MRS. T. F. PALMER, Rives, Tenn.

Mrs. Martha J. Major Dead.

Mrs. Martha J. Major died Sunday morning at 12:30 o'clock at her home near McConnell.

Death was due to the infirmities incident to old age, being in her eighty-sixth year. For several years she has been quite feeble and was subject to attacks of heart trouble which hastened her death.

The burial took place this morning at 11 o'clock at Walnut Grove. Revs. Walters and Simmons had charge of the funeral service.

The deceased leaves the following children to mourn her death: Dr. Geo. L. Major, of this city, Miss Nora Alice Major, of McConnell, Mrs. Robert Mitchell, of near this city, Mrs. G. P. Sellars, of Gibson, Tenn., Joe Major, of Corinth, Miss., and Rev. John Major, of Fayette, Mo.

For more than sixty-five years the deceased was a member of the Methodist Church and it may be truly said of her that "the beauty of virtue was illustrated in her life and the excellence of Christianity was exemplified in her death."—Fulton Leader.

INDIA AND CEYLON OR MIXED

WELL DRESSED WOMAN

Double Skirt Effects—Durbar Embroideries—Laces Galore.

Better than most does the New York woman understand the value of stylish accessories. Not every born knickerbocker of course, for there are any number of the native born without an atom of clothes sense, but the average of good dressing is high on Fifth Avenue as all the world knows.

PIERROT RUCHES.

The woman with a long thin neck is having her innings just now when Pierrot ruches extending up and down from a tiny band at the base of the neck, are most fashionable. These are usually made of two shades of maline, black over white, blue over green, etc. A narrow velvet ribbon covers the band. Side frills are still much worn and collarless finishes are used for waists and blouses, but any girl out of school has the neck filled in with a net or lace collar, and this should be high as the throat will permit.

DURBAR EMBROIDERIES.

What are known as Durbar embroideries and trimmings give an up-to-date touch to many taffeta frocks and suit waists. These are odd patterns developed in the rather garish colors of the East, in woolen and heavy silk thread. The name of course suggested by the gorgeous Oriental ceremonies attending the crowning of King George and Queen Mary as Emperor and Empress of India.

DOUBLE SKIRTS.

Nearly every skirt one sees is either double skirted or trimmed to give that effect, and combinations of material remain very fashionable so that it is not difficult to refurbish a gown. Skirts remain narrow and waists are apt to be nearly all net, or chiffon, or some other thin material in the color of the frock with a bib, or lower part of the skirt material, so it takes little to make a gown with some matching combination.

SILK COATS.

Little silk coats or blouses that can be worn with odd gowns or do duty with a matching skirt are much to the fore. Built of plain or shot taffeta, these are very pretty and becoming, and need little trimming outside of their own material.

ONE PIECE TAFFETA GOWNS.

One piece taffeta gowns will be exceedingly fashionable made on simple lines, and these go practically anywhere, so are most useful.

NEWS NOTES.

Capt. Roald Amundsen, in an interview at Hobart, Tasmania, in which he described more in detail his trip to the South Pole, declared that it is likely that Capt. Scott also reached the Pole. Amundsen admitted the possibility that the Englishman got there first.

Through the efforts of Representatives Byrns and Wyckliffe the House refused to cut down the appropriation to eradicate tobacco-destroying insects common to Kentucky and Tennessee.

Developments claimed to have taken place in New York recently have so encouraged the managers of Leader Underwood that they are now claiming the solid delegation of the Empire State.

The report of Director M. A. Scovell, of the Agricultural Experiment Station, shows that in 1910 and 1911 over 11,100 samples of foods and drugs were examined and analyzed.

Democratic House Leader Underwood has announced that the wool tariff bill probably will be the last of the revision measures to be reported at this session of Congress.

Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, has announced that he favors Representative Underwood for the Democratic nomination for President.

VAPOR TREATMENT.

FOR CATARRH, COLDS, COUGHS, SORE THROAT AND BRONCHITIS.

Everybody knows that breathing HYOMEI a few times a day through the little hard rubber pocket inhaler will in a short time drive out catarrh.

Many people regularly use the vapor treatment at night in conjunction with the inhaler, claiming that it hastens results.

This is the vapor treatment: Into a bowl three quarters full of boiling water pour a scant teaspoonful of HYOMEI, cover head and bowl with towel and breathe for five minutes the soothing, healing, antiseptic HYOMEI vapor. Try it when using HYOMEI for any nose or throat ailment.

HYOMEI is guaranteed by Oliver's Red Cross Drug Store to put an end to catarrh, or money back. A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents; a complete outfit, which includes inhaler, $1.00.
