MINNICK.

The young people had a party at Mrs. Hess Turnage's one night last week.

Bro. Willis Carter has been on the sick list this week, but we understand that he is better at this writing.

Rev. I. N. Penick, of Martin, and Rev. B. F. Smith, of Ridgely, passed through our burg one day last week and gave us some good encouragement about our Baptist Church going to be built soon.

Rev. Norman filled his last appointment here last Sunday to an appreciative audience. The people here fear we will never get another man here that we think as much of as we do of Brother Norman, but as he has to go, we hope he will get a good station.

Our farmers seem to be somewhat disappointed at not being able to harvest as large a crop as usual. But they are taking advantage of the pretty weather by harvesting what they have. We hardly think Mr. Rockefeller, if he should come through our country with his million-dollar bottle of vermifuge, would stop to pour any of it on our people, for he couldn't think they were lazy or bothered with hookworm. We think the hookworm business is all a hoke anyway, especially since it is suggested that they get in a boy's system through the bottom of his feet. Why, you can't drive a ten-penny nail through the foot of a boy who has gone bare-footed all his life. We opine Mr. Rockefeller thinks our people are lazy and asleep because they have let him fleece them: out of $500,000,000. When the Northern soldiers came down here as uninvited guests from '61 to '65 there wasn't one who got back and reported he found the Southern people sleeping.

Mr. Wash Calhoun and wife, of Tally's, visited their daughter, Mrs. Frank Brown, Sunday.

Mrs. Emmett Davis, of Mineral Spring, was the guest of Mrs. Tom Davis Wednesday night.

Bethel Camp No. 1359, M. W. A., met Saturday night, and in the absence of the regular Consul, C. P. Caldwell, Neighbor Alton Maupin filled the Consul's chair. Dr. Houston Gilliland, Charlie G. Cloar and Fayette Maupin were adopted in full fellowship. Two other candidates were elected for adoption and the goat given a strong diet for their reception. The camp voted to celebrate its first anniversary on Saturday night before the fourth Sunday in November. Following are the committees: Program, Dr. Her Glover, Doll Garrison, Knox Haislip; refreshments, John Flowers, Henry Osborn; music, Jim Pendleton, Thos. McDaniel. WILD PLUM.

Jesse Walker Dead.

The announcement received here today of the death of Jesse Walker of heart failure at the home of his daughter, Mrs. D. B. Ely, in Cairo, this morning at 6 o'clock, was received in the city with surprise. About four weeks ago Mr. Walker left Fulton for Cairo, and while he was ill, no one thought that the end was so near, not even his immediate relatives.

Besides two sisters, Mrs. H. C. Simpson, of this city, and Mrs. Bob Horton, of McGregor, Texas, and one brother, Joe Walker, he leaves six children, Mrs. Ada Ross of Dukedom, Mrs. Hiram Norman of Blodgett, Mo., Mrs. Ben Hughes of Union City, Mrs. D. B. Ely, of Cairo, Jesse and Ollie Walker.

Mr. Jesse Walker was marshal of South Fulton for 23 years, and during that time displayed such courage and ability as a peace officer as to make his services almost indispensable. He was a terror to law breakers and a source of protection to the citizens of South Fulton. Mr. Walker came to Fulton in 1872 from Hickman County, Ky., where he was born in 1850. At the age of 13 he enlisted in the army and took part in the war of the great rebellion.

In religion he early developed the habit of weighing things in the balance of reason, discarding that which to him did not harmonize with the Creator's plan as he saw God's laws in the big book of nature.

His convictions, whether right or wrong, were honest and sincere, resulting from much careful study and analysis on his part and with which he calmly met the fate of all flesh.—Fulton Daily Commercial, Friday.

Farmers, Attention.

Did you ever see hogs as high as they have been for the last six months? Do you look for them to be cheaper within the next twelve? We certainly do not look for lower prices on this stock, and want you to look into the matter for yourself, and there is no reason why you should not get $5.00 per bbl. for your corn by feeding to hogs. A number of farmers have made hundreds of dollars already this year, and some in the thousands, by handling hogs and cattle. If you have not got the hogs to feed, buy some. See us when you want to buy or sell.
