Taking the Census.

Seventy thousand enumerators will begin counting the people of the United States next Friday morning. A fortnight later the population of all the principal towns and cities ought to be known and by September it is believed that the tabulation of the whole count will be completed. Until then the population will be estimated at about 90,000,000. The enumerators will have to visit every place of residence and ask many questions. Those who refuse or who give incorrect information subject themselves to a fine of $100. The enumerators ought to have the hearty cooperation of all citizens and are entitled to courteous treatment. The information given them will be guarded as confidential. It will not be published, only general results being of interest to the government. To publish the tables of population and of the agricultural, mining and industrial resources and activities of the nation will require more than a dozen thick volumes so that it is evident that there will be no room for the printing of facts about any individual or company, however vast may be their operations. It is in the interest of every city and county to help the enumerators to get the facts wanted by the census director. Without the willing assistance of the public people will be missed and an unfavorable census showing will result. It is equally important that no cattle, sheep, hogs, horses, mules or other farm property shall be left uncounted. Upon the number of these things that are shown by a county or State will depend the rating of that community as a progressive or a backward place and people who may be thinking of removing to engage in business elsewhere will be guided by the facts shown by the census. In no case are the answers made to census enumerators ever communicated to tax assessors. One cannot repeat too often that they are entirely confidential and the enumerators are sworn to guard the information they receive for the census supervisors and tabulators alone.—News-Scimitar.

Eminent Authorities Say that out-door exercise is needed by the American people. That's all very well, but how can people with rheumatism follow that advice? The answer is very simple—use Ballard's Snow Liniment and the rheumatism will go, leaving you as spry as a colt. Gives quick and permanent relief from rheumatism, neuralgia, lame back and all pains. Sold by Red Cross Drug Store, both stores.

Income Tax Amendment.

The Maryland Legislature has ratified the income tax amendment to the Federal Constitution. Seven of the States have now ratified the amendment, if Kentucky be included in the number. It will be remembered that the Kentucky Legislature adopted two ratification resolutions which Gov. Wilson thought defective in form, and that a third resolution was pending when the body adjourned sine die. It has been stated, however, that the Governor will send one of the resolutions that were passed to the Secretary of State at Washington who will decide whether it is technically regular. The proposed amendment has been rejected by only one State, Virginia, but it has failed of ratification in Georgia and Connecticut on account of postponement of action by one branch of the Legislature. The Legislature of four States are now in session, Massachusetts, New York, New Jersey and Rhode Island, but none of these bodies has yet acted on the amendment.—Nashville Banner.

To Speaker Cannon.

Washington, April 12.—Speaker Cannon's declaration to the House "insurgents" during his speech yesterday brought some positive statements from the insurgent leaders to-day. "The Speaker can continue to make these irritating defies," said Representative Victor Murdock (Kansas) "until after the administration legislation is disposed of. After we have passed the important legislation in hand, his case will be attended to. A man can't continue to make large bluffs without eventually being called."

Representative Poindexter, of Washington, remarked: "Cannon's action is foolish. He is sitting on a powder mill. He'll touch this thing off some day and he will find himself going up through the dome of the Capitol."

Would Bring About Merger.

Cincinnati, O., April 12.—Eighteen delegates of Methodist Churches, six bishops, six ministers and six laymen, met here to-day at the book concern to arrange a plan whereby a federation that will include more than five million Methodists can be formed. It will be the aim of the delegates to bring about the often tried plan of organizing a General Conference of the Northern and Southern Methodists. The delegates will hold separate sessions to-day preliminary to joint sessions to bring about the merger later in the week.

The Southern Bishops here for Conference are Bishop E. E. Hoss of Nashville, Bishop James Atkins of Waynesville, N. C., Bishop A. W. Wilson of Baltimore, and Bishop Earl Cranston of Washington, D. C.

Halley's Comet Now Visible.

It is no longer necessary to resort to the use of the glass if a good view of Halley's comet is to be witnessed. This may be had at a short hour before sunrise. The comet is distinctly bright. It shines just about an hour before dawn. There is no mistaking it. It can be found in the Eastern sky, just above the point where the sun is yet unseen and just where the sun will later shine. A week ago a glass was necessary, but now this is not required. It has been seen from the weather bureau and from the big trust buildings in the city. Those who live in the country have a greater advantage still, for the sky is never cloudy and the fog, which so often settles about the city, is missing. So far the tail is just beginning to be developed, but the brightness of the body of the star gives it an almost unnatural appearance. It will furnish a good excuse to sit up at nights, and will no doubt be used as such during the days to come.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

Labor Troubles.

Three hundred thousand organized coal miners in Pennsylvania, Ohio and other States quit work April 1, pending settlement of a new wage scale. The number of strikers in the different States is given by the Associated Press as follows:

State of Pennsylvania.....	100,000
Ohio.....	45,000
Indiana.....	18,000
West Virginia.....	10,000
Illinois.....	72,000
Iowa.....	15,000
Michigan.....	5,000
Kansas, Arkansas and South.....	25,000
Colorado.....	5,000
Western Kentucky.....	5,000
Total men idle.....	300,000

Associated Press correspondents express the opinion that the strike may last a month or longer.
