Miss Anna Louise Hunter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hunter, of 1309 Hynes street, was here for several weeks. She recently finished from the nurse training course at the Provident Hospital, of Chicago, with high honors. She is a sister to Dr. Cheatham Hunter. Miss Hunter has been the recipient of much social attention during her short stay in this her old home.

PUBLISHING HOUSE NIGHT. (Continued from Page 1.) Stenographic Department—Miss Eleanor Elfreda Battle. Duet and Chorus, "Lead Me Gently Home," Misses Mary L. Clark and Mayme Brooks. Bookkeeping Department—Miss Elizabeth T. Matlock. Original Poem—Mr. Dan Hackley Winston. Editorial Department—Miss Louretha Ursa Chambers. Quartette, "Draw Near, O Christ, to Me," Misses M. A. Dunson, Jennie P. Dunson, Messrs. Evans Tyree, J. B. Boyd. Composing Department—Mr. Evans Tyree. Duet, "Just as I Am," Mrs. Nellie E. Dunlap and Miss Georgia L. Hadley. Press Department—Mr. J. Blaine Boyd. Bindery Department—Mr. L. S. Gray. Mailing Department—Mr. John Ridley. Closing Chorus, "Princes, Awake!" At the close of the last piece, Dr. Hearst, of Kansas City, Mo., rose and admonished that he be heard, although he was not on the program. He said, "Mr. Master of Ceremonies, Drs. Boyd, Clark and others, you have kept the best until the last and I declare unto you to-night that such an array of skilled employees in a religious plant is the greatest argument that can be produced that we are working for God and humanity and although I have been interested in the Publishing House, I shall go back West and tell the people at home what you are doing here and thus spread the news in a way I am sure will do good."

After some announcements with respect to the trolley ride that had been made in the afternoon taking in the entire city, the party consisting of three cars, the audience was dismissed by Rev. Wm. Beckham. A large portion of the audience was made up of visitors to the city who would not miss the program.

NATIONAL THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY. New life has been injected into the educational feature of the National Baptist Convention. According to statements heard after the Educational Board meeting, which was called here by Rev. T. J. Searcy, Chairman of the Board, who has shown his determination to get results, this department of the Convention, whose main object seems to be the opening of the Theological Seminary, will really result in the end sought. The Board was called to meet in connection with the Sunday-School Congress. In response to the call of Dr. T. J. Searcy, of Memphis, states were represented at this meeting which have not usually represented even at the annual meetings. This is attributed to the interest Dr. Searcy has taken in the management of the board. It will be remembered that when Dr. Klugh, the last secretary, whose resignation was accepted at this meeting, attempted to move the headquarters from Nashville a strong protest was made, but Dr. Searcy took the matter up with the board and together with the state agitation and the pressure brought to bear by Nashville people, headquarters will remain in this city. This alone is not responsible for the outlook, it is the election of Rev. A. N. McEwen, of Mobile, Ala., whose work as an organizer and builder stands out for itself. Then, too, it was learned that the board members have pledged their various districts to educational work and with the plan on foot one thousand dollars will be raised before the meeting of the annual convention in September and this long-talked-of Theological Seminary will materialize and Nashville will be the prouder as well as the possessor of another educational institution. Dr. McEwen is known to most of the Tennessee people. In fact and reality, his membership has been with the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, of this city, for more than thirty years, thus he has never been entirely out loose from Nashville's religious forces. He also spent a few years at Tullahoma. His election as Educational Secretary with his known ability as a financier, a ready speaker with wit and tact, if properly supported, is calculated to help the school, and, according to the good Baptist brethren who were in Nashville last week, will succeed in getting the fifteen thousand dollars promised by the Home Mission Society, of New York, which is regarded as only a part of what they will do for the national work. The location of the school, so far as the national phase is concerned, is already a matter of record and Nashville was selected. Now it develops that the buildings and grounds will possibly be on the Eastside, but none of this could be brought out, as no one of the Educational Board members would talk, and Dr. Searcy could not be cornered to give a definite reply. The headquarters of the Educational Secretary will be in this city not only in name, but it is understood that Dr.

McEwen has only asked the Board for sufficient time to properly arrange his business and resign his Mobile church so that he can open his office in this city.

MAKES PROGRAM FOR ANNUAL CONVENTION. At the meeting of the Executive Board of the National Baptist Convention, which convened in this city last week, and which was called to order by Rev. E. C. Morris, D. D., president of the said convention, it is understood that the program was made for the annual session of the convention, which is to be held in Columbus, Ohio, in the month of September. Nothing concerning the program or who will appear thereon could be obtained, as, according to Secretary Hudson's statement, it is contrary to the rules to give out any definite information, and yet it is rumored that such notable speakers as Dr. B. T. Washington and President Taft would be notified that they were expected to speak to the Convention. The regular custom in making these programs seems to have been carried out. The program will provide for a time in which each of the seven boards will be allowed an opportunity to make their reports and, as usual, some able divine will deliver the annual sermon for the various boards, but who they are could not be given out nor could any other definite information relative to the real program as it will be carried out during the meeting be obtained. The attendance was unusually large at this meeting, as it is said that it exceeded that of last year. It is argued that this was occasioned by inducements offered in calling the meeting in connection with the Sunday-School Congress. It was apparent that this enabled the Executive Board members to finish their deliberations and then take part in the Congress proceedings. President Morris before leaving expressed his satisfaction at the outcome of the meeting and seemed to have been well pleased with the splendid program that the committee had arranged. He and part of the Arkansas delegation left Thursday, as their State Convention convenes on the 22nd.

WOMEN'S TRAINING SCHOOL. The trustees of the National Training School in conference meeting trust another honor upon Miss N. H. Burroughs, of Louisville, Ky. She was unanimously elected President of the National Women's Training School, located at Washington, D. C. In the Board meeting which was held in the Sunday-school room of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church this action was taken. It was the unanimous consent of twenty-five states represented in the meeting. Using the remark of Mrs. Peyton, Vice President from the state of Illinois, who presided: "They made the wisest selection, as Miss Burroughs is not only an organizer, but has the educational ability." Other work of the Women's Board, whose deliberations consumed the better part of the day last Thursday, was the selecting of a committee to go to Washington and formally lock over and lay the plans that will be needed in the operation of the Training School and the adoption of a course of study and a catalogue for the school. Not in the history of the Women's Auxiliary Convention, it is said, has such a representation from all the states met any special call of the board as did on this occasion. Special rates on account of the Sunday-School Congress meeting were given enabling this large attendance. They plan to open school in October.

PHYLLIS WHEATLEY CLUB. Keg-breaking and closing meeting for this season of the Phyllis Wheatley Club will be held Thursday, June 24, at 707 Lea avenue, with Mrs. G. L.

Jackson. All the members of the club are urged to attend this meeting and to bring in all the kegs. These kegs have been given to the members in the interest of the home that we are struggling to purchase. It is hoped that a sufficient amount of money will be raised to warrant the first payment. The home will be for old ladies and orphans. There will be an interesting program rendered. Some good speeches and good music will be given. The ladies of the club who have not as yet entertained will combine and furnish refreshments for this meeting. Mrs. S. V. Lofton is chairman on this side and Mrs. Fulton Stockell on the East side. The ladies of the club are inviting their husbands and all persons interested in the work of lifting as we climb and in the purchase of this home. We hope to make this meeting a great success.
