Tin Used in Weighting Silk.

A chemist has recently analyzed a sample of a silk dress that was submitted to him by a lady. He found that it contained only a fraction over 28 per cent. of silk, and as much tin was found in it as that present in poor tin ores from Cornwall. The tin occurs in the so-called weighting of the silk. The chemist states that he at once realized the fact that the silk dresses worn by the ladies in London, taken together, would represent a Cornish tin mine of very fair quality—London Mail.

Good Mental Tonic.

As appearance means so much to the average woman, mentally as well as socially, the question often arises, "Is she justified in aiding or improving her nature if she sees fit?" Many of our well-known medical men think that "make-up" is as good a mental tonic as anyone can take and greatly advise its use, especially for the girl who has some slight personal defect—a scar, a poor complexion or bloodless lips, for the knowledge of her defects makes her shy and oftentimes sulky and miserable.

EVERYBODY IS TALKING ABOUT

THE ST. LOUIS REPUBLIC.

And indeed there is something to talk about. Where there's smoke there's fire. Things are happening at The Republic. Its new editor, Horatio W. Seymour, has his own ideas about making a newspaper. And Republic readers seem to think they are pretty good ideas, too. They are tickled with the crisp, spicy little paragraphs of editorial comment which appear each day; they are delighted with the good, sound, militant Democracy—old-fashioned, Jeffersonian Democracy—and the merciless exposure of Republican fallacies and misrule; they are laughing over the caricatures and funmaking cartoons; they are interested in the stories of strange, novel things that happen in every-day life and recognize the superior manner in which the news in general is given; they are pleased with the new dress The Republic is wearing—clearer type and more open lines.

The enlarged size of The Republic, its enlarged staff of writers, its enlarged facilities for obtaining and printing the news and the liveliest and best editorial page in the Mississippi Valley are making The St. Louis Republic the most talked-of, the most interesting and the cheapest newspaper, value considered, to be had by the residents of Missouri and contiguous territory.

Sample copies will be cheerfully sent upon receipt of your name and address. Let us mail them to you; also copy of free pamphlet entitled "Your Money Back," describing a special, extraordinary offer. Write to-day before you forget it.

What He's Going to Give Up.
"For ten years I have been trying to give up smoking."
"That so?"
"Yes, but this year I am going to give up trying."

Banks Guarded by Soldiers.
Like the Bank of England, the Bank of France is now guarded every night by soldiers, who do sentry duty outside the building, a watch being likewise kept inside its precincts. But within quite recent times the officials at the French bank resorted to a very novel method of protecting their bulion. This consisted in engaging masons to wall up the doors of the vaults in the cellar with hydraulic mortar as soon as the money was deposited each day in these receptacles. The water was then turned on and kept running until the whole cellar was flooded. A burglar would be obliged to work in a diving suit and break down a cement wall before he could even begin to plunder the vaults. When the bank officials arrived next morning the water was drawn off, the masonry torn down and the vaults opened. Curious enough, within a few months this obsolete manner of protecting the bank's cash was done away with, burglars did actually get into the vaults and decamp with about $45,000 in gold coin.—Strand Magazine.
