Manners in Public.

It is too often the case that people in public places forget how to deport themselves. The Globe does not claim to be an authority on manners, but it will not be out of place to call attention to the matter in a general way. Young people as a rule are given to much levity, and it lingers into old age if the child is not properly trained, and when they should be calm and sober, they find themselves given over to senseless glib and vulgar conversation. It is too common a thing to hear young people using language in public places that is unbecoming.

Recently in a store where several boys had gathered who were of that age that talking, giggling, laughing and scuffling are as much of their being as is the seek on their bones. Several of these youngsters were assembled, enjoying themselves as is the custom with boys. It was about all one could hear to listen to these youngsters, but while they were having their frolic a young man, well on to his majority, in speaking to a lady in the presence of these boys used language like this: "Ah! come on, nigger, don't give me none of that; I won't stand for it." It was horrifying, and yet the young man meant no harm or disrespect for the lady; it was simply a case of thoughtlessness; where a young man of good breeding had allowed himself to forget his training; who had drifted into the habit of talking with an unguarded tongue.

Too much attention cannot be given to the training of the young. Parents should not turn their children out to run at will; for they go wherever their minds lead them or wherever they are attracted. They come in contact more often with the bad and vicious than with the good, and in most cases they take to the bad. As a result they pick up, here and there language that would make the oldest person blush, and that when used by children, shocks the most debased and corrupt people. No one likes a saucy child; no one can tolerate a child that uses vulgar language, therefore parents would do well to pay more attention to their children. They should instruct them how to deport themselves abroad as well as at home, and see to it that they use decent language, and remember that they must be corrected every day by precept and example.

The True Reformers won a point recently in the courts and were thereby able to stave off what is feared will be the inevitable. The people of this country are hoping that this grand old organization will eventually settle all her troubles in an honorable, straightforward, business-like way.

Emancipation Semi-Centennial.

News has reached this city that a bill has passed the United States Senate appropriating $250,000 to aid in the celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the Emancipation of the American slaves. The bill is now up to the Lower House, and it is believed it will pass this branch of Congress without much opposition. The Senate is strongly Republican and would naturally be looking to economy at this time, being as it is on the eve of a presidential election. They have passed the bill and it is expected that the Lower House will concur in their action, being as they are majority Democratic and from the section of the country where the exposition would most likely be held.

Every Negro in the country should see to it that his Congressman is urged to support this bill. The nation owes it to the Negro, and the ex-slaves and their children have made such progress as to deserve this much aid in an effort to show to the world what they have accomplished in fifty years.

The Negro Press.

The Negro press of this country is as far apart as individual men. First of all they have no understanding. One never knows what the other is going to do about a certain thing, and as a rule they are always fighting single-handed. If two papers agree on one thing it is by mere accident, and as a consequence the effective service that might be done through organization and understanding all goes to naught. The press is continually hounding the people about getting together, but it is like a blind man trying to lead a blind man, for the press is further apart than the people. It is a shortcoming on the part of the press that should be overcome, and must be before it can wield the influence it should.

Aside from the Western Association of Negro papers there is no organization that we know of that is doing anything toward working concertedly for the welfare of the people. There have been instances in which the press got together. These were cases where the facts were so plain that no one could err. In such cases the results have always been marvelous; but where one of these accidents happen it is possible for untold good to be done if the press would get together, have an understanding and work in unison.

Parks in Nashville.

Negroes in Nashville will soon be in a position to boast of their parks as much as they do of their schools. With Greenwood Park on the south, and the City Park on the north, and with Limer's Park on the east side, it seems that every Negro in the city can have a chance to get a whiff of fresh air during the hot summer days. Last year there was a park conducted on the north side by a white company for Negroes, but this park, lastly known as "Coney Island," has been endeavoring annually to pass from the Negro to white people, and it seems the efforts made during last winter has been successful. Negroes have been used as an instrument to keep "Coney Island" alive until the capitalists could be convinced of the great advantages surrounding the location. The last attempt, it seems, have been successful, and "Coney Island Park" will be converted into a city of amusement, where thousands of white people will congregate and enjoy the great festivities offered at such places of amusement. The Negro has done great service as a bridge to keep this institution alive until sufficient capital could be interested to do just what the proprietor desired to do; but while this is taking place, another great event is also coming to pass. It seems very probable that before the year is out a park will have been established by the city for the exclusive use of Negroes. It will be the equal of any in this state or the South, and if located in the spot that is generally spoken of, it will possess natural resources seldom found in parks. So the loss of "Coney Island" will be the gain of a better park, owned and maintained by the city.

Greenwood Park is well known and needs no comment here. Thousands will continue to visit this celebrated park each year and the management is as relentless as ever in beautifying and properly preparing for the amusement and comfort of all who will visit this park. Limer's Park on the east side is a new venture, but gives great promise. So with these places of outing and amusement Nashville Negroes can feel a deal of pride in their home city.

San Antonio Hustler.

The Weekly Hustler, published in San Antonio, Texas has passed into new hands. One of the members of this new company is Mr. L. D. Bumbrey, who was for several years connected with the National Baptist Publishing House in this city. He is well known here and was wise enough before returning to his home state to select for his life partner one of the charming daughters of Tennessee. Other members of the company are experienced newspaper men and the Hustler should set a hot pace in the Lone Star State. There never was a company of Negroes organized for the purpose of publishing and printing better qualified and more evenly balanced than the proprietors of the Hustler Publishing Company. The Globe hopes for these young men great success and we believe that such will be their reward, for they know how to do it, and the knowing how is a guarantee of success in anything.

Senator Taylor.

In the death of Senator Robert Love Taylor, Tennessee loses a citizen who has held the admiration of this commonwealth for more than a quarter of a century and who made less enemies during the thirty odd years of public life than any man in this country. Senator Taylor was a big-hearted man. He was in the truest sense of the word a servant of humanity. Politically, he was a democrat, but he never allowed his political beliefs to outweigh his desire to do justice to all people at all times. He was applicably styled the apostle of sunshine, for wherever he went he carried a smile and words of cheerfulness that enlivened the hearts of the people. Senator Taylor was a friend of the weak and oppressed. He did not believe any human being should be punished unnecessarily, and as Governor of Tennessee he was often censured for his pardon record. He was well known throughout the country and Tennessee was made to be known throughout the nation by Robert L. Taylor, the statesman, lecturer and orator. He will be missed in this commonwealth, but the memory of his kind deeds will live forever.

IN MEMORIAM.

Mr. Jordan Helm, Jr., of Franklin, Tenn., died March 11, 1912, at the age of sixteen years.
 O dear Jordan boy, you have gone,
 Your cares and sorrows here are o'er;
 You have laid by your cumbrous cells,
 And we shall see you here no more.

The clouds that love the golden tints
 Of life's bright, joyous morning ray;
 How soon they vanished from the skies,
 And with them you have passed away.

And o'er your peaceful, silent dust,
 The lovely flowers shall sweetly bloom,
 While angels oft will gather round
 And safely watch your lonely tomb.

Parents, wipe off the falling tears,
 And oh remember all must die;
 A little while—'twill not be long,
 When in your grave you too will lie.

Brothers weeping for the loved one
 That lies before you low in death,
 Think of the changeless hereafter,
 Where life is not a fleeting breath.

Sisters bowed down in sorrow, too,
 Arise, cheer, and banish grief;
 For though you all are thus bereft,
 The Lord will bring to you relief.

Benjamin, for you we drop a tear,
 To see you in deep mourning clad;
 And look upon your tender form,
 So very frail, so pale, so sad.

O God! to all a blessing send,
 And to each mourner, comfort give;
 Just wipe the tears that glisten down,
 That they may flee to thee and live.

Perchance, dear friends, you'll meet
 And greet,
 Jordan Helm in Heav'n above;
 Beyond the far-off starry sky.
 In that bright world of joy and love,
 By B. H. January, Nashville, Tenn.

DEATH OF MRS. ELIZA J. LEWIS.

Mrs. Eliza J. Lewis departed this life March 29th at 11:25 a. m., after a brief illness. She was 78 years old, having been a Christian and member of St. Eli Baptist Church 49 years. She was conscious to the end, calling her family around her bed and bidding them good by. She told them to shout, not cry, for she was only going to sleep; to call the neighbors and let them see a saint go home. Around her bed when the end came were her family, pastor and a host of friends. She requested Revs. Green Thompson, Martin Slater, Samuel Bryant, Bob Estman and Wm. Snow to speak over her remains; to speak truthfully of the life she had lived. Text: Psalm 23:1, "The Lord is my shepherd I shall not want." She leaves to mourn their loss a husband, three daughters, one son, three brothers, two sisters and several grandchildren.

GOODLETTSVILLE NOTES.

Mrs. Callie Thomas is quite sick at her home. Mr. Lem Utley, one of our most influential citizens and business men, lost two fine horse Sunday night. They were killed on the railroad. Mrs. Lu's Matthews was called to the bedside of her sick mother, Mrs. Callie Thomas. Miss Evalena Crossroy is still quite ill. Mr. and Mrs. John Utley spent last week in Nashville. Mrs. Sallie Thompson's school was to have gone on a fishing trip last Thursday afternoon, but on account of the rain, the trip was postponed until a later date. Rev. Stewart, pastor of the C. M. E. Church, is doing a great work for good in this community.

SOUTH SIDE AND CUNNINGHAM NOTES.

Mr. and Mrs. Larsen Kilgore lost their infant last Wednesday. The interment took place at Round Pond Cemetery. Those on the sick list are Mesdames Susan Eleazer, Bettie Rainey, Anna Daniel, Dona Hegwood, Elizabeth Batson and daughter, Messrs. Robert Levia and Floyd Batson. Mrs. Fannie Worly, of String Town, visited Mrs. Ada Hopkins last week. Mrs. Percy L. Beam and little Miss Mabel Beam spent last Monday evening and night with Mrs. Joseph Collins, near South Side. They were most royally entertained. At 6:30 p. m. a three-course menu was served. The people of this vicinity have become very interested in reading the Globe. The following subscribed three months for the Globe: Miss Lizzie Collins, Messrs. Westly Slayden Mack Smith and H. H. Kirkman. The W. H. and F. M. S. of the A. M. E. Church had quite a success in the entertainment last Saturday night, realizing the sum of $6.04. The Cumberland River Baptist Association convened at Cabin Row Baptist Church March 28-31, Thursday afternoon at 3:45 p. m. the house was called to order by Rev. Fuller. Rev. Northington offered prayer. After

THE W. E. P. C.
 The W. E. P. Club met with Miss Ella B. Driver, 934 Main street, Tuesday, March 26th. The meeting was called to order by President Leslie Rowan. This being a regular business meeting, quite a deal of business was transacted. After the indulgence in few games the enjoyment of which was interspersed with music, the club was favored by short talks and words of encouragement from many of the visitors, among which was an able address by Mr. A. F. Williams. At the next social meeting which will be held April 23rd will be a debate, subject: Resolved, that

HARTSVILLE NOTES.
 We highly appreciate our pastor, Rev. J. H. Kerr, for his good and wholesome instruction and his good management. We feel that he is leading us from conquest to victory. On Sunday, March 31st, we raised $20.00 of our educational money for Shelbyville High School, and have the rest in sight. The church is in a prosperous condition.

MRS. PATSY JONES PASSES AWAY.
 Chicago, Ill., April 3.
 Mrs. Patsy Jones, formerly of Nashville, Tenn., but for the last twelve years a resident of this city, died at her home, 3668 Wabash avenue, Sunday, March 24th. She had been ill for several months, but not until Wednesday before her death, did her children realize that the end was so near. Telegrams were sent to her three absent sons, two of whom hastened to her bedside. Mrs. Jones was loved by all who knew her, and gained the confidence and esteem of all with whom she dealt in a business way. She survived her husband, who died fourteen years ago in New York City. At her bedside at the time of her death, were seven
