The Sans Souci.

The Sans Souci Club was most delightfully entertained last Friday afternoon by Misses Levisa and Annie Walker. Both Flinch and Whist were played, and three handsome prizes awarded. The club prize, a beautiful opera bag, was won by Mrs. Clifford Joyner. Miss Alma Haydon was the winner of the visitor's prize, a pretty white crepe de chine muffler, while the consolation, a box of stationery, went to Miss Bessie Glascock. A dainty course of ices was served after the games. The visitors present were Miss May Crockett, Miss Alma Haydon, Miss Bessie Glascock, Miss Ida Sanders, Mesdames Marvin Blanton, Harry Driver, Paine Bransford and Schluter Hughes. The club meets this week with Miss Ottie Mai Williams.

Francis Cockrill's Party.

Mrs. Cockrill gave a party, on Friday, the 12th, to her little son, Francis, in honor of his fourth anniversary. Quite a number of little people were present, and all enjoyed the afternoon's games and various amusements to the fullest. About 3:30 they were ushered into the dining room, which was beautifully decorated in red. The table was draped in red ribbons, and from the chandelier was suspended numbers of pretty paper bags containing nuts and candies, one being given to each little guest. Other dainty refreshments were served. In the center of the table sat a beautiful birthday cake, glowing in red and white candies, which proved delightful to all. Late in the afternoon all departed wishing little Francis many, many happy returns.

Review Club.

On Tuesday afternoon the Review Club held a most delightful meeting with Mrs. Wells. The lesson proved a very interesting and instructive one, being a study of art, "How to Look at Pictures."

Mrs. Paul Ingram, of Troy, was present and gave a nice talk about the club of which she is a member, which has been studying Shakespeare for the past four years. There was a very good attendance and the afternoon was enjoyed immensely by everyone. The meeting next week will be with Mrs. Robert Whipple.

Entertained at Dahnke's.

Last Friday evening Ewing Nailding most charmingly entertained a number of his friends at Dahnke's Cafe in honor of his eighteenth anniversary. Two delightful ice courses, with tortone's cake, were served and which were greatly enjoyed. Those present were Misses Lillie Wade, Kathleen Gibbs, Vivienne White, Kathleen Reynolds, Messrs. Wells Woody, Ewing Nailding, Wright Pardue and Will Beckham.

J. U. G.

Miss Bessie Glascock was the charming hostess, on last Thursday afternoon, of the J. U. G. Part of the afternoon was given to the selection of the club pins and colors, after which the time was devoted to music. Lovely refreshments were served. The visitors present were Misses Nettie Miller Carter and Vivienne White. The next meeting will be with Miss Ella Griffin.
