Treasury Balances Show Low March Balance for First Time in Thirty Years.

The Treasury Department showed a decrease of about $870,000 in the total balance in all funds of the state treasury for the month of May, compared with the balance for the preceding month. The decrease in funds from April 1 to May 31, 1911, was $870,000, which will be available for the payment of the state debts and the purchase of government bonds. The decrease in amounts is due to the fact that the treasury is now on a more conservative basis, and that the state is not in need of large amounts of money at the present time.

The decrease in amounts is also due to the fact that the state is not in need of large amounts of money at the present time. The state is now on a more conservative basis, and that the state is not in need of large amounts of money at the present time.
