

Nervous Prostration, Sleeplessness and Weakness.

WEST BROOKTON, QUEBEC, Oct. 1, '90.
The Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic I ordered was for a young lady of my household who was almost useless to herself and others, owing to nervous prostration, sleeplessness, weakness, &c., &c. To-day there is quite a change. The young person is much better, stronger and less nervous. She will continue to use your medicine. I think it is very good. P. SARVIE, Catholic Priest.

St. Vincent's Hospital,
TOLEDO, Ohio, June 9, 1890.
We used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for epileptic fits in the case of a Mrs. Gorman, and it stopped the fits from the time she commenced taking it. Wishing you an extensive sale for this beneficent remedy,
ESTHER BRADY, Secretary.

FREE A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a sample bottle to any address. Poor patients also get the medicine free.

Baker and Gunn.

Messrs T. H. Baker, Jr., and J. H. Gunn, Candidates for state Senator, met at the school house Friday night in joint discussion. Maj. Thos. H. Hill, as chairman of the meeting, introduced the speakers, leading off with Mr. Baker, who gave the people the hardest kind of common sense. He gave a vivid description of the various evils which beset the State, and summed up "Old Pete" and his ring of blood sucking politicians in their true colors. Other speakers have tried to palliate their offences, but Mr. Baker handled them without gloves, and the people rejoiced thereat mightily. Mr. Baker has an excellent way of taking up things in succession and disposing of them in the briefest and most forcible way that is possible. It is a part of his newspaper training and serves him in good stead now. High faluting oratory is not what the people want now, and the fewer words a candidate makes in explaining his views the better the people will appreciate it.

Mr. Baker presented his case in first class shape, and shows that if he is a young man he can also think. Chairman Hill then introduced Mr. Gunn who spoke on State issues also. He related his experience in reforming Grundy County, and Mr. Gunn is evidently a man of much experience and common sense, but when he closed, his platform was in a doubtful shape beyond the fact that he was a Democrat.

Mr. Gunn did not interest his audience as much as Mr. Baker did, and it was a very fair and impartial crowd, but perhaps his failure was due to sickness as he has been down with the fever.

When Mr. Gunn closed, several questions were propounded the candidates and after they were answered to the satisfaction of the people, it was moved and seconded to adjourn.

A Dandy Thing to Sell.

I have been doing so well this summer selling combination dipper that I think it is my duty to tell others about it. I have not made as much money as some I read about, but I never make less than $3 and often $5 a day; the dipper can be used as a fruit jar filler, a plain dipper; a fine strainer; a funnel; a strainer funnel; a sick room warming pan, and a pint measure. These eight different uses makes the dipper such a necessary article that it sells at nearly every house, as it is so cheap. You can get a sample by sending, as I did, 18 two-cent stamps to pay postage, etc., to W. H. Baird & Co., Station A, Pittsburg, Pa., and they will mail you a dipper, and you can go right to work. Any one can make $3 or $4 a day anywhere.

Brownsville.

G. M. Brown is still in the Valley at his old home.

Isah Lane was on business in the valley Saturday.

W. M. Houts was in the valley on business last week.

Henry Rutherford is still working on the mountain.

James Skiles attended the speaking one night last week.

Geo. Slatton attended the speaking at Whitwell last week.

Pat Morrison is still quite a favorite among the Brownsville girls.

Alvis Brown was at Victoria on business the fore part of the week.

Miss Emma Bailey was calling on the family of W. M. Houts Sunday.

Alex. Dixon, of Sequachee, was calling on friends and relatives this week.

Mrs. Minnie Stevenson, of Sequachee, is visiting her mother, Mrs. M. M. Mauzy, this week.

Lucius and Riley Ables, of Sequachee, were calling on James Skiles and family last Sunday.

Those mentioned in last week's items as being on the sick list have recovered sufficiently to be out and transacting business again.

Alvis Brown has had his mill overhauled and put in shape for running which will be as soon as it rains and he can get water, then he will be ready for business.

John Presnell is the biggest man in Brownsville. He is now called papa, and it is a blue-eyed and black-haired girl. He says it is the prettiest ever born on the mountain.

There is a rumor that another wedding will take place on the mountain before long. It is one of Brown's men and a fair girl of Brownsville. They attend church quite regularly now.

Miss Moore, of Cedar Springs, Miss Raulston, of Battle Creek, Misses Lula Gray, Rita Raulston, Ida Asburn, Edda Audes and Messes Kelly and Moore, of Red Hill, and Baker Baker, of Whitwell, were in our city one day last week to enjoy the pure air of the mountain, and were delighted with the pure water which flows from the Fountain. They were much pleased with their trip and returned with happy hearts after enjoying the hospitality of the citizens of our town, which is always extended to those who call on us. They are talking of returning next Sunday and taking a trip to the chimney at the head of the pocket.

A Money Maker in Hard Times.

I have for the five past years had a pretty hard struggle to make a living, but about three months ago I began selling self heating flat irons and have made from four to five dollars every day, which I think is pretty good for an inexperienced woman, my brother is now selling irons and makes more than I do but he has sold other things and is more experienced. The iron is self heating, so it is the proper heat all the time; and you can iron in half the time you commonly do and have the clothes much nicer, you can iron out under a tree or in any cool place and one cent's worth of Benzoin will do an ordinary ironing, so you save the price of the iron in fuel in a few weeks. By addressing W. H. Baird & Co., Station A, Pittsburg, Pa., you can get full particulars, and I know any one can do splendidly anywhere. We sell at nearly every house and any woman that irons once with a self heating iron will have one, as it saves so much labor and does so much better work.

Hiram Faith killed a wild cat near St. Stevens, Ala., a few days ago which was two feet ten inches from tip to tip and two feet high.

Says the Stevenson, Ala., Chronicle: "The bicycle craze has struck Stevenson at last, there being eight new wheels bought in the last month."

A little daughter of Bud Mattox, of Lamar County, Ala., was smothered to death in some cotton seed a few days ago by falling into a hole which she had made in the cotton.

Rev. Asa Routh, of Sullivan county, who is one of the oldest ministers in East Tennessee, has, since he was ordained, witnessed 5,000 conversions, baptized 3,000 persons, married 1,000 couples and preached more than 500 memorial sermons.

S. S. Kirkpatrick breaks the record for raising gourds even that one held by Dige Carroll. He exhibited one on the street last week that measured forty-nine inches long, is several inches longer than any gourd we have ever seen.—Jonesboro, Tenn. Herald and Tribune.

A Birmingham News reporter is informed that the T. C. I. & R. R. Co., sold during the past week just about the output of its nine furnaces now in blast. Each of these furnaces on an average produces about 175 tons of pig iron a day, the total being, therefore, in the neighborhood of 1,600 tons. There are four other furnaces in the district in blast with about the same average output a-piece, making about 700 tons per day more. The total output of the district, according to these figures, must be in the neighborhood of 2,300 tons of pig iron per day which is by no means a small matter in these times. No troubles of any consequence menace a great increase in the output and sales as soon as the country gets down to business again.

The death in Cordele, Ga., of Mrs. Joseph E. Bivins, wife of the President of the First National Bank, recalls a sensation as ghastly as it was realistic. Mrs. Bivins was formerly an old maid in Atlanta, Ga., where she had some little property. Dr. Marvin, a specialist from Omaha, Neb., came to Atlanta, wooed the mature maiden and made her his wife. He engaged in some real estate speculations which make him worth half a million. He then removed to this city and erected a magnificent home. The happy couple lived in this palace but a few weeks when the doctor sickened and died. Mrs. Marvin refused to be comforted. She forbade a funeral and telegraphed to New Orleans for an expert embalmer. The body was kept in the house where the widow could see it daily.

After about a year of this kind of enjoyment the widow concluded to give her hand and heart to Joseph E. Bivins, who had become her business manager. After her marriage she escorted him to her home and then it was that she gained the remarkable distinction of having two husbands in her house at the same time—one alive and the other dead. She carried Mr. Bivins to look upon the body of her dead husband in the parlor, and it was only after urgent solicitation on his part that she consented to the remains being sent to Macon and buried in Rose Hill cemetery.
