TAYLOR REITERATES POSITION.

Announces Self Firm Believer in State-Wide Primary.

Numerous inquiries from friends in Tennessee with regard to his attitude towards the gubernatorial contest between Gov. Patterson and ex-Senator Carmack have caused Senator Taylor to make the following statement:

"I have said nothing since my interview in which I disagreed with the State committee upon the method of holding the election. I am for a State-wide primary, just as Carmack and I had it out, and I shall fight for it in the future.

"The majority of the Democratic party in Tennessee should make the nomination of every officer, and I hope that no man will be elected to the legislature this fall who does not openly declare for a primary law giving the majority of the people the right to say who shall be nominees. I am opposed to any manipulation which takes from the people that right."

Senator Taylor said that he would not be a candidate for delegate, to the Denver convention—an honor which he thinks should go to one who has not been complimented by his party.

Killing in Lake County.

At a dance at Hortense in the Eight Civil District of Lake County John Tanner was shot and killed by Alvin White. Tanner lived at the old Glay mill site and White at Tyler's handle-factory in Kentucky. Hortense is some two miles from the Kentucky and Tennessee line. The homicide was committed some time in the small hours of the night, about 4.30 a. m. Tanner leaves a wife and two small children. White is single.

Date For Primary.

The Obion County Democratic Executive Committee met Monday and fixed June 27 as the date for holding the primary for all county officers and State Senator. A resolution that in case there was but one candidate for any office he should and would be declared the nominee of the party by the committee was adopted.

RETURNS FROM DYER.

Showing Results of the Democratic Primary—For the Senate Also.

Dyersburg, Tenn., May 2.—The Democratic primary election was held in Dyer County to-day to nominate candidates for Legislature and county officers. The returns so far received show that S. B. Tatum was nominated for a second term in the State Legislature over Squire C. W. Walters by a small majority. C. C. Dawson was renominated for sheriff of Dyer County over J. B. King by a majority of 200, and W. T. Wilson was renominated for Register over William Baker. Geo. T. Johnson, incumbent, defeated Lawrence Tipton for County Court Clerk by a large majority, and Thomas Ferguson was renominated for County Tax Assessor over John B. Walker and J. H. Lucas by a small majority.

The Senatorial primary election was also held to-day in the Senatorial district embracing the counties of Dyer, Lauderdale and Crockett. W. H. Ward, an attorney of Dyersburg, is reported to have carried all three counties over H. C. S. Sugg, incumbent.

One of the most curious claim cases ever known to Congress was that of Senora Feliciano Mendiola, who lived at Angeles, Pampanga, Philippine Islands. The Senora rented a house to Uncle Sam for the use of some of his teamsters.

When the mule-driving contingent moved out of the house after a short occupancy the senora declared under an oath that some of the siding boards were missing from the kitchen wall, and she asked for $200 in gold to repay her for the damage to her property.

This case of Senora Feliciano Mendiola fills fourteen pages of a House of Representative documents. It contains a long letter from the Secretary of War on the question of the kitchen siding, another...

...to attend. One teamster, Langworthy by name, swore the senora's kitchen sidings were chewed up and eaten by red ants.

Teamster Summerville swore that, in his opinion, the boards dropped out of place by their own weight. Teamster pickle said: "them board was punk."

The army board which sat on the case thought it was very doubtful in strict justice if senora Feliciano should be allowed any money, but finally the members granted her the sum of $30 in gold. This action, of course, was not final, but the Committee on War Claims in House and Senate approved the finding.

The senora received $30, and doubtless it gave her some satisfaction to know that Uncle Sam had spent about $1,000 to get...
