LOCAL GOSSIP.

Wheat No 1 hard 70c; No 1 north-ern 68c.
 B. P. Murphy was on a visit to the cities this week.
 No service will be held in the M. E. church next Sunday.
 The ladies of the M. E. society will give an ice cream social next Thursday evening in the church.
 At the Minnesota conference held this week, Rev. A. Knebel was reappointed to the Odessa district, and R. M. Mueller to the Appleton district.
 S. F. Radcliff has purchased the old Whipple log house and two lots of A. H. Caward, which he intends to fix up for a home.
 The Presbyterian society has engaged Rev. Noyes, of Cincinnati, to fill the pulpit at this place, and hereafter there will be regular services morning and evening at this church.
 Dr. Whitford was in town the early part of the week, greeting his old friends. The doctor expects to establish an office in the city and spend a portion of his time here, while living on his farm near Hartford.

Farmers report the small grain looking better than it has for a number of years past at this season of the year. The late rains have been just the thing that was needed, and the weather throughout has been all that could be desired.

Ben Crippen's Hambletonian stallion, "Hastings" arrived this week, and horsemen generally pronounce him the finest piece of horse-flesh ever brought to this section of the country. He is a handsome animal, 5 years old, and weighing about 1,200 lbs.

Bishop Bowman, of the German Evangelical society is attending the conference at Casselton, and has been engaged to preach at the church in this place Sunday, May 20. The bishop has many admirers here who will be pleased to have an opportunity to listen to him again.

The agency for the Champion machinery has been secured by Geo Von Eschen, who will take care of it in connection with his lumber business. Geo. will handle the business in good shape and farmers can depend upon being treated fairly and courteously.

Dr. J. W. Ross, dentist, who is now located at Milbank, will be at St. Charles hotel next Thursday, May 17th, where he will be prepared to do dentistry of all kinds. The doctor uses nitrous oxide gas.

The many old friends of F. J. Monroe will perhaps be surprised to learn that Frank is now in Seattle, Wash. Ter., where he is located in the real estate business, with bright prospects. Frank is a genuine rustler and his friends here wish him success.

Mr. Charles Betcher, of Red Wing, has been in town the greater part of the week, attending to his various interests at this place. Mr. Betcher has been in delicate health for some time, and looks anything but robust. His many friends here hope that with the coming of the mild weather he may recover his lost strength and soon be himself again.

At the republican city caucus held at the office of Bennett & Eldredge, last evening, W. W. Downie was elected chairman and J. J. Stevenson, secretary. The following delegates to the county convention were chosen: F. W. Thorndike, E. M. Bennett, F. J. Hatz and J. J. Stevenson.

We have received a number of copies of the speech of Hon. C. K. Davis, delivered in the U. S. senate on the question of the division and admission of Dakota, most of which been distributed, but a few copies can be had by applying at the office. It is one of the ablest presentations of Dakota's case that has yet been made, and shows in an unanswerable manner the injustice of Congress toward the great Territory, and the utter hollow-ness and hypocrisy of the Democratic majority in their treatment of the subject.

The spring moving fever is proving contagious just at present. Mayor Bennett having taken the lead by removing to 14,765 Main street, better known as J. W. Oehler's former residence, where he can enjoy all the comforts of a life of rural simplicity, and study nature undisturbed by the clamor and bustle of the city. Even democrats believe in removals for cause, and so Postmaster Requa, expecting to improve the civil service in his household, has found it to his advantage to make a change to Rev. Ware's late residence. David Post is not a stick, and will also soon make a change to the J. R. Taylor house, which he has recently purchased, and where from the dizzy heights of that locality he can gaze on the beautiful Whetstone as it meanders through the meadow below on its peaceful journey toward the sea. Daye is inclined to be poetic, and his new home will be just the place to indulge his fancies. J. R. Taylor will move into the building of cathedral appearance not far distant. Bob intends to build a high board fence between the two places in order to keep Dave from meditating in the vicinity of his wood pile. Among others who have made a change lately are R. F. Baker who has moved into his brother's house near the woodworks, and P. Brennan, who has rented the C. L. Holmes building.
