

Exported Booze May Flow Back

Liquor Sent Abroad Before Volstead Act Went Into Effect Has Chance to Return.

JOKER IS SEEN IN THE LAW

Permits Reimportation of Whisky Shipped Before Law Became Effective—Billion Dollars' Worth May Come Back.

New York.—Liquors having a value in the legitimate market of more than $300,000,000 and worth in bootleg channels more than $1,000,000,000, shipped from the United States to foreign countries just before the Volstead act went into effect on January 16, 1922, eventually will find their way back to this country, under the provisions of the Willis-Campbell act passed by congress last November to supplement the national prohibition law, according to John D. Appley, general prohibition agent in charge of New York and New Jersey.

Big Shipment Enters

Already one big shipment has been made to this country under the provisions of the supplemental law. Gin valued in bootleg circles at $2,000,000 was reimported from Cuba about two weeks ago. The distillery which made the shipment had gone out of business, a fact that apparently was not discovered by the government agents until the gin had arrived here. A special permit had to be obtained from Washington before it could be stored in a local warehouse, pending its withdrawal for medicinal purposes on permits from the director's office.

The passage of the Willis-Campbell law, ostensibly for the purpose of killing medicinal beer, has made it possible for the thirsty to be supplied with good liquors for a much longer period than appeared likely before the measure was adopted, prohibition officials said. In some quarters the provision for the reimport of liquors was considered as a "joker."

The law provided "that the commissioner may authorize the return to the United States, under such regulations and conditions as he may prescribe, any distilled spirits of American production exported free of tax and reimported in original packages in which exported and consigned for reexport in the distillery bonded warehouse from which originally removed."

Liquors have been stored in France and other countries in large quantities, according to Mr. Appley. The prohibition department plans to scrutinize carefully the applications for permits to reimport.

What is regarded as another "joker" in the supplemental law is the provision which exempts payment of tax and penalty for distilled spirits upon which the tax has not been paid when they are "lost by theft, accidental fire or other casualty while in possession of a common carrier subject to the transportation act of 1920 or the merchant marine act, 1920, or if lost by theft from a distillery or other bonded warehouse."

"Then last summer my stomach got out of order, I lost my appetite and what little I did eat made me feel bloated, all stuffed up and miserable. I always felt weak, tired and worn out, and was so nervous I couldn't sleep."

EXAMPLE OF HIGH FINANCE

Many Who Go Into the Game Come Out of It Feeling Like This Country Boy.

Representative Rosenbloom said at a dinner in Wheeling:

"The average man had better leave high finance alone. When the average man goes up against high finance he generally feels like the farm boy."

"A city boy had a half-dollar and a circus had just come to town; but the cheapest circus ticket cost 75 cents, and this put the city boy in a hole."

"But he was a financier in embryo, and so he went right off to a pawn broker's and pawned his half-dollar for 40 cents."

"Afterward he waylaid a country boy, displayed his pawn ticket, and offered to sell it for 35 cents. A half-dollar for 35 cents! Of course the country boy snapped up that bargain."

"The city boy with his 75 cents then hurried off to the circus. The country boy, after he had worked out this deal of his in high finance to the bitter end, sought a retired place and kicked himself."

The Empty Bin and Bowl

The Ukraine, which has been known as the sugar bowl and flour bin of Europe, is pretty nearly empty and it is a question whether the country has enough to keep its own people until the next harvest. The wheat crop last year was hard hit by reason of the absence of the snows which allowed the seed to be frozen in the ground for lack of protection granted by the mantle of snow.

RATHER PUT MAMMA IN BAD

Her Offspring Had Chosen Decidedly Unpropitious Moment for "Fixin' Billy's Teef."

My fussy guest was getting ready to make her departure. She was in a hurry, but took time to comment on life in general and mine in particular. "Children are all right, I suppose, but so meddlesome. They snatch this and that and spoil everything."

"Not mine," I interrupted indignantly. "My children have a proper respect for others' property. They never touch anything that doesn't belong to them."

"Where's my dental floss?" panted my guest. "It was here a moment ago."

A frantic search ensued, ending in the kitchen. On the floor were yards and yards of dental floss, and at the end of the floss was my youngest child, her puppy held between her knees. "Fixin' Billy's teef, mummy!"—Chicago Tribune.

SAY THAT LINER IS UNSINKABLE

Might Float If Cut in Two, Belief of Experts.

Lone Star State on Maiden Voyage to Aid American Sea Commerce—Captain Engages Orchestra to Play Jazz.

New York.—Keen competition had developed in the race for supremacy on the seas. The latest addition to the fleet that is keeping the American flag to the forefront in the sea commerce of the world is the steamship Lone Star State, recently delivered from her builders in the United States Lines, which has just sailed on her maiden voyage to Bremen.

In the Lone Star State, as in other passenger-carrying vessels constructed under government supervision, the element of safety was of prime consideration. It is declared that the new liner is practically unsinkable. Originally planned as a transport and later designated to act as a hospital ship to bring back American wounded from France, the Lone Star State was built torpedo proof as nearly as human ingenuity could make her.

The vessel has thirteen water-tight compartments. Shipping men who have inspected her have declared that even if she were cut in twain each half would remain afloat.

From the standpoint of comfort, nothing has been left undone to make her a luxurious vehicle for sea travel. She carries two classes of passengers, first and third. Full attention has been given to the cuisine and amusement facilities on the Lone Star State. The chefs and the kitchen personnel have been carefully selected, with a view of rivaling the dining service of a first-class hotel ashore.

Captain Frank T. Burkhardt, who is impressario as well as navigator, said before he sailed that he had adopted as his slogan "A bas ennui," which

Aged Couple Keep Secret

Lewiston, Pa.—Joseph B. Hostetter, seventy-three years old, and his bride, Leta E. At What Age Should You Take Needless Risks With Your Health?

Is that a queer question?

Then many people are doing a queer thing—and often it turns out to be a serious thing.

The Federal Bureau of Education says in its rules for the health of school children that children should not drink coffee or tea.

This rule is based on the well-known fact that the drug element in coffee and tea whips up the nerves, and that serious ills often follow.

If it's a good rule for children to keep away from the harm of nerve-stimulation, isn't it a good rule for everybody?

Think it over. Granted that your body may stand more, can your judgment afford to risk more? Any doctor can tell you what coffee and tea often do to the health of adults as well as children. There's no sacrifice in being safe. Postum is a delightful, satisfying mealtime beverage, wholesome and pleasant alike for adults and children. Postum has no age limits!
