OUT OF TOWN NOTES

CLARKSVILLE NOTES.

Articles in newspapers published at Nashville, with headlines "Tennessee Going Dry," were read last week by the citizens of this place with equanimity. Clarksville's dryness is made moist many a time a day through the agency of railroads and express companies, and no doubt the same condition will be noticeable after the state-wide legislation is in effect.

A few nights ago several persons of pronounced prohibition tendencies were on their way home, and like most men will do, began to chant melodious strains to the retiring moon, while that benign orb winked the other eye. This was the lay: "As long as the Kongo flows to the sea, As long as the leaves grow on the bamboo tree, Our love and devotion Will not cause commotion, Just so long as Kentucky Is some ten miles from thee."

City of Clarksville is in the market to sell some $31,000 4-1/2 per cent bonds, known as the Water Works Refunding Bonds, in order to liquidate outstanding bonded debts due February 1, 1909. If the city can dispose of these securities at a premium, it will be a master stroke of financial diplomacy, while business both large and small are still feeling the pinch of the recent panic. It is to be hoped that the advertised sale will be a forecast of returning prosperity to this community.

From every part of the city members of the Twentieth Century Lodge K. of P., were seen wending their way toward the Castle Hall last Tuesday night to witness the twelfth semi-annual installation ceremonies and to participate in the social side of the affair in shape of a banquet to the outgoing and incoming administrations. Ritualistic rites and installation services were said by Deputy Grand Chancellor Dr. C. A. Kelly, while the banquet proper was under direct supervision of Mr. Chas. Cobb. Informal remarks were made by members and visitors. The following officers were installed: Knight Josh Quarles, C. C.; Knight W. P. Irvine, V. C.; Knight P. J. Coleman, M. W.; Knight Chas. Hudson, Prelate; Knight Benj. Blakely, M. A.; Knight E. D. Roberts, K. R. and S.; Knight E. S. Randals, M. F.; Knight N. R. Kimbrough, M. E.; Knight Andrew Wilcox, I. G.; Knight Joe Cross, O. G.

Never has Clarksville society entered upon a season's activity with such scant enthusiasm than has characterized the preliminaries to the 1909-10 season. Dullness of times, tobacco situation and state-wide agitation may in part be due to the same beginning. While arrangements for a few coming events have been made, nothing of an elaborate measure is noted.

The wedding of Charles Warfield and Miss Mary Harris last Wednesday at the home of the bride was quite an auspicious opening for the social season, and marked a pretty home affair. The ceremony was said by the Rev. Mr. Seymour, pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist Church.

Guthrie, Ky., Clarksville's next door neighbor, will in the near future vote whether saloons will be licensed or not. The election will have an interesting bearing upon Clarksville and the state of Tennessee, if the prohibitionists fail to carry the day.

The Home Infirmary, under the direct supervision of Miss Bessie Patton, has been able to restore several persons to normal health. The infirmary is quite an addition to Clarksville and sneaks well for the management. The physician in charge has the hearty support of all the professional men and women of the city.

The friends of Dr. C. A. Kelly will be glad to know that he is able to be out again and resume his practice after several weeks' illness. Mr. Henry Randals spent several days in Nashville last week and was present at the reception, given at Fisk in honor of the Governor and members of the Legislature.

Mr. Willie Clemens, for several years a teacher in the city schools, has resigned and left for Nashville last Friday evening.

Last Monday evening at St. Peter's Church Iconoclastic League was organized. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. C. H. Boone; Secretary, H. R. Merry; Treasurer, Miss Carrie Ballard; Vice President, Dr. Robt. T. Burt. The committee on program was as follows: Dr. S. Jefferson, Chairman; as associates: Misses Metcalfe, Firse, Shelton and Dixon. The membership of the league is about thirty and it is the intention to study parliamentary laws, current events, as well as act as aid to the various departments of the church.

Dr. E. S. Randals spent several days in Nashville this week. Mrs. Louise Hunt, a very prominent member of the C. M. E. Church, and one who is loved by all who know her, went to the Home Infirmary and had a very serious operation last week. She is recovering very rapidly. The Twentieth Century Concert Band gave an entertainment at Buck's Hall last Monday night.

Mrs. Porter was a member of the M. E. Church of this place, where her funeral was largely attended on Wednesday, Revs. S. F. Hartsfield and U. S. G. Brown officiating. Miss Florence Pettis, who has been suffering from chills and tonsillitis for a few days, is able to be up again. Quite a surprise swept over this community especially at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Pettis, when the news of the arrival of their son, Mr. Wm. H. Pettis, of Louisville, Ky., was broken. He came home for the purpose of spending a few days on a hunting trip. He arrived last Tuesday evening and remained until Sunday night, returning to his home in Louisville.

On Saturday night, January 23, Mrs. Armina Shute entertained at a star social a limited number of friends in honor of her brother, Mr. Wm. H. Pettis, of Louisville, Ky. The house was decorated with potted flowers, such as ferns, geraniums, etc. Games were indulged in until a late hour when the guests were invited to the dining room, where the bright polished table heavily draped in linen and silver and cut glass presented a beautiful appearance. It had for a center decoration a pretty hand-embroidered piece of red roses. The following were present: Mr. Wm. H. Pettis, Mr. John Vinson, Mr. Naval Vinson, Mr. Thos. Webb, Mr. George Phillips, Mr. Ed Vatemann, Mr. Frank Pettis, Mr. Robert Love, Mr. George Pettis, Mr. John Vick, Mr. Wallace Goodrich, Mr. Geo.
