Rev. Alex. Cowan went to Shelby-ville on Wednesday last to attend the funeral of his father.
We regret to learn that Master Johnny DeWitt had the misfortune to get his collar-bone broken a few days since.
The blithe and handsome belle, Miss Augusta Wherry, of Hendersonville, is its sitting.

Reports from all parts of the county are that wheat is very much injured by rust. Scarcely more than a half crop can be expected.
Prof. James's school closed its spring session at Water's & Walling College yesterday. Nothing was done except to have the every-day exercises.
Major George Smith, T. J. R. Swafford, and E. Story of the Sparta bar, and A. J. McElroy, of Spencer, have been in attendance at our Circuit court this week.

Changes.
A student who was given to the use of the words "a right smart" and "sorter," when advised to try to get off this habit, replied, "I do try a right smart, but it's sorter hard to do." Col. Tracy, of Washington, special agent of the United States Internal Revenue Service, was in town a day or two since and has gone to the upper counties, looking after the interests of the "best government in the world." The still-house of O. F. Bruster was burned a few days since. Two copper stills, and two or three hundred tubs were in the house. It is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary as no fire had been there for several months.
Our popular friend and hotel man, Hus Brooks, while at the Centennial made a contract for the purchase of the Maxwell House which would have been completed but for one reason.
He will tell you what that was.

number of persons have come down this week from Van Buren county. Among them was Rev.
Patrick Moore, and Richard Russel Esq., who report wheat prospects in that county sorry, but say it presents a slightly improved appearance since the rain.
-Mr. R. P. Baker, publisher of this paper, accompanied by his wife, went to the Centennial on Wednesday.
His absence will account for any mistakes that may occur in the make up of this issue.

Messrs. White & Scott, have arrived and have established their headquar-pared to receive orders for pure lake ice in any part of the city to customers at the very moderate price of 2 1/2 cents per pound in small quantities.—*Birming-

Judge John W. Burton is presiding in the Circuit court this week by interchange with Judge Williams. We are pained to learn Judge Williams was detained at home by family bereavement, and tender him our kindest sympathies in this trying affliction.
Since the above was in type, Judge Williams has arrived and Judge Burton has gone home.
The local editor pro tem., acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to attend the examinations at Brookside and Verona this week. The former school has been conducted by Prof. Cummings, and the latter by Prof. Head.
They are both worthy and efficient teachers, and justly merit the very liberal patronage which they have received. We regret we could not attend, but hope Burney will be at home next time and we'll attend.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, the festival given by the Presbyterians at the College street M. E.
Church last Thursday evening was not altogether as largely attended as might have been reasonably expected under more favorable circumstances, and yet the attendance was not meager. Those present however purchased with that liberality characteristic of McMinnville people, and the receipts were very satisfactory.
Samuel McCorkle was waylaid near his home in the south east portion of this county, a few days since, and shot.
Seven balls took effect, inflicting severe if not fatal wounds. Suspicion points to Van Tanager and Bill Taylor, as the guilty parties. They have left for Paris unknown. The matter is supposed to have grown out of a former difficulty between the parties. The latest report is that McCorkle will doubtless not recover.

C. F. College.
The closing exercises of Cumberland Female College will commence with a spelling match on Thursday, June 3d, at 9 o'clock a. m., to be followed by short addresses from Rev. M.
B. DeWitt, Prof. W. M. James and others. The work of the Art Department for the session will be on exhibition. A committee will examine the writing of the pupils and award the prize offered at the beginning of the term. Singing by the school interspersed throughout the exercises of the morning. Exhibition and concert at night, commencing promptly at 8 o'clock. The attendance of the public is respectfully solicited.

Brookside.
Brookside Seminary closed its spring session on last Wednesday. The day was devoted to the examination of the scholars. It was thorough, and the students acquitted themselves in a manner that reflects great credit upon Prof.
Cummings and Miss Lou Macon, his assistant, as teachers.
At an early hour in the evening the house was literally packed with an attentive audience. The exercises, consisting of declamations, essays, music, both instrumental and vocal, chorales etc., were listened to with a great deal of interest. We cannot give the programme for want of space, but will say that it was one of unusual interest, and that the young ladies and gentlemen performed their parts in a very satisfactory manner. At the close of the exercises Col. J. H. Hughes, in his usual happy style addressed the audience and students, and at a late hour they retired to their different homes, well pleased with the evening's entertainment.
On Thursday morning, Prof. Cummings and Miss Lou Macon, accompanied by ten of their students, left for the Centennial.

S. S. Institute at Hickory Grove.

Gen. Dibrell Makes a Point.
[Philadelphia Record, 15th.] Representative Dibrell made a good point during the consideration of the revenue appropriation bill, yesterday, in his suggestion that the internal revenue officials were disproportionately active in ferreting out the petty illicit produce of whisky known as moonshiners, and in looking after the small distillers generally, whose transactions but slightly affect the revenue, while the really important whisky frauds, perpetrated on a large scale in cities like St. Louis and Chicago, have very little attention paid them. It is proper that the laws should be enforced, and that vigorously and promptly; but there is grave doubt of the wisdom or fairness of keeping up a special crusade against the set of poverty-stricken mountaineers down South, who make a crude kind of liquor by primitive processes out of their surplus corn, in quantity hardly sufficient for their own consumption.

An Explanation.
McMINNVILLE, May 26, 1880.
To the Editor of the Standard: I notice an article in your last paper, stating that I had engaged a church for sleeping purposes while at Nashville.
As this article might lead your many readers to believe that I had no hotel accommodations, I write to explain.
I did not engage a church as stated, but by invitation of your absent editor, Mr.
B., who had authority, I spent a very pleasant night in Dr. Baird's church, which the Doctor and his clever sexton had made very comfortable by the use of new cushions, quilts, blankets, buffalo rugs and pillows spread on the pulpit for the accommodation of brethren on their way to the General Assembly at Evansville, who might not find accommodations at the hotels.
This was very kind of Dr. Baird. His study, to which we had access, was well furnished with lights, water etc., which made it very comfortable and pleasant, so much so that we enjoyed it finely. Alfred especially seemed to prefer it to the hotel, on account of being away from the noise of a crowded hotel. Mr. Burney and myself had good rooms at the Nicholson House previously engaged, and with our families were comfortably quartered in them, but to accommodate some lady friends, one from Murfreesboro and one from our place, on their way to the General Assembly, we tendered them the use of our rooms with our wives, and we occupied the church, as before mentioned, which we preferred to Mr.
Nicholson's cuts he had kindly offered to furnish us for the night. I would not have troubled you with this communication had your absent editor been here in time to explain.
Our clever friend, Huse Brooks, desires to say that he was not in the crowd that threw up the nickel for who should lean against the lamp post, and occupied the honorable position of watch at the Maxwell House with plenty of company.
J. B. RITCHEY.

May Meetings.
This month is all alive with the meeting of the great ecclesiastical bodies.
The M. E. General Conference, which meets once in four years, has been in session all the month at Cincinnati. It represents a membership of about 1, 650,000, and more than 20,000 preachers. The Southern Baptist General Convention met in Lexington, Ky., and spent a few days in its deliberations. The membership, white and colored, within its territory is said to be about 1,500,000. The Methodist Protestant General Conference and the General Assembly of the Reformed Presbyterian church in America, met in Pittsburgh last week. These are smaller bodies. On the 20th inst., the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States, met in Charleston, S. C., the Cumberland Presbyterian General Assembly, at Evansville, Indiana, and the General Assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, at Milwaukee, Wisconsin. These bodies aggregate strength of about 1,000,000 members.
