Come, Let Mother See!

When the child droops, won't play or is restless, pale and grumpy, look to see if the tongue is white, the breath feverish, the stomach sour. Then hurry, mother, but don't worry! Give Cascarets, the harmless candy cathartic. Children take Cascarets without coaxing—only 10 cents a box!

TO MOTHERS! Nothing else "works" the nasty bile, the sour fermentations and constipation poison so gently but so thoroughly from the little stomach, liver and bowels like harmless Cascarets. While children usually fight against laxatives and cathartics, they gladly eat a candy Cascaret. Cascarets never gripe the bowels, never sicken, never disappoint the worried mother. Each 10 cent box of Cascarets contains directions for dose for children aged one year old and upwards.

A Cash Store and Why

When we opened this big store our one big aim was to intelligently and satisfactorily fill our customer's needs at the lowest possible cost. We realized from the first that the greatest factor in accomplishing this would be a cash business. We opened on a cash basis and the fact that our business has grown steadily and consistently is proof of the soundness of our policy.

EEE Shoe Co.

39 SOUTH MAIN ST. The $10,000 Prize Novel EMBERS. The Brooklyn Eagle says of EMBERS: "An unusually fine piece of work. It only once or twice in a generation that the reading public is favored with such a novel, one that is so gripping, so stirring, so striking and easily recognized as a masterpiece in real life, unusually close to all readers in style, strong and clear in its socio-religious criticism, and profound and daring in its message."

Orpheum.

Paraphrasing some are born in vaudeville, some acquire vaudeville and some have vaudeville thrust upon them. The latter is the case of the Orpheum, which is now in the hands of Misses Campbell, Honey and George. Two sweet sisters who are delighting the Memphis audience with their Orpheumettes this week. In the beginning the Misses Campbell were two Washington society girls, reared in the lap of luxury, so to speak; girls whose every wish was fulfilled so far as the power of money was concerned. In the capital they were among the most popular of the younger set because of their charming personality and accomplishments. Their friends delighted in being entertained by them. Their home was a center where Washington's best were wont to gather. And then the great World War broke. The Campbell fortune was swept away and the Misses Campbell were faced with the reality of having to earn their own living.

Loew's Lyceum.

"Little Women," a picturization in elaborate form of Louisa M. Alcott's famous story of four types of real girlhood will be one of the several attractions offered on the new bill, which moves into Loew's Lyceum Thursday afternoon for the remainder of the week. In the picturization of Miss Alcott's famous story, all the original scenes described by the author, including the Alcott homestead and the home of Ralph Waldo Emerson. Two big features will top the vaudeville portion of the bill, these including Grace Carlisle and Jules Romer in an artistic revue of musical selections and songs, and Eddie Ross, the rooster-faced comedian, late of Nell O'Brien's minstrels. Others on the bill will include Marie Wald and Irving Edwards in musical comedy bits and the Hill-Ackerman team of comedy acrobats.

MURFREESBORO AGAINST COOKEVILLE GRAB

The Murfreesboro board of trade has joined the Memphis Chamber of Commerce and the officials of the West Tennessee Normal school in their protest against the measure introduced in the general assembly proposing a redistributing on a percentage basis of the gross school revenues of the state. The new protest is in behalf of the normal school situated at Murfreesboro, which would suffer, with the other normal schools, a heavy loss in revenues by the redistributing bill, which would have the effect of reducing the apportionment to normal schools from 13 per cent to 10 per cent of school revenues. The normal school at Murfreesboro is the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute at Cookeville, the little school with the big name.

LABOR SUPPLY AND DEMAND BALANCE

Generally healthy labor conditions in Tennessee are shown in the report of Dr. J. T. Ware, federal director of employment in the state, for the week ended Feb. 15. Supply and demand are nearly equally balanced through the state as a whole, but with slight surplus in Nashville and Memphis. Dr. Ware's summary shows that 2,096 persons, including male civilians, registered in the state for the week ending at the 12 offices of the United States employment service in Tennessee; 1,852 openings, which would suffer, with the other normal schools, a heavy loss in revenues by the redistributing bill, which would have the effect of reducing the apportionment to normal schools from 13 per cent to 10 per cent of school revenues. The normal school at Murfreesboro is the Tennessee Polytechnic Institute at Cookeville, the little school with the big name.
