OUR DEVIL'S CORNER.

SEQUACHEE'S TRIUMPH.

The schemes to make Sequachee grow into a booming city that seemed so very sure to go, are busted—more's the pity. With disappointment we have met in various ugly shapes, but still we're in the fight, you bet, WE CAN RAISE GRAPES!

Smith.—"My wife has developed a mania for the sea and wants me to buy her old Salty's steam yacht, the Moon."

Jones.—"The Moon, eh? Well, I think she's very reasonable. My wife wants the earth."

It is greatly to the credit of Lazarus that when he beheld the rich man in Hell he did not open the conversation by asking "It this hot enough for you?"

Mr. Krank.—"Doctor, I don't know what is the matter with my head. I seem to hear a creaking sound that nearly drives me wild."

Dr. Caustic.—"What you hear is the squeaking of the wheels. You ought to oil the bearings once in a while."

The August Cosmopolitan.

The August Cosmopolitan comes to us with several good things, historical, descriptive or otherwise. A Daughter of Folly by Amelia E. Barr, is the principal work of fiction it contains and is splendidly written. The characters are well drawn and the descriptions have that rare quality that they seem to transport the reader to the very spot. But the illustrator has made an amusing error. On page 377 the heroine is represented as coming into church wearing her gown sleeves. This is not in accordance with the popular idea of a Scot fisher-girl. Under the Shadow of Tyburn Tree is another excellent story which deals with the old time right of redeeming the life of a criminal from the gallows by claiming him in wedlock. The Story of a Famous Expedition is the history of the attempt of Fremont to cross the Rocky Mountains, and is well worth the perusal.

During the heated term the Blowing Spring in Columbus Park has been more than a blessing, and the quantities of nice cool water brought away has been immense, at least fifty pails a day, but the disagreeable feature to us has been to see women obliged to climb a fence on Alabama Ave. when a pair of hinges on the gate would remedy it. Whose is the fault?

Brownsville.

C. F. Romines and wife have moved to Whitwell.

Miss Minnie Worth is in Sequachee for the present.

Carroll Griffith and wife were in Sequachee last Saturday.

Thos. Harris is logging for Alvis Brown while Mark is absent.

John Presnell was in Sequachee one day last week on business.

W. A. Brown cannot run his mill on account of lack of water.

A child of Jasper Doss died last Thursday and was buried Friday.

Mac Burnet of Sequachee was here one day last week on business.

Master Willie Skiles has been on the sick list but is able to be about again.

James Colson, Sr., is going to move to Whitwell as soon as he can get a house ready.

Alvis Brown is on the sick list this week with something like La Grippe.

Iaac Nunley wants to be our next deputy sheriff from the 1st district.

M. B. Alder and Geo., Alder of Victoria were calling on W. A. Brown this week.

Mrs. Sarah Musgrove of Whitwell is visiting her daughter Mrs. W. M. Houts this week.

Robt. Dixon of Sequachee was visiting his uncle Doc Coppinger of this place one day this week.

Geo. Higgins and wife have rented and moved into the house just finished by Dykes & Brown.

Lucius Ables who is one of the best drivers on the mountain is visiting his parents at Sequachee.

If you want any poetry on any subject send it to the Brownsville poet and it will sure go through:

E. J. Price who has been a little indisposed all summer is improving somewhat at present and is looking a great deal better.

Doc Coppinger is one of the liveliest men we have in our town. He claims this is his home. You can hear his laugh all over the public square.

G. M. Brown is visiting friends and relatives at Cowan and will be absent several weeks: There is a rumor that he is married but it is a mistake. Mark says he has never seen his intended yet and if he has he did not recognize her. He thinks more of "Maud S" than any lady he ever met. He may be persuaded yet in after years. He says there is no one but what is liable under those beautiful smiles of the lovely ones.

Cause of Hard Times.

It is not what a man earns, but what he saves that counts. I have traveled on four continents in our globe and have not found as much prosperity as in the United States. They labor for the necessities of life but we for the comforts of life and we spend more money than we make. The credit system of our country encourages extravagance in living and results in what we call hard times. I will conclude by saying with Charles Dickens: "Income 20 shillings; expense 19 shillings; result happiness. Income 20 shillings; expense 21 shillings; result misery."—P. S. Borich in Dallas News.

Mrs. Hammock was kind enough to remember the News while on her visit in Georgia and brought from Sand Mountain a fire peach and a ripe horse apple, for which thanks.
