Sec. 2. All persons fishing in Reelfoot Lake by lines, seines, nets, or otherwise for market or for profit, shall pay a privilege tax of thirty-five cents per hundred pounds on all fish caught from said lake and sold. This said privilege tax or royalty shall be collected by the Department of Game, Fish and Forestry through wardens or other deputies under rules and regulations to be made and promulgated by the Commissioner of Game, Fish and Forestry, notice of said regulations to be given by a printing thereof in a newspaper in each of Obion and Lake Counties; provided, however, that nothing in this Act shall be construed to authorize the collection of any privilege, fee or tax from any person fishing for pleasure and for own consumption. Each peddler of fish in Obion and Lake Counties shall pay a privilege tax of ten dollars per annum. Each person who buys and sells fish at wholesale or runs a dock on said lake shall pay a privilege tax of twenty-five dollars per annum, the said privilege taxes to be paid to the Department of Game, Fish and Forestry, and to be in lieu of all other privilege taxes for State and county.

It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to shoot ducks or geese on Reelfoot Lake before sunrise and after sundown. Any persons so violating this law or any part of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and fined for each offense in a sum of not less than twenty-five dollars, nor more than fifty dollars.

Sec. 5. There shall be a Game Warden or Wardens sufficient for the enforcement of this Act appointed by the State Game Warden, and said Department of Game, Fish and Forestry shall have supervision and control of all the hunting and fishing upon the lake, and shall receive the revenue and privilege above provided and keep an accurate account of same separate from other receipts of the department.

Sec. 6. This Act shall take effect from and after its passage.

Sec. 7. All laws or parts of laws in conflict with this Act are hereby repealed. (Ch. 463, A. 1909).
Passed May 1, 1909.

The Jackson Picnic.

The Union City Sunday schools enjoyed another annual picnic at Jackson in Highland Park. The special and the regular morning train carried down about fourteen coaches full of Union City and neighborhood people. S. D. Woosley was in charge, assisted by Mr. Quinn and Mr. Allen, of the M. & O. R. R. Co. The special arrived in Jackson about 10:45 a. m. and a committee of ladies and gentlemen, with Mr. Wisdom on behalf of the city of Jackson, and Mrs. W. F. Barry, representing the various ladies' organizations, made them welcome. The street cars and taxis took the crowd to the park, where they scattered in boating, skating and sundry games. Some of the crowd saw the Martin-Jackson baseball game in the afternoon. The basket dinner was abundant and wholesome and the day was full of good humor and good order. Everything was perfect, as always it is when Mr. Woosley has charge. The special left Jackson at 5:45 and arrived home with its cargo safe and sound.

Emancipation Celebration.

The colored people of Union City enjoyed their annual celebration at the fair grounds here Aug. 8, given under the auspices of the K. of P. and Odd Fellow lodges. The program included horse races and baseball, the horses stabled at the fair grounds being brought into requisition with some interesting events in running and trotting. The game of ball was between Union City and Hickman teams, resulting in a score of 8 to 5 in favor of Union City. There was an attendance of ten or twelve hundred. A barbecue was served and best of order prevailed, the credit of which in a large measure is due to Dr. E. D. Walker, the general manager. The Hickman cornet band furnished music for the occasion.

FATHER AND SON KILLED.

Tragedy at Trenton Monday Evening on Depot Platform.

Trenton, Tenn., Aug. 11.—Hon. W. S. Coulter, 55 years old, and his son, Harry Coulter, about 23 years old, of Dyer, were both shot and instantly killed here this afternoon by J. A. Alford, hardware merchant of Rutherford. The killing occurred at the Mobile & Ohio depot as the Coulters were about to board the north-bound afternoon train for their home, a few miles north of here, in Dyer. The affair is greatly deplored by the friends of both the Coulter and the Alford families, and is the outcome of a series of family troubles extending over a number of months. The Coulters are well known and prominent citizens of the county, as are the Alford. W. S. Coulter was considered to be one of the leading members of the Gibson County bar, and his son, Harry, was likewise fast making a record of being a highly talented young lawyer. Mr. Coulter, Sr., was possibly one of the wealthiest citizens in the county.

The morning train from the north brought a large crowd of people from the upper sections of this county to attend the present term of the Circuit Court here. With this crowd came the two Coulters and J. A. Alford. There was no intimation of any trouble until this afternoon. The "dinky" from the north came into the station. Alford, who had evidently left on the south-bound train, arriving some thirty minutes before, and had boarded the north-bound train at Fruitland, a few miles south of Trenton, stepped off with other passengers, and in a few moments began to empty an automatic pistol at the father.

Upon his falling to the ground, Alford turned and directed his fire at the young man, who was in the act of climbing into a day coach. Having shot the young man down, he turned and fired a last shot into the prostrate form of the older man, and then calmly replaced his weapon in his hip pocket. There were nine shots fired, seven taking effect; three of them struck the young man and four the older one. All shots completely pierced the body of each.

Immediately after the shooting Alford called out that he would give himself up, and in a few minutes surrendered to Constable Overall, of Rutherford, who happened to be near at hand. Alford was armed with a pair of automatic 32 caliber pistols, loaded with steel bullets.

J. A. Alford is a prominent citizen of Rutherford and is engaged at present in the furniture business. He is a man of perhaps 40 years of age, and is the son-in-law of W. P. Elrod, a prominent banker of the county, living at Rutherford. He has borne a good reputation in his home community as being a man of quiet and peaceable manner.

W. S. Coulter had been prominent in the affairs of this county for a number of years. He was a son of the late Maj. J. M. Coulter, who died only a few years ago. He was in every respect a self-made man and at a late age began the practice of law, in which profession he has achieved unusual success. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Hattie Belle Hays, of Dyer, and a brother, Boone Coulter, of Union City.

The affair has stirred the entire community and Trenton is to-night filled with the friends of both parties.

Mr. Alford could not be reached this evening, being in consultation with his attorneys.

Every time you spend a dollar with a Chinaman 99 per cent of it goes across the water. Every time you send your work out of town, to another laundry, a greater portion of that goes out of town. When you spend your money with the Union City Steam Laundry every dollar, and then some, remains right in Union City. Many more dollars have been spent in an up-to-date laundry and dry cleaning plant than will be gotten out of Union City for some years to come. Mr. T. B. Meador, the manager of Metcalf's enterprises, is a resident with us, and if we have any complaint will take it up with us personally, and we wish to impress it on every citizen that we cannot do too much for Metcalf's Laundry, Dry Cleaning and Dye Works and Flower Department.
