M. W. of A. Celebrate.

On Saturday last, Nov. 2, 1912, the members of Bethel Camp, No. 13453, celebrated their fourth anniversary and report much success.

At a very early hour a large crowd had gathered and by 10 o'clock the building was filled beyond seating capacity. Rev. Raymond White offered the opening prayer. Mr. J. M. Brice, who was to extend a welcome to all present, unfortunately was absent. The speeches on Woodcraft were unexcelled and weightily delivered by three of the best speakers in the country—State Deputy J. S. Johnson, Nashville; District Deputy Ben W. Carpenter, of Martin, and Miss Hazel Manley, of Union City.

State Deputy Johnson expressed pleasure in feeling welcome among the people and assured them of the great reward in store for them. He dwelt for a short time on the Woodmen Home in Colorado, where the great white plague is treated with the utmost skill. In closing he extended to all a cordial invitation to his home. Too much cannot be said for this generous man, who, in a sometimes comical, sometimes sincere and tender way wins the hearts of every one with whom he comes in contact.

Deputy Carpenter, one of the best men, as well as Woodmen, in the world, clearly explained the change of rates, etc., in a satisfactory manner. He paid his compliments to the grumbler, the curser and the non-appreciated knocker. At the finish of this eloquent speech Dr. Har Glover very gracefully marched his troop of Woodmen in uniform to the front and presented to their leader as a token of their love and appreciation a very beautiful saber.

Miss Manley, in her usual charming way, spoke on the grandeur of Modern Woodcraft and its supporters. She addressed the Woodmen fathers and the young men, pointing out to each and every one the benefits and opportunities open to him in the great order. Being heartily applauded at the close of her address, she very kindly gave a very funny sketch of a young Yankee who was very much in love, which proved a source of delight to the audience. It seems this girl, though very young, is destined to become a great lecturer as well as writer. Gov. Benton McMillin having acknowledged in his recent speech at Troy, "he had at last met a speaker greater than himself." I too listened to her debate a well known subject when only a small child, and though some grown young men and women supported the negative side, she faced them bravely and carried off the ribbon.

Glover Ferrell and his friends deserve a mark of merit, having made a great hit with their quartette singing. Their voices blend splendidly together, each being a professional singer.

Miss Gertrude Walters, the well known and appreciated expression teacher from town, beautifully recited some comical pieces to an attentive audience.

Grace Glover, Elaine Mitchell, Fay Taylor, Emma Garrison and Mr. Waller Caldwell gave excellent readings.

The song by little Miss Bonnie Lasley was very pleasing to all, and plenty of good music was enjoyed throughout the entire day.

Plenty of good dinner was spread and served abundantly at noon.

It was a great celebration.

Long live the Modern Woodmen of America.
