New houses are going up in our midst, but there is a growing demand for more. There have been three applications this week for dwelling houses, and they have not been supplied.

Sunday, October 14, has been set apart by Postoak Camp, Woodmen of the World, for the unveiling of the monument to be erected by the Woodmen to the memory of Dr. C. S. Chandler, deceased.

There are so many conflicting reports of the primary Saturday that the result in the district will not be known until the returns have been canvassed by the Congressional committee. Enloe carried this county by a majority of 125.

Col. J. W. Rosamou, of Gadsden, president of the West Tennessee Farmers' Institute, was in the city last Friday. He was here for the purpose of arranging for Benton County to be represented at the meeting of the institute at Jackson in September. This county is entitled to twenty delegates.

Yesterday was moving day with some of our citizens. T. J. Lowry moved to his new home, the Bill McKrae place. W. S. Corbitt went to the Adams place. Joe Hubbs and his mother moved to the old Hawley place. Mrs. Nannie Bivens will move to her home, and we understand A. J. Fuller will move to the Bartlett place.

Mrs. I. R. Hubbs, of Hamilton, Mont., who has been visiting relatives in Benton and Henry counties, came over from Manleyville Sunday and left Tuesday to join her husband in Montana. She was accompanied by her brother-in-law, Bird Hubbs, who has gone to try his fortunes in the great Northwest. May success attend him, is the wish of his many friends here.

The citizens of Johnsonville are making great preparations for a big barbecue at that place Friday, September 14. The list of speakers who have been invited to take part in the program on that occasion includes Governor McMillin, John Wesley Gaines, C. W. Turner, some of the electors and other prominent speakers. The railroads will give reduced rates, and the occasion promises to be a big event.

The dwelling of Price Oxford, about twelve miles south of Camden, was burned last Monday night with the entire contents. Mr. Oxford and his children were attending church at the time, and everything was burned. The loss falls heavily on Mr. Oxford, who has been seemingly unfortunate in recent years. It has not been a great while since he lost his wife, and since that time he has been living alone with his children.
