

Prince Henry of Prussia,

Who is Coming to Visit Us,

Most Popular Man in the German Royal Family.

It is the most popular and the most accomplished of the Hohenzollerns who is in a few weeks to visit America as the guest of the nation and the personal representative of His Imperial Majesty William II. of Germany.

Prince Henry of Prussia, the Kaiser's only brother, is indeed one of the few princes in Europe who fulfill the romantic ideal of what the son of a royal household should be. A navigator, a scholar, a musician, handsome and dignified in appearance and lovable in personality, His Royal Highness will decidedly be the most interesting visitor the United States has seen in many years. And there is every reason to believe that the olive branch of peace which it is his mission to offer us afresh will be extended by a most graceful hand.

Henry, the sailor prince of Germany, "Unser Heinrich," as he is affectionately called, is now forty years old, having been born on August 14, 1862. Among the many points in which he offers a striking contrast to his brother, none is more significant than the fact that he was the favorite son of both his mother and father, and that he was loyally devoted to them both at a time when William, then Crown Prince, was pursuing a decidedly unfilial course. Personally Prince Henry is a little less tall than his brother,

Pickelhaube, and William the Vain. Prince Henry has made himself so well beloved among the Germans that they have honored him as they did his father. They called that good man "Unser Fritz," and they call his younger son "Unser Heinrich."

He has earned their love by—
(1) Keeping his mouth shut (except once in Kiel);
(2) Bearing the hard lot of a younger prince without expectations and with a mallyphist brother, in silence and with dignity;

Albert William Henry Hohenzollern, Formerly Member of the Firm of William II. (Limited), Now Manufacturer of Clocks.

For Prince Henry learned clock making as a trade, following the Hohenzollern custom of teaching each child a manual art. Wilhelm the Mighty is a glove-maker by trade and is said to be as good at it as he is at emperoring, sculpture, statesmanship, oratory and poetry. Whatever else he is, he is no slouch, but does everything with all his might.

The imperial yacht Hohenzollern, which will sail over here, is the most powerful private yacht in the world with the exception of the Standart, belonging to the Czar of Russia. Like that vessel, the Hohenzollern really is a warship. She is well armed, and capable of being armed far more heavily than she is. Her sides are armor plated and she has a ram. In February 25—A reception in honor of Prince Henry, a dinner in his honor to be given by the Mayor of New York and, if consistent with these functions, a reception by the Press Club.

February 26—The Prince and his party will proceed to Washington, where the Prince will reside at the German Embassy. He will exchange calls with President Roosevelt and be entertained by a dinner at the White House.

February 27—Official receptions and visits and a dinner at the German Embassy.

February 28—The Prince and his party will start for Chicago.

The appointment of the Prince's time between Chicago, Milwaukee, Niagara Falls and Boston, all of which he will visit, has not yet been precisely made. In fact, any part of the official program may be modified.

Before sailing for home Prince Henry will spend two or three days in New York, visiting the city's objects of interest and receiving privately some of New York's notable citizens.

(3) Minding his own business;
(4) Selecting for that business that of sailor.

Every nation with a crowned head demands a sailor prince, and the sailor prince always is the favorite. Henry is a real sailor prince. There wasn't any fooling about it. Few admirals in any service in the world have seen as much sea service as he has. He worked his way up and served as a captain so long that all Germany became excited over it, and insinuated that his imperial and absolute brother never would let him advance.

COMBINATION CHAIR-TABLE.

Something New and Odd in the Way of Furniture.

This unique furnishing piece, the combination chair-table, is designed especially for piazza or lawn use; but it is quite attractive enough and sufficiently finished to form a decorative addition to any room—in smoking or lounging rooms especially, or where economy of space is a consideration. "Multum in parvo" might well be used to describe it, as it combines a most comfortable chair and convenient table, with large drawer. In one furnishing piece. It may be had in several designs in ash, dark green or dark brown, or finished in weathered ash, as desired. It is covered with waterproof varnish to withstand moisture or rain when used out-of-doors. Its attractive appearance, convenience, substantiality and very reasonable price (from $8.50 to $11 in different sizes) will commend this piece to many.

Babies the Fashion.

The Princess of Wales has made babies fashionable in England. Children are supplanting lap dogs and silken coated cats as drawing room pets. How long the babies will rule no one can tell, but at present they are wearing the crown of popularity. There are three bright children in the palace of the Princess of Wales—two boys and a flaxen, curly-headed little girl. These tots were left behind when the Prince and Princess went on the great colonial tour from which they but recently returned. And when they came home the glad welcome the royal mother received from her children was so touching that the whole nation was put into a sympathetic mood. Now the Princess is rarely seen without having one or more of her babies with her.

The Doctor's Circle.

Each physician in the United States has 655 persons to look to for his support, for one to 655 is the proportion, according to the latest Government statistics. California stands at the bottom—or top, depending on the view—of the list, for there are only 416 actual and prospective patients for each M. D., while in Alaska 2349 persons have to depend on or take chances with one doctor. New York is near the average, with 603 persons for each physician to look after, and Pennsylvania comes nearer the average than any other State, with 602. Lying partially between these great States comes New Jersey, where the number of medical practitioners falls off until only 400 has to care for 686 persons.

Compressed Air For Street Cars.

Experts claim that compressed air will eventually be the power of the future, supplanting both the cable and the trolley systems. In all lines of industry we see constant improvements, but in medicine there is one remedy that cannot be improved on, and that is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is founded on true merit, and will cure indigestion, dyspepsia, flatulency, constipation and nervousness, also prevent malaria, fever and ague. Try a bottle and satisfy yourself.
