CRIMINAL COURT.

Criminal court met here Monday, and the following proceedings have been had up to the time of going to press last night:

General Eaves, tippling; stricken from the docket.

Carl Arnold, Wyly Ellis, Walter Elmore, Sid Webb, John Hoskins, and Isham Nunnery, gaming; submitted and each fined $5 and cost. Noah Prince and Arch Powers, carrying weapons; submitted and each fined $50 and cost.

Cas Metlock, tippling; nolle prosequat at defendant's cost. G. W. Matlock and Alvin Bane, carrying weapons; nolle prosequat in each case at defendant's cost.

Carl Arnold and Walter Elmore, gaming; nolle prosequat in each case at defendant's cost.

Noah Arnold, forfeiture on subpoena; judgment nisi.

Elbert Florence, drunkenness; submitted, and fined $5 and cost.

Henry Ballard, murder. Trial began Tuesday, and the attorney-general finished the argument yesterday. The case was then submitted to the jury under the charge of the court, and the jury is still out.

FROM FLATWOODS.

Regular correspondence.]

T. W. Cuff was at Way Saturday on business.

James Pafford has moved to the Chestnut Hill community.

W. G. Robertson is reported on the sick list, and Mrs. Sara Cuff is in feeble health.

A. G. Farrar and wife have returned from a visit to relatives in Humphreys County.

A graphophone entertainment at the home of G. H. Cuff last Sunday evening was well attended.

Will Dobson and Bertram Sarratt have returned from an extended trip to Middle Tennessee.

Uncle Timothy Blanchard, who has been very sick at the home of W. M. Cuff the past week, is some better.

We regret to learn that there is no improvement in the health of D. D. Pafford, who has been on the decline for some time.

FLATWOODS, January 17.

FROM WAY.

Special correspondence.]

Frank Flowers cut his foot last Monday.

B. L. Gardner visited in Humphreys County Sunday.

J. H. Pafford attended quarterly meeting at Big Sandy Saturday.

Mrs. Mary Totty, of near Eva, is visiting her brother, John Childress.

Frank Wesson and wife, of Humphreys County, visited relatives in this locality last week.

What has become of the Claud, Eva and all the silent correspondents? Let us hear from you.

Mrs. Louise Raspberry, who is making her home with Mrs. Susan Melton, has been very sick, but is better.

Mrs. Mornen Melton was called to Hollow Rock last week by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Kizzie Holland.

Ross, little son of Osco Pafford, who has been quite sick, is thought to be some better, but it is feared that as a result of fever settling in his legs he will be a cripple for life.

WAY, January 17.

FROM SMITH'S COLLEGE.

Regular correspondence.]

Mrs. Matilda Bane is very sick this week.

S. C. Madrey says he wants to exchange yearlings for a cook.

It is said they have only nine school directors in the eighth district at present.

The "itch" has made its appearance, and for that reason Teacher Lindsey has resigned his school. He says he could stand it, but was afraid to risk it on somebody else.

M. E. Byrn, an immune teacher of Cuba, will finish out the school.

It is regretted that Rev. Moore has changed his appointment here from the fourth to the second Sunday and at the same hour of Rev. Bushardt's appointment. The two churches are within one hundred yards of one another, and his action will not have a tendency to keep down hard feelings that will surely follow. For this reason we hope that he will reconsider his decision.

We were agreeably surprised at sentiments expressed by the Liberty correspondent last week. He lets himself down very gracefully, and we will abide by the decision. We do not feel that we are due any one an apology, but feel under lasting obligations to the editor for his fairness and indulgence. We feel that the correspondent aforesaid is inclined to turn from the errors of his way, and like most men in their last moments he tells the truth in saying that we are good friends. If an opportunity should occur we are ready and will gladly vote for him for any office to which he might aspire from dog-pelter down.

SMITH'S COLLEGE, January 17.

FROM GREENBRIER.

Buyers drove out several head of hogs and cattle here last week.

Miss Benuia Byrn is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. W. Buey, at Springville.

Mrs. Sara McGuire has moved into the house with Mrs. Amanda Lockhart.

James Lockhart has been absent from his school several days this week on account of bad weather.

Henry French and John Alsop failed to close their land trade, and the former has moved to the Pierce place, near Springville.

GREENBRIER, January 17.

FROM SULPHUR SPRINGS.

Regular correspondence.]

There was a heavy rainfall here last week.

Simon Nobles visited near Big Sandy Sunday.

Bullard & Holland have put in a new saw at their factory.

Bullard & Holland shipped a carload of ax handles last week.

O. A. Utley, who is teaching at Hall's Valley, was here Saturday.

It is proposed to petition for an extension of the Lutertown mail route to Claud.

Miss Pennie Pierce, John Pierce and A. J. Fletcher visited at Big Sandy Saturday.

What has been done toward putting in a telephone line from Big Sandy to Claud? Can anybody tell?

SULPHUR SPRINGS, January 17.

Jesse Hall left for Dickson this week to attend school.

Rev. Mr. Couch will preach next Sunday forenoon and evening.

Alex Bivens has gone to Huntingdon to work in the Democrat office.

Born, Saturday, January 14, to Alvin Wiseman and wife, of Post-oak, a daughter.

Hugh Phillips, of the Issue, and A. A. Lindsey, of Hustburgh, were in town Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal, of Nashville, were guests of the family of Ewing Goodwin last week.

We congratulate Hon. William L. Morris on the arrival of an heir at his home Sunday evening.

The "hut" met Wednesday evening, and four members were duly installed with sublime ceremony.

Ewing Goodwin went to Duck River Monday to attend the funeral of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Amanda Goodwin, who died Sunday.

T. J. Dodd and J. H. Whitfield, of Springville, were here last Friday. Mr. Dodd has bought the interest of Mr. Whitfield in the stove mill at that place.

Jasper Rushing returned home from Texas last Friday, where he has been for the past month looking after his interests there. He says he left them all well and contented.

William Wiseman, of near Paris, was shaking hands with old Camden friends the first of the week. He was reared near this place, but moved to Henry County numbers of years ago.

This has been a very disagreeable week for those who had to attend criminal court here. The roads are in the worst possible condition, and we have had all kinds of disagreeable weather.

Our clever tonsorial artist, Jack Fuller, has an eye single to the comfort and taste of his patrons. To meet the demand he will put in another chair of the latest pattern this week. Next!

The following gentlemen compose the grand jury: L. H. Presson, foreman; A. D. Woods, B. A. Totty, G. W. Kirk, A. Meiton, D. Q. Kee, R. C. Floyd, J. B. Nance, S. C. Wright, T. L. Johnson, Jesse Johnson, Bob Walker and G. W. Cantrell.

A belated report of a sad death on Crooked Creek about three weeks ago has reached us. It seems that a young man by the name of Nance fell into a creek one cold night and froze to death before he reached home. He was about 21 years of age, and well thought of in that community.

The oldest man in Benton County, Uncle Thomas Swindle, who resides 8 miles south of here, was in town Monday. He is in excellent health, and is remarkably well preserved for a man of his years. He informed us that he would be 88 years old in February, and that he had never tasted liquor or used tobacco in any form.

Burglars were at work in town Monday night. The house of Joe Hubbs was entered and robbed of clothing belonging to Mr. Hubbs and his brother. Part of the clothing were found under the house the next morning. The choice of meat was made at J. W. Rowe's, but Mr. Rowe does not know exactly how much meat was taken. Indications show that an attempt was made to enter the home of ye editor. Perhaps they wisely concluded that the field was barren and that time spent there was time lost. At the home of Capt. W. F. Maiden they robbed the clothes line, almost stripping it, and appropriated Constable John Maiden's overcoat. They did not neglect the parsonage, but appropriated a quantity of clothing on the clothes line. There is no clue as yet to the thief or thieves, but a strict watch will be kept to effect a capture.
