NOW IS THE TIME.

Negroes are no longer considered slow in foot ball. They are playing on some of the best teams in the country and are all making good. There can be no doubt that the time is ripe for them to take their place in football history. The globe is trying to print everything that pertains to football where the Negro boys are concerned and we are very appreciative of what our friends are doing for us.

MR. J. BLAINE BOYD,
President National Athletic Association.

For a number of years Mr. Boyd has been writing the sporting news of the Nashville Globe and several other Negro publications and has for some years been considered a top-notch in his profession. His writings are all clear and full of life. It has been the one dream of his life to be able to cope with the best pen-pushers of the sporting world. It was Mr. Boyd who sent out such glowing accounts of the Jack Johnson-James Jeffries fight in Reno and since then his name has been upon the tongues of thousands of the sporting world. He is the first Negro sporting editor to ever get out a special football extra, coming fresh from the press the same hour in which the game was played. How well he has done the work, we will leave to the readers of this paper to say.

Mr. Boyd during his school days was a great athlete at Virginia University, Lynchburg, Va., being a star end on the football team for four years, also pitcher and outfielder on the baseball team, and also a member of the track team. Aside from his writings, Mr. Boyd is foreman of the pressroom at the National Baptist Publishing House, the largest Negro printing house in the world. He is the first Negro in the country to handle a Scott's Rotary Printing Press. He has seven big printing presses under his personal control and has yet to find the machine he cannot handle.

Mr. Boyd is a product of San Antonio, Texas, a married man with a large family.

MR. LOUIS K. THOMAS,
Treasurer National Athletic Association.

It was the brain work of Mr. Louis K. Thomas that first put on foot the National Athletic Association in Nashville. He has always been a close observer along all sporting lines and is one of the fastest thinkers in that particular field. Mr. Thomas handles all the money of the Association and is a business man from the word go. It was his fine work and fast composition that has enabled us to get out the Football Special.

Mr. Thomas is at present foreman of the composing room at the National Baptist Publishing House. He is in charge of all the linotype machines at the plant and is always there with the goods. Mr. Thomas is also a poultry man and his chickens have won a number of prizes at different fairs.
