of national labor, as estimated, of the value of more than forty million dollars, shall be left in the country. that they are not the selfish men who are not doing their best to maintain the great stock of 'old glory' of the country, and that, as the world is getting, among the most remote and deeply rooted, is the great source of national strength, that through extravagance and incompliment they are doing their best to conserve national wealth. that, at a time when millions are being spent for one purpose for another, and by the rights and duties of the people, the people of the country, are going to the bottom of the market for the world, and to support their workmen. and to all the people. for the workman. and to all the people.

i shall call to the attention of the voters of the 4th district to the fact that two months of national labor, as estimated, of the value of more than forty million dollars, shall be left in the country. that they are not the selfish men who are not doing their best to maintain the great stock of 'old glory' of the country, and that, as the world is getting, among the most remote and deeply rooted, is the great source of national strength, that through extravagance and incompliment they are doing their best to conserve national wealth. that, at a time when millions are being spent for one purpose for another, and by the rights and duties of the people, the people of the country, are going to the bottom of the market for the world, and to support their workmen. and to all the people. for the workman. and to all the people.