Miss Mattie Mitchell and Mr. Claud Hudson were united in marriage last Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's mother in the third district. The marriage was a surprise to their friends and acquaintances here. They left Sunday afternoon for Nashville to enjoy a brief honeymoon. We join in extending congratulations and best wishes.

A reception was tendered the young people Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. McRae at their residence. After several enjoyable hours spent in games and conversation, those present were treated to an elegant strawberry supper, and a most pleasant time was had. Those present from a distance were Miss May Tomlinson, Jacksonville, Fla., Mr. Ezelle, of McKenzie, Mr. Jerre Collins, of Jackson, and Mr. S. D. Clark, of Nashville.

A Washington special Monday says: "The President to-day sent to the Senate the name of James Jeffreys to be surveyor of the port of Memphis. The appointment of Mr. Jeffreys was a great surprise to the members of the delegation. Last October he was appointed as chairman of the Uncompogrie Commission to conclude the allotment of the land of the Ute Indians in Utah. The work of this commission has been concluded and therefore the place will be abolished and Mr. Jeffreys was transferred to the Memphis collectorship upon the recommendation of Commissioner of Pensions Evans."

Crops were destroyed and fences swept away in many localities in the county as a result of the rain storm last Saturday evening.

Politically, the jury stood 9 Democrats, 3 Republicans and 1 Populist. The jurymen were all members of the church, 6 Baptists, 5 Methodists, 1 Cumberland Presbyterian and 1 Christian (Campbellite).

Delegates to the Sunday school convention here began to arrive yesterday, and the indications are good for a large attendance. Rev. C. A. Waterfield preached an excellent sermon at the Methodist Church last night. The convention will meet at that church this morning at 8 o'clock, and will be opened with devotional exercises by Rev. J. E. Carl. The program contains many interesting subjects of great moment, and some able speakers will take part in the convention.

The President issued a call yesterday for 75,000 more volunteers, distributed among the States as before. Thus Tennessee's quota will be 1,836, or about two regiments.

Are you ready to volunteer? If so let Benton County organize the first company of Tennesseans for the volunteer reserve army.

It is suggested that a mass-meeting be called to meet here and in this way enlist a company.

Double shovel blades and bolts 15 cents each.

PHILLIPS GROCERY CO.

There is nothing new or startling in the war situation. The Spanish and American fleets are engaged in a game of hide and seek in the Caribbean Sea, and the Government has shut off all information from that source. We can only guess at what is going to happen next, but the news from the South is likely to be lively when it comes.

Spain's first shots fell short, just as her last shots will fall short.
