Did it ever occur to you why all good business men keep a checking account with a bank? We will tell you. It enables them to keep their funds in a more secure place than the office safe. It gives them a better standing in the business world. It enables them to pay their bills by check being an undisputable receipt.

Individuals find a checking account very convenient and a source of saving. Money in one's pocket is often spent on the spur of the moment, while one is disposed to think twice before drawing on his balance in the bank. Get the Savings Habit. Lay up for a rainy day. Start a bank account with

More Wedding Bells

Word comes from St. Paul, that there last Saturday L. C. Reno and Miss Gwendolyn Mann were wedded. Bride and groom left soon after on an extended trip east, to L. C.'s Pennsylvania home and other points. Later they expect to return for the winter to Minneapolis, and in the spring they will make their home on the groom's farm near Thunderhawk.

They had started from her home, some twenty miles north of town, as it were, just for a little pleasure trip, the young man even having forgotten his coat. And on the way to town that pent up feeling that passeth understanding found its expression in the firm resolve "to get it over with;" that life apart from one another was but the shadow of the substance, nothing else would do but have the knot spliced firm and strong. Thus they called on Judge Gross about 9 p. m., Saturday, with the request to make the agony as short as possible. Nothing could have pleased Hizzonor better, but cautiously he first inquired about that license to wed. Blank amazement on their faces—didn't quite know that such a document is vital. Thus the Judge, still hoping against hope that he might gather in that delectable stipend, counseled long and seriously how that they might rush to Hettinger and see Judge Sonderall, who would doubtless be only to glad to get up in the middle of the night to issue a license to so likable a young couple as they are. But a telephone message divulged the fact, after some time of urgent parleying, that Judge Sonderall was not to be found; was probably away from his bailiwick, while frantically Cupid beat his tattoo in a pair of smitten hearts. There was nothing else to do, but wait. Meanwhile midnight had come on, and then the young people suddenly remembered that for a wedding there should be becoming attire; especially since they had now become convinced that they should take the very next train for Aberdeen, there to plight their troth. And that is where Cupid did Bill Hoisington a good turn. This worthy merchant, wife and child gone a-visiting, was reposing peacefully upon his righteous couch after a hard day's work, when suddenly the pounding at his door brought him from among the feathers. At first Bill of course thought of fire, then of burglars—and when in gentle tones he was urged to come down to the store and there sell the loving pair a trousseau, he was surely there with one eye open to the main thing, and the other glorying in the bride's charms and the golden chance of removing some of the thorns from their rough bridal path.

So, while Judge Gross failed in his part of the program, Bill "was there and over," and both join in wishing the young couple the best of marital joy.

Announcement is made of the nuptials of Mr. Murray L. Stebbins and Miss Goodmansson, both of Plum Creek valley, the wedding to take place at the Stebbins home Sept. 3d.

Strool is to have a farmers' institute Sept 21st, with Dr. H. H. Stoner and Prof. W. D. McKee, the latter, of Polo, Mo., as the main speakers on subjects close to the agricultural interests of Perkins county.

No More Sunday Mail

TO THE PUBLIC:

Under date of August 24th, a communication from C. P. Grandfield, First Assistant Postmaster General, in reference to the Post office appropriation act for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1913, contains the following, in regard to Sunday closing of post offices.

"That hereafter post offices of the first and second classes shall not be open on Sundays for the purpose of delivering mail to the general public, but the provision shall not prevent the prompt delivery of special mail."

The communication explains further, that under this law we must close the general delivery, and carrier windows, also the lock boxes and discontinue all deliveries by carrier on Sundays. It is the desire of the Department to reduce Sunday work to the minimum, so that as many of the employees as possible may enjoy a complete day of rest on Sundays.

Provision is made however, that all outgoing mail, shall be made up and dispatched without delay, consequently all dispatch mail will be handled as at present.

For the past year or two, all the larger offices have been following this plan, by special permission from the Department, and it has been found that the general public take kindly to Sunday closing, as going to the Post office for your mail on Sunday, is a habit rather than a necessity. Commencing Sunday Sept. 1st this office will be closed as per instructions.

Respectfully,
W. H. DOHERTY,
Postmaster

Will Manufacture Brick

Wednesday evening there was a gathering of parties interested in the brick industry at the commercial club rooms for the purpose of organization. This organization was promptly effected, the name of the corporation to be the Lemmon Brick and Tile Co. The following corps of officers were chosen.

President—O. S. Quammen.
Vice-Pres.—Geo. E. Lemmon.
Secretary—W. H. Doherty.
Treasurer—F. A. Finch.

The company was organized at a capital stock of $200,000, $100,000 of which is preferred, the shares being offered at par at $1.00, a share of the common stock going with each preferred stock share, with the understanding that all preferred stock is to be retired as soon as the organization is financially able.

The experiments made by Mr. Brenneck with local clays burned in a small kiln owned by Logan Berry have shown abundantly the fine quality of brick and tile goods that would result from the use of the crude materials so abundantly found here. Experiments will be continued, and in a short time it is hoped to bring out a standard sized brick to further demonstrate the splendid opportunities which the project offers the city.

Promises of stock taking are made at every hand, every one being convinced of the good the community will reap from the development of the industry here. Those who have visited Hebron and Dickinson know from personal observation what a boon the establishment of a brick manufacturing plant would confer, and as the fuel is abundant, and the quality of the clay the very best, the benefit the factory would confer on the city can hardly be overestimated. It is understood that the organization

Picnic at Barth Crossing.

The patrons of the Lemmon creamery, organized as an improvement society along lines of stock breeding, cream marketing, will give a big picnic Monday at the Barth crossing, 15 miles northwest of Lemmon, on the Coda. They assure all corners of a great big time, and invite Lemmonites to join in with them for a harvest frolic in the open. Good music has been promised, and some spellbinders will also be on hand, to make the event a pleasant one.

South Dakotans' chicken season is again a real thing, although the legislature has confined to slaughter of the innocents to a month, from September 10 to October 10. There is also a season for quail—if there are any quail—from October 1st to 10th. Ducks may be hunted from Oct. 1st to April 1st.
