

PRESIDENT WILSON CANCELS REMAINDER OF SPEAKING DATES ON WAY BACK TO WASHINGTON ON ACCOUNT OF ILL HEALTH

Greene County Fair a Success— Notes on Work Accomplished

Today was devoted to the schools of the county, and had there been a heart of stone in the great crowds that witnessed the parade, that heart would have been melted or else been fit for the stone heap.

There must have been five thousand people on the streets with fully half of them from the different schools. So well were the schools represented, that it was necessary to for miles not only at the high school building but at the grammar school building, then in marching the two lines met and passed in opposite directions, the effect of which was beautiful as well as inspiring.

Banners addressed to the county court asking for more money for schools, more buildings, more teachers and that a chance be given every girl and boy to attend school, were carried by some of the schools.

All along the line of march, when the children of the Orphanage came in sight, it was the signal for waving and hand-clapping. We saw tears in the eyes of some. Perhaps they saw in their mind's eye the lives from which some of these dear children had been rescued and put on the road to useful citizenship by this great institution.

Mr. Wyser, the superintendent of the Orphanage, brought up the rear of his big family with a pony and cart, the little vehicle filled with the wee tots. This little crowd, too, wore the smile that betokened the love and attention they were getting every day of their little lives.

Probably no single event of this splendid fair will do more good, lastingly good, to the community and county in general than this "School Meet," which was so ably handled by the men and women who worked so hard to make it a success.

After the parade, Mr. Harry Clark, of the University of Tennessee, Knoxville, made a stirring address in behalf of education.

When the faculty and student body of Tusculum passed in the parade, we felt like lifting our hats and breathing a prayer that God would bless that grand old institution. There they came, every one with a smile, from faculty back to the last student; and why shouldn't they? One hundred and twenty-five years of service with honor is enough to bring a perpetual smile on the faces of these present-day workers, and on our faces, too.

Two gentlemen from Knoxville stood in front of the fruit department. They were arguing the question as to whether those fine apples and peaches were actually raised here in Greene county or not. They had just about decided that they had not when Francis Harrison hove in sight, and they were soon convinced that they were not only raised here in three or four different orchards, but that there were many orchards in the county capable of producing as fine fruit as any seen there. They remarked, "We didn't know you could do it."

As usual, the Red Cross came to the front. Some one remarked, "Perhaps our soldier boys have seen so much of the Red Cross that they have grown weary of it," but to this they gave answer, "No; a thousand times, no," in their eagerness to reach the Red Cross booth and enjoy the splendid treat prepared for them by the good people of the county from the different Red Cross organizations. The Junior Red Cross booth was liberally patronized by all. Here the children from the different junior organizations contributed things to sell, and a ready market was found for everything. Mr. H. R. Meade contributed largely to the financial success of this booth by letting the ladies in charge sell his fruit juices exclusively, and at the same time gave pleasure to all who enjoyed his product.

The fair was a success from start to finish. It was accomplished at the end of a very poor crop year. It has been a great thing for this county and for the individual. It has been managed by those who love to do such things, and they entered into it with all their hearts. Let's have the Fair next year, managed by the same corps of hustlers, and when anybody criticizes them and tries to belittle their work or stir up opposition lets tell the mto get up a fair of their own and see if they can do any better.

Labor's Right to Organize Was Denied By "Illegal, Unwarrantable, Brutal Means," Declares Samuel Gompers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—(By United Press.)—Labor's right today in court is the issue in the steel strike, Samuel Gompers told the Senate committee today. In the last twenty-five years the steel workers have been repeatedly denied the right to organize, Gompers said. "This was done with all the power, wealth, influence and domination of the steel corporations." He added, "They were denied this by illegal, unwarrantable, brutal means."

SPECIAL FOR LAST TWO DAYS OF THE FAIR

As many of our patrons doubtless have already observed The Daily Sun has been enlarged from day to day, to eight pages. We have done this at a disadvantage until our new press arrives which has been delayed. After which we expect to continue The Daily Sun as an eight-page seven-column newspaper. This announcement was made some weeks ago, but upon account of strikes, doubtless of which you are all aware, we have been delayed in getting in our new press. For this reason we are going to once more offer the readers, patrons and friends of Greene County's only daily newspaper—The Daily Sun—a chance to secure the yearly subscription on Thursday, Friday or Saturday of this week at the old price of $2.00 only. This offer is good for either new or renewal subscriptions to The Daily Sun. We trust that as many as have appreciated our efforts in giving Greenville and Greene County their first daily paper during the past few years will appreciate this offer enough to take advantage of it on at least one of the days mentioned above. As we state, positively, this is the last chance they will have to secure the paper at this price.

U. S. Marines Landed at Trau, Says Report Italians Leave Town

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 26.—American marines landed from a torpedo boat destroyer to compel the Italians to evacuate Trau, Dalmatia, according to a dispatch received here from Spalato, a short distance east of Trau. The dispatch adds that the Italians left after the inhabitants fired on them and that Yugoslav troops took over the town from the Americans.

The dispatch, which is dated Sept. 25 says that a Jugo-Slav detachment began an advance toward Trau when the American destroyer entered the harbor to compel the retirement of the Italians.

Open Fire on Italians
The inhabitants of Trau then opened fire on the Italians, who hastily departed.

The Italian commander and three men in armored car fell into the hands of the Slavs. In the meantime 200 American marines, with machine guns, landed and took over the armored car and the prisoners who subsequently were transferred to an Italian ship.

The Serbians arrived and were enthusiastically welcomed. The Americans handed over the town to the Jugo-Slav troops and re-embarked. The destroyer will remain in the harbor for a few days.

Does Greeneville Need a Creamery

Dr. C. A. Hatton, state dairyman, of the Bureau of Extension, at Knoxville, has been corresponding for some time with the principal dairymen of the county in regard to the opening up in Greeneville of a creamery, as a market for the dairy products of the county, which is one of the most productive in the state, and in need of an enterprise of this nature.

At present there are more than 300 patrons in this county alone of the Morrilstown creamery, which goes to show that with sufficient backing and interest this business could be kept at home and made a paying proposition. Some of our local dairymen and business men are now becoming interested in this venture and it is hoped that something will be done at an early date.

"This poet prates of the strong wine of love."
"Good deal of it is 2 per cent stuff these days."

Two Hundred American Marines Landed at Trau, Dalmatia, and Have Turned Town Over to Slavs

Suspect Held in Connection With Shooting Woman

KNOXVILLE, Sept. 26.—Lon Griffin, a white man, is held in the city jail as a suspect in connection with the shooting of Mrs. Dacie Ward, who was seriously wounded by an intruder at her home, 1642 Boyd street, shortly after three o'clock Thursday morning. Griffin who stoutly denies his guilt, was arrested by Patrolmen Wolfenbarger and Waugh and placed in jail just before noon yesterday.

One other arrest was made during the day, but an investigation resulted in the release of the culprit.

Mrs. Ward was shot, according to her statement, after she had resisted demands of an intruder, the bullet striking in her left side just beneath the armpit, and passing through the front portion of her breast, lodging just below the right of the heart.

The arrest of Griffin, according to the officers, came shortly after they had been given a description of a man who is said to have been prowling about the home of Mrs. Ward Wednesday afternoon.

Rare Old Time Had at Newport

NEWPORT, Tenn., Sept. 26.—The sensational event of circuit court here since it convened a week and a half ago took place in front of the court house door, on the curb of the main street, yesterday at one o'clock, when Sheriff John Holt, in the presence of Judge Drinnon and Attorney General Creswell and a crowd of about two hundred local citizens, chopped up seven moonshine stills, captured in this county within the last few months. The capacities of the stills ranged from ten to fifty gallons. Following the chopping of the stills thirty gallons of all-proof moonshine liquor were poured into the gutter. The gutter was so nearly level that the whiskey could not out-travel the crowd.

By the time it had run two-thirds of a block a gang of negroes had an improvised dam of ordinary gutter filth constructed so that the onrush of rare spirits found a stopping place and in a few minutes it was ankle deep in the gutter and appeared to be as clear as a crystal. A big burley negro took his place in the center of the gutter-dam and began dipping up and straining through his handkerchief into a pint cup and from the cup through the alimentary canal, to the regions of his best understanding. Others followed and filled pop bottles and sardine cans and anything that would hold the wasing juice. A half dozen negro men and boys and one white boy, about seventeen years old, partook of the tantalizing fruit abundantly. Presently word came from the judge for the officers to arrest all indulging parties and bring them into open court. And while the writer writes some of them are sitting in the court room waiting for the completion of a murder case before knowing their fate, but they are feeling good, no doubt, and at present don't mind it.

Trimble Trial May Be Held in Bristol

BRISTOL, Sept. 25.—The case of Jasper Trimble, charged with first degree murder for the alleged killing of Officer J. M. Carmack at Kingsport, Tenn., July 26, may be tried at the Bristol, Tenn., court house. The case which was to have been brought up for trial yesterday, was postponed until the place in the Circuit Court of Sullivan County, Tenn., now in session at Blountsville, for holding it can be decided upon.

The court announced yesterday that owing to the fact that the court house in Blountsville is now being torn down in preparation for the construction of a new, the trial will be held either at Bristol or Kingsport. If it is held at Kingsport it will be held the fourth Monday in November. If it is decided to bring the case to this city, however, it will be held at an early date.

WICHITA, Kan., Sept. 26.—(By United Press.)—President Wilson today cancelled all remaining dates on his League of Nations covenant tour and announced that he would return to Washington immediately. Ill health was announced from the stage of the auditorium here as the cause of the abandonment of his tour.

The President's train arrived here at 9:10 o'clock this morning, but he did not appear at the auditorium where he was scheduled to speak. The parade in his honor was postponed.

Admiral Grayson, the President's physician, declared that there was nothing critical about President Wilson's condition. A nervous reaction affecting the digestive organs due to the constant strain of the trip and last year, Grayson said, forced the abandonment of the trip in order that the President might get more exercise.

President Wilson is scheduled to arrive in Washington Sunday morning. No speeches were made in Wichita, the President taking an automobile ride instead.

5,000 Men From Vicinity of Steubenville, Ohio, Are Preparing to Invade W. Va., County and Compel Workers to Quit Jobs

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 26.—(By United Press.)—Governor Cornwell, of West Virginia, today telegraphed Governor Cox, of Ohio, that 5,000 men from the vicinity of Steubenville, were reported about ready to cross the Ohio river into Hancock County, West Virginia, and compel steel workers there to quit work. Such an act, Cornwell warned, will be regarded as an attack upon the sovereignty of West Virginia. Governor Cox immediately ordered the sheriff at Steubenville to take steps to prevent possible conflict between citizens of the two states.

Officials of Big Ohio Steel Men Claim 1,200 Employees Are Planning to Take a Vote Preparatory Returning to Work

CANTON, O., Sept. 26.—Twelve hundred men employed by the Canton Steel Company, as reported by officials of the plant, have voted over the question of returning to work Sunday.
