SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. Berryhill, Editor.
Telephone 140. Kindly report as early as convenient.

Makes Baseball Team.
John Waddell has made the Vandy baseball team and will probably do some base work on it this season. He will be known as "Rube Waddell II," which is counting one too soon, as he has an uncle in Louisiana who is known on a local diamond by that title.

The scarcity of social news this week is a reminder of some of the news reports in the "Fruit Cake Special," the weekly paper of the U. C. T. S. The weather report in this sheet was given last week under the heading of weather news and contained the expressive word, muchly used in scholastic circles, "rotten." Under the heading, "River News," was the observation, "No river, no news." For a reporter paid at the usual column rate, the fact of there being no river and consequently no river news is naturally disheartening, but what can be much worse is the fact that there is "No weather, no society." One of our colored uncles says that we are going to have bad weather until Easter Sunday, and as there is more local trust placed in his predictions than in those of the Washington bureau man, a general blighted appearance will probably be noticed in the social news for some time to come.

Miss Genevieve Nailling's Luncheon.

Miss Genevieve Nailling gave a most delightful buffet luncheon in honor of the Thursday Whist Club on Thursday, March 7. Covers were served for three courses to about thirty guests, who included, besides the regular club members, many club visitors.

Bridge Club.

The Bridge Club met with Mrs. W. R. Hendrix Wednesday afternoon. Bridge was played at four tables. Visitors besides the club members were Mesdames Jones, Wells, Trevethan and Jackson and Misses Bessie Beck and Mabel Griffin. The first prize, a lingerie sachet, was won by Miss Bess Glassecock and the cut prize, silk hose, by Mrs. R. M. Whipple.

For Miss Medea Jones.

Miss Agnes Coble entertained with a bridge luncheon Tuesday evening for her house guest, Miss Medea Jones, of Mount Pleasant. Bridge was played at two tables, those present being Misses and Messrs. Genevieve Nailling and Granville Saunders, Margaret Watson and W. H. Swiggart, Jr., Mary Andrews and George Gibbs, Jr., Will McAdoo and Walker Martin.

Mrs. Stanfield's Guest.

Mrs. Henry Stanfield went to Memphis Wednesday afternoon where she remained this week with relatives to hear the Lambardi operas. She will be accompanied home to-day by Mrs. E. C. Conners, a former popular visitor here as Miss Margaret Bond.

Death of J. W. Martin.

J. W. Martin, Sr., died at his home near Woodland Mills, at the age of seventy-five years. The deceased was a well known citizen, the father-in-law of J. J. Barrus and W. D. Flack. He leaves a widow and family. A son of the deceased is J. W. Martin, Jr., who some years ago moved to Oklahoma. Mr. Martin died on the 10th inst., last Sunday, and the remains were interred at Salem with services by Rev. Hughes.

Death of Mrs. Dora Cook.

The death of Mrs. Dora Cook, wife of J. C. Cook, occurred in Memphis last Monday night, the 11th inst., where Mr. and Mrs. Cook have been located for some months. The family lived formerly in Union City for a few years, coming here from Martin. Mr. and Mrs. Cook were married about eight years ago. The deceased was a Miss Dowell, and of the union there are three children: Mary Annie, Auvergne and J. C., Jr. Mrs. Cook was a member of the Baptist Church, worshipping here for a number of years under the pastorate of Rev. E. L. Watson, who came up with the remains from Memphis to conduct the funeral, which was held at the Baptist Church Wednesday afternoon. The good woman was a Christian in deed and in truth, esteemed for her worth and character and the graces of kindness and friendliness. The remains were interred at East View with a beautiful floral tribute.

Will those who owe The Commercial for subscription please let this remind them to send or come and pay up or notify us whether or not they want the paper continued. Please attend to this while you think of it.

Death of B. D. Burch.

Benjamin D. Burch, an aged citizen, died at his home in this city on Friday, March 8, 1912, from infirmities peculiar to decline. Mr. Burch had not been in good health for some time and was confined at home. He was a native of Antwerp, N. Y., born July 28, 1827. He came South in 1844 and settled in Covington, from there enlisting in the Confederate Army. After the war he located in Union City. He was married to Miss Sallie Turner, whose death occurred about eight years ago. Three children survive—John, George and Mrs. Richard Pursley. Deceased joined the Methodist Church in Union City in 1880. He was well known to the older citizens and esteemed for many good points. Funeral services were held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Pursley, conducted by the pastor, and the remains were interred at East View.

A. M. Hancock.

Achilles M. Hancock, a native of Giles County, whose home has been in Union City since boyhood, died last Tuesday morning, March 12, 1912. Mr. Hancock was over sixty years of age. He was educated for the practice of law and offered his services to the public in that profession. On account of peculiarities of character, Mr. Hancock became an eccentric and almost a recluse, but was, as far as known, clean in his personal character. He lived alone and died after some weeks or months from a decline superinduced by la grippe. The remains were interred in the old City Cemetery, where his relatives are buried. Services were held over the remains at the Home Furniture Co. undertaking establishment, conducted by Rev. Brinkley.
