Morgan-Verhine Co. The Big Store

Sale at Samburg.

The Bishop Land and Auction Co. held a very popular lot sale at Samburg Wednesday, supplemented with a barbecue and all the features of a modern sale. Quite a number of lots were sold, including buyers as follows: D. C. Hamilton, W. N. Holt, A. L. Ferguson, Mrs. Bert Fulghum of Chattanooga, J. G. B. Doen, John Cochran, Davis Lyon, R. J. and J. E. Marshall, W. H. Applewhite, T. E. Diehl, J. H. Erwin, A. T. Dickey, Ira Ruble, Allen White, J. M. Moores, C. L. Brooks, L. A. Kimzey, J. H. Archey, J. T. Chiles.

Morgan Street Improvements.

Messrs. G. W. Dodson and H. B. Horner have moved their street grading and concrete paving forces from the East Main addition to Morgan street, or that portion of Morgan running from Dr. Nailling's home on Main street to Mayor Coble's residence on College street. The street has been well graded and made wider, the old fences removed and men are now engaged laying an up-to-date concrete walk from Vine to College.

These gentlemen own the old Walker property, purchased from Mrs. W. B. Sowell, the Charlie Wells property and removed the buildings to Baptistville, and have recently bought the eastern section of the northern half of the old Alex Brackin property. This gives the owners something like a dozen splendid residence lots facing the improved street, which we understand will soon be placed on the market.

These gentlemen are hustlers and when they say "move," the lots will have to go, and they will be more than apt to sell before the improvements are completed, as the location is ideal—right in the center of the city, convenient to the Public School and the Methodist, Baptist and Cumberland Churches.

Mayor Coble has recently transformed the A. J. Corum house into a $3,500 two-story building. C. W. Miles, Jr., is completing a modern $4,500 house, both on Morgan, and it is reported no lots will be sold in this section unless the purchaser is prepared to build a nice house.

Death of Mrs. Noah.

Mrs. Nancy Noah, mother of our fellow townsman, T. P. Noah, died at her home in the Tenth District on Thursday, the 15th inst., after an illness of several years.

Mrs. Noah as Miss Roberts was born in South Carolina in 1836 and with her parents moved to Middle Tennessee when a child. She was married there to John C. Noah and they came to Obion County in 1856.

Deceased is survived by four children, three brothers—T. P., Joe and Sam and Mrs. Gerda Roper. She was a life-long Christian and a charter member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church at Beech.

A sainted woman, ripe in years and good deeds, kind, charitable, sympathetic, tender and devotedly attached to her loved ones and friends she passed away, leaving the blessings of a bountiful heart and hand to the loved ones here.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Burgess Cunningham and the remains were interred at Beech.

Card of Thanks.

To the many friends and neighbors who so kindly came to our assistance in this the greatest sorrow of our lives and to our physician for his faithfulness throughout, we offer our heartfelt thanks. May God's richest blessings be with each and every one.

MRS. M. E. HAMILTON AND FAMILY.

Arrested for Shooting Boy.

Lexie Harris, who discharged a gun and killed young Lunsford last week, was arrested Tuesday by Sheriff Eastwood and arraigned for examining trial yesterday.

Killed With Gun.

One of the greatest tragedies or accidents happened Saturday, the 11th inst., about 8 o'clock at the home of A. P. Lunsford. His son, Claud, was shot and instantly killed by Lexie Harris, a neighbor boy about twenty years old. Harris wanted to borrow Claud's gun. He told him he could get it. Harris then went to the house, got the gun went back to the barn where Claud was fixing feed, only one other party being present it seems. Only a few friendly words were passed between the two boys, when Harris remarked, "I am going to shoot you," raised the gun and fired. Harris claims it was an accident, but it seems that the neighbors and family are both undecided as to whether it was an accident or done intentionally. It certainly is a mistake about Harris being an orphan. He is the son of Harve Harris, who lives near Caruthersville, Mo.

Metcalf Laundry.

New machinery and splendid equipment are being installed for the Metcalf Laundry. The old building is being overhauled and the entire plant when ready for business will also occupy one of the new concrete houses on Church street. Mr. Metcalf is giving Union City a plant in the way of modern apparatus that is second to none anywhere. He will be ready to open for work here in about thirty days.

Florists.

Messrs. Will Watts and J. D. Wrather have formed a partnership in the floral business, taking over the Postma plant. These gentlemen expect to give Union City a first-class enterprise, serving the public with efficiency and dispatch, soliciting orders everywhere and guaranteeing the best in their line. They ask consideration of a home industry which gives a full return for your money.

Home Burned.

News reached J. L. Ranson, Jr., of the burning of his father's home at McEwen Wednesday night. The house and contents were all destroyed with no insurance. The friends in Union City regret the misfortune.

At Beech.

The Ladies' Auxiliary at Beech church will observe W. B. M. day next Sunday, the 26th inst. Special music and program are arranged for the occasion.

Card of Thanks.

To those who so kindly ministered to the wants of our dear mother during her illness and sent flowers for her casket we feel indeed grateful. Especially do we thank Dr. Bond for so faithfully attending her. May God's richest blessings attend each of you.

IT WAS "DELIGHTFUL POISON"

Pretty Legend of the Origin of Wine in Persia, Where It First Was Made.

The making of wine is said to have originated with the Persians, who discovered the process quite by accident. One of their earliest kings, Jemshedd, who, it is said, was only five or six generations from Noah, was the discoverer, or rather a woman of his household was.

"He was immoderately fond of grapes," says the narrator, which is found in Sir John Malcolm's "History of Persia," "and desired to preserve some, which were placed in a large vessel and lodged in a vault for future use. When the vessel was opened the grapes had fermented and their juice in this state was so acid that the king believed it must be poisonous."

"He had some vessels filled with it and 'Poison' written upon each. These were placed in his room. It happened that one of his favorite ladies was affected with nervous headache; the pain distracted her so much that she desired death. Observing a vessel with 'Poison' written on it, she took it and swallowed its contents. The wine, for such it had become, overpowered the lady, who fell down into a sound sleep and awoke much refreshed.

"Delighted with this remedy, she repeated the doses so often that the monarch's poison was all drunk. He soon discovered this and forced the lady to confess what she had done. A quantity of wine was made and Jemshedd and all his court drank of the new beverage, which from the circumstance that led to its discovery is to this day known in Persia by the name of Zehere-khoosh, or 'the delightful poison.'"

FRENCH LOVE OF DRAMATIC

National Trait Illustrated by Story of Soldier Who Was Carrying the Pardon.

When Marshal MacMahon was president of the French republic, an incident occurred which aptly illustrates the French love of what is dramatic.

A French soldier sat on the summit of a hill overlooking a garrison town; his horse was picketed close by; the man was smoking leisurely, and from time to time he glanced from the esplanade to a big official envelope he held in his hand.

A comrade passing by asked, "What are you doing here?"

"I am bearing the president's pardon for our friend Flichmann, who is to be shot this morning," replied the smoker, calmly, without changing his comfortable attitude.

"Well, then, you should hurry along with your pardon," admonished his comrade.

"Ah, no!" exclaimed the other, in some indignation. "See, there is hardly a soul yet on the esplanade, and the firing platoon has not even been formed. You surely would not have me rob my appearance of all dramatic effect, my friend!"

WOMEN MAY AVOID OPERATIONS

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

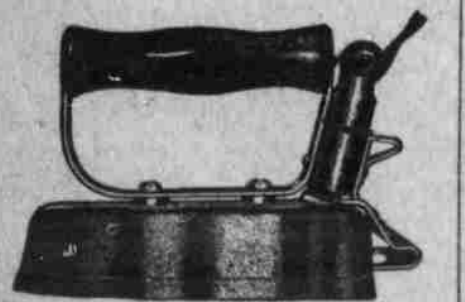

The following letter from Mrs. Orville Rock will prove how unwise it is for women to submit to the dangers of a surgical operation when it may be avoided by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She was four weeks in the hospital and came home suffering worse than before.

Here is her own statement. Paw Paw, Mich.—"Two years ago I suffered very severely with a displacement. I could not be on my feet for a long time. My physician treated me for seven months without much relief and at last sent me to Ann Arbor for an operation. I was there four weeks and came home suffering worse than before. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I did. Today I am well and strong and do all my own housework. I owe my health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and advise my friends who are afflicted with any female complaint to try it."—Mrs. ORVILLE ROCK, R. R. No. 5, Paw Paw, Michigan.

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for women's ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women. Why don't you try it?
