Weather, Rivers and Business.

Yesterday was cool and pleasant, with breezes and clouds welcomed by all who had to stroll about the levee. The river is rising at this point, with nine feet to Cairo, and thence good boating to St. Louis. Business on the levee yesterday was moderate, their being four arrivals and eight departures.

News Drift.

The John Kyle leaves St. Louis for New Orleans to-morrow.....The damages to the Alex. Mitchell by the storm on Magouketa slough, above Dubuque, recently, amounted to two thousand dollars.....At Vicksburg the river continues to fall a foot and a half a day..... The Susie Silver lost six hours recently at Devil's island, and damaged a spar in shoving off.....A pleasure-boat is building at a Vicksburg saw-mill. Her dimensions are as follows: Forty feet long, nine feet beam, one foot guards, hold three feet, cylinder six inches in bore and twelve-inch stroke, wheel five feet in diameter, eight feet long and four flues. The builders are D. Breen, Wm. Hagan, John Breaux, P. Long, C. Davis and N. Palmer.....The father of Captain Duff Green, a well-known river man of Vicksburg, died recently at Pass Christian, Mississippi.....An idiosyncratic river reporter in Vicksburg clamors, like a child crying for molasses, to have a packet between that village and Natchez.....The Lizzie, a small boat of one hundred and fifty tons, plying in Sunflower river last season, brought open order for purchases to Vicksburg amounting to twenty-eight thousand six hundred dollars. Her wharfage amounts to five hundred and twenty dollars per annum.. Wharfage should be reduced. .....Snags abound between here and Helena.....The Paragon, with three hundred tons, is due to-day for St. Louis.....The Quickstep left Augusta for this city at one o'clock yesterday..... Captain Hicks left yesterday for St. Louis to bring out the Belle Lee, which steamer will make semi-monthly trips between the above city and New Orleans until the opening of the cotton season, when she will run from here south.....The popular and fleet Quickstep will remain in the White river trade for the season. Attention is called to the advertisement in another column.....The damage suit of Sam Buhrman having been compromised, the Clarksville has been released, and will leave for Arkansas river Saturday.

Clippings.

The New Orleans Bulletin, of the fourteenth instant, says: "The prospect of low water in Red and Ouachita rivers has created quite a flutter among the low-water crafts, and the busy notes of preparation are heard on board of many of the light-draught packets now lying idle at Algiers..... We hear rumors that our steamboatmen will, in a short time, make a solid move in regard to the present exorbitant wharfage dues now exacted from them. Cannot our city fathers be as reasonable as those of other cities on the Mississippi river and its tributaries? We shall see.....The remains of Captain J. J. Labarthe were followed to the grave last evening by a large number of sorrowing friends and relatives. Captain Labarthe commenced steamboating between this city and Bayou Teche in 1836, when he was commander of the Belle Isle; after she was burned he commanded the Anna, Anna No. 2, Flora, Sarah Gordon, A. W. Van Lear, and, last of all, the Ceres. He was seventy-five years of age." .....The Vicksburger, of Vicksburg, says that Colonel Pitman has been employed by the steamer Susie Silver to defend her in the infamous suit instituted against her by the deputy wharfmaster. This case arose out of the Silver carrying this negro up to White river some time since; he having remained aboard until after the boat had backed out. For this free ride the negro claims ten thousand dollars, and the boat thinks he owes his passage, as there was no earthly necessity for his remaining aboard."..... Josh Billings speaks as follows of the "majestic stream:" "I konsider it mi duty to state, as a reliable skribbler for the fearless and independent press, that the Ohio river iz the most unsartain brook laid down on the maps, as far as water is concerned, for it is dry six months in the year, frose over the other six months, and the balance ov the time haz the most watter in it than the average inhabitant knows what to do with."..... The St. Louis Times, June 14th, in speaking of Commodore Rollingpin's Log, dedicated to Captain John A. Scudder, of that city, says: "This is a book containing two hundred and fifty pages, made up of humorous stories and poems founded on western character, most of them relating to actual incidents witnessed by the author in a long experience of steamboat life. 'Royalty on the Mississippi' is the longest of the yarns spun by the commodore, and recounts the ludicrous incidents of the trip of Grand Duke Alexis from St. Louis down the Mississippi river in 1872, from which, it will be remembered, all reporters were excluded, Rollingpin shipping as pastry cook, and taking his notes while Alexis was eating his pies and cakes, elaborated them while the royal passenger and his attendant guards were asleep"..... The St. Louis Democrat, June 15th, says: "It has been stated that the Jay Gees Howard has withdrawn from the consolidated line, and that the City of Alton will henceforth make fourteen-day trips in the New Orleans trade. We are not yet informed that the Republic contemplates any change. Article five of the agreement of the consolidated line says: 'The representative of any boat, party to this agreement, shall have the privilege of withdrawing such boat from this agreement by giving thirty days notice * * * in writing, * * * and shall forfeit any interest that she may have with contingent fund'..... The same paper remarks: "The owners of lumber on Black river, a tributary of the upper Mississippi, were made glad last week by being let out to the father of waters. Black river has been entirely closed up for nearly a year past, by an over-abundance of logs, filling the river for several miles. Nearly fifty million feet of lumber have been shut in from the market, and much of it is ruined by the log-jam, and some of its owners bankrupted."..... A recent number of the St. Joseph Gazette has a column and a diagram describing the inroads of the Missouri river. The Gazette thinks St. Joseph in danger of toppling into the aggressive river, as the banks are slipping in by the acre..... A St. Louis exchange says: "We find, in further conversation with Captain James McCord, that the steamer Illinois on her first trip from St. Louis to New Orleans, passed, on her way down, the United States steamer—iron bark—"Alleghany" above Bunch's bend cut off. How few now recollect that an iron bark was built at Pittsburg in 1847; went down the Ohio river and went out on the wide, wide ocean; was heard of afterward; safe arrivalsomewhere; nothing further heard of her, as far as we know.

FINANCE AND TRADE,

THE FINANCIAL CONDITION is apparently, like Peter's church, founded on a rock, for it does not change an atom—ditto is written in ineffaceable letters on the wide horizon of Madison street. Exchange was scarcer again yesterday, except at one bank, and there, up to noon, $30,000 was taken. Rates remained as before, buying at par on New York and Boston, and at ¼ discount on New Orleans. Gold brought 110 at the brokers. Fourteen hundred dollars in State comptroller's warrants sold at 97. Ten shares Washington insurance were offering at 20, and twenty-five shares of Phœnix insurance at 29. The Phœnix, by the way, is preparing to move into the premises lately occupied by the Jackson Insurance, which are now being put into the best trim for the reception of the people of the eternal bird. It is said that "a big thing" in gas stock was at its consummation yesterday, and that the rate of purchase will put at rest, what has been of late a mixed question, the market value of gas stock. There is nothing doing in city bonds; Leftwich bonds and Nicolson scrip have no quotation price that we can discover. Shelby county scrip is very quiet at 78@83. Charleston railroad stocks, we hear nothing in addition to our last report. Tennessee new issue is stagnant and unchanged; comptroller's warrants are rarely seen, broker's give 1c better.

THE inquiry for cotton yesterday was, as on the previous day, quiet. Buyers show a good deal of indifference; sellers, who were mostly speculators, manifested anxiety. They are "in," and they want to get out, with a margin if they can, but to get out "anyhow." Their situation the French call sauve qui peut, the English, less politely, of course, "the devil take the hindmost." Such a situation is not advantageous for cotton, and accordingly there was a decline in some of the markets, among which were Memphis, ⅛c lower; New York ⅛c lower; Liverpool 1-16d lower. In answer to our inquiries, the following prices were reported: Good ordinary at 14¾@15c; strict good ordinary, 15¼@15½c; low middling 16c; strict low middling, 16¼c; middling, 17c. New York telegraphed market quiet at 17⅛c; New Orleans inanimate and weak at 17⅛c; Liverpool dull and easier at 8¾d; sales, 10,000 bales. The quotations elsewhere were: Savannah, 16⅛c; Mobile, 16⅛c; Charleston, 17c; Galveston, 17⅛c; Memphis, 17c. The Memphis quotations for the day, as arranged by the Cotton Exchange, were as follows:

Ordinary	12@12½
Good Ordinary	15@15½
Low Middling	16½@
Middling	17
Strict Middling	17@

Market weak, easy, and unchanged. Sales, 400 bales. Received at all ports during four days, 6246 bales; same time last week, 7194 bales; same time last year, 11,674 bales.

The New York Bulletin, June 13th, reports: "There was still a very dull state of affairs in the market on the spot, and prices were again reduced ⅛c. The depression is caused by the weakness in Liverpool, and exporters and spinners limit their purchases to small quantities. For future delivery there was a decided break in prices, which declined ⅛@¼c. At the lower prices there was a fair business."

Freights on cotton to eastern points have advanced on rail, as follows:

	All Rail.	River & Rail
To Baltimore	87	65
To Philadelphia	87	65
To New York	92	75
To Boston	93	83
To Providence	98	90
To Fall River	98	88
To Lawrence	98	87
To Lowell	93	85

Rates to Liverpool are 60d all rail and steam, and 57½d rail and river and steam.

To New Orleans the rate, all rail, is $1 25 per bale; per steamer, $1; barges to New Orleans 25c less.

To Liverpool via New Orleans the rate is ——, sail, and —— steam.

THE GENERAL MARKET was quiet, as usual, and without any special feature. Corn sold a cent higher, 81c for yellow; some white on orders brought 87c. Oats were inquired for with none on the market; in store 60@62c. Bran is also in some slight request with none offering; in store $19@20. Potatoes were in very small offering, shippers paying $4@4 50 for choice up to $5. Eggs were weaker, selling at 14@15c, principally the former. Chickens were in but poor request, even for young, and prices were hardly as good as the previous day. Turkeys were offering but there was no demand for them. In the hog product we have nothing new to note. We copy the following from the American Grocer, June 13: "The coffee market was decidedly active early in the week and prices advanced. Several causes have operated to bring this about, viz: Light daily receipts at Rio, as the bulk of the old crop is thought to be pretty much sent in, and, consequently decreasing stocks there; that there is now only very little Rio afloat; advices from Europe showing a large distribution and decreasing stocks there; light supplies in dealers hands here. These, with the firmness of holders and the indisposition to offer stocks at the late range of prices, and the appearance of a large number of buyers in the market to replenish, has resulted in an advance of 1 to 1½, gold. Whether this advance will be long sustained it will be difficult to say. The stocks are in very strong hands, and the new crop, although a large one, will not arrive in any quantity before September. Last week the sugar market closed active and higher for both raw and refined. This week the receipts of raw have been very heavy, and increased the stock to a point largely in excess of former years. This has had a depressing influence on the market, and quotations are entirely nominal. The receipts of boiling grades of molasses continue coming direct to the refiners, and a large proportion of the balance is sold before arrival. Therefore, there is a very light stock, and prices close firm and 1c higher. Grocery grades of foreign are unchanged. The demand is steady but moderate, and stocks are still light, notwithstanding the late additions. Domestic remains quiet, but very firmly held. The stock of choice is concentrated in few hands and held for higher prices. There seems to be a feeling that prices of syrups have touched bottom. The distributive demand continues only moderate, and sales to dealers have not been large, but in a speculative way there have been very heavy sales, comprising over 7,000 barrels, clearing the stocks here and some and some considerable contracts during the summer months. About one-thirds were taken here, and the balance goes to Baltimore and Philadelphia. Higher prices will probably soon prevail."

Quotations are for round lots, unless otherwise expressed; and for feed and produce, levee rates. For small purchases and orders, rates are proportionately higher.

Ask Them?

An advertisement of a medicine, however candid and conscientious it may be, does not always carry conviction with it. The public know to their sorrow that the boastful claims put forth in behalf of many so-called remedies are literally "a delusion and a snare." Probably the best use, therefore, that can be made of the space devoted to this notice of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is to invite those who read it to inquire of the parties that have tested the curative and preventive properties of the article they think of. We earnestly request all doubters to ascertain from such of their friends and neighbors as have taken this standard tonic and alterative as a protection against malarious diseases, or as a cure for indigestion, liver complaint, constipation, rheumatism, nervous debility, headache, low spirits, languor, biliousness, etc., what Hostetter's Bitters has done for them. There is no testimony so trustworthy as that which is the result of personal experience.
