The Winning Warren

In every contest the WARREN 30 has shown itself possessed of extraordinary power, speed and endurance, cost considered. It has the high quality of construction, simplicity and strength of design that wins. In hill climbs its record has been just as brilliant. It has never been defeated. You have only to compare motors, transmission, axles, wheels, frames, springs, radiators and the other important mechanical details of construction to realize the Warren-Detroit excels in these important details. Gives you more for your money. Let us demonstrate to you.
