Edison Talking Pictures.

At the Reynolds Opera House this afternoon and tonight (Friday, Feb. 20), Thomas A. Edison will offer to the people of Union City his latest gift to the world, the marvelous Kinetophone, or perfected talking pictures. The Southern touring road company consists of four experts from Edison's workshops and offices in Orange, N. J., and a full equipment of machines to give a complete presentation.

This is absolutely the highest class touring attraction in the country, it being possible to play the largest and smallest playhouses everywhere, and to give the same wonderful results in each. Naturally under the conditions, each of Mr. Edison's companies is a "Number One Show," something impossible heretofore in theatricals.

The program is very high class and diversified, consisting of comedy, drama, vaudeville, minstrel, grand and light opera, and specialties—not of the usual motion picture type, but all made by big artists not heretofore seen in pictures.

Edison has not invented "talking pictures," but in the Kinetophone has a device which simultaneously records the perfect picture and every spoken or sung word and every sound or musical note in connection therewith, and this device projects in absolute harmony or Synchronism the picture and all sound in an amazing strength and accuracy. The effect has been described as almost uncanny in its realism, the auditor forgetting that he is merely witnessing a mechanical device, for the vocal effects are absolutely perfect. The Edison Talking Pictures have scored a wonderful and popular success everywhere that this touring company of experts has offered them in the first-class theatres.

There will be a change of program to-night. Matinee this afternoon will start at 2:30.

HOME TALENT PLAY.

"Fun on the Podunk Limited" at Reynolds Theatre Feb. 24.

The participants in the home talent play, "Fun on the Podunk Limited," given for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Christian Church, are busy as bees preparing their parts for next Tuesday night, Feb. 24.

All the parts are progressing beyond the fondest hopes of those having it in charge, and there can be doubt of the "Podunk Limited" being a rousing success. All the dialogues are of the most humorous nature. Among the leading characters there will be a Farmer Boggs family, who travel all the way from Union City to Podunk; Grandpa and Grandma Wiggins, who have not been on the keers for nine years; Miss Stutterly, the stuttering woman; Miss Prim, the old maid; Tee-he girl, fat man, Irish woman, woman with baby, bride and groom, who enter the Podunk mid a rice shower and a tin pan serenade, strolling musicians, and many others too numerous to mention.

But after all no amateur performance can be quite a success without pretty, catchy musical numbers, and we will have it on the Podunk Limited. There will be two numbers by the small children, one a Gingaloo Chorus of about 75 little girls, followed by a Boogie Chorus of about the same number of little boys. These will be the cutest ever. Then there will be a Western Chorus of girls in Western costumes that will have a Wild West snap and spirit that will please any audience. The choruses by the High School girls and boys will be more artistic, namely: The Wand Chorus, Little Miss Up-to-Date Chorus, where the girls are in evening dresses, immense paper muffs and bonnets, the boys in white flannel trousers and blue serge coats, and as a closing number a Sea-Saw Chorus, with three sea-saw boards decorated in immense paper roses and electric lights.

All these songs are the catchiest song productions and will be presented in a beautiful, artistic manner.

Sunday School Work.

A Sunday School Week, for the benefit of such workers all over the country, is to be held at The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, June 15-21, preceding the Triennial International Sunday School Convention. Its object is to broaden the vision and refresh the spiritual life of Sunday school workers. Speakers of the great convention will be heard during the week, and experts of Sunday school development and teacher training will conduct classes, give lectures and answer questions. Mr. Chas. G. Trumbull, editor of the Sunday School Times, will have a devotional hour daily. Dr. H. H. Hamill, Supt. of Training Work, M. E. Church, South, will give sketches of old-time Sunday school heroes like Bishop Vincent, B. F. Jacobs, Wm. R. Reynolds and D. L. Moody. "Teacher Training," "The Teen Age," "Sunday School Evangelism," "Missions," "Administration," and related themes, will be handled by Dr. Edgar Blake, Secretary of the Board of Sunday Schools, M. E. Church; Dr. John T. Farris, editor of the Presbyterian Board of Publication; Dr. B. W. Spilman, of the Sunday School Board, Southern Baptist Convention; Dr. Robert Gammon, of the Congregational Sunday School and Publication Society; Prof. A. M. Locker and Hugh Cork, Secretaries of the Minnesota and Illinois State Sunday School Association. A large gathering is being planned for.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN

Who Are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help.

Miss Lea Dumas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicines I ever took."

If the careworn, run-down women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Dumas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderful, strength creator and body-builder, and we sell it under a guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you.

P. S. For any skin trouble try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

FORAGE POISON

IS MOST FATAL

State Veterinarian Gives Some Information.

The disastrous effect of the recent outbreak of leuco encephalitis (forage poison) in Maury County calls for a word or two of explanation and caution. More than twenty horses and mules died of the poison on one farm in that county. Forage poison, according to Dr. Geo. R. White, State Veterinarian, is a disease called by the ingestion of mouldy or decomposed feed, which affects the brain substance in such a manner as to actually cause degeneration of the cells of the brain. It has been especially prevalent in Tennessee during last fall and this winter. Speaking of the disease Dr. White said:

"Its origin or cause has in most instances been traced to bad corn and bad. Several farmers have lost as many as four, six and eight head of horses and mules this season from feeding unsound or damaged corn. Ensilage is an exceedingly unsafe feed simply on account of its tendency to mould, decompose and sour, in which condition it readily causes 'blind staggers.' I recall one instance a few years ago where a farmer in Middle Tennessee was preparing twenty-four mules for market. Ignorant of the danger of feeding ensilage to horses and mules, or unthoughtfully he gave them a bushel basket half full as a supper ration. When the owner went to the barn the next morning he found eight of these mules already dead and the remainder fatally sick from 'forage poison.' Another extensive outbreak of 'blind staggers' which came under the writer's notice was readily traced back to the inferior grade of clover hay which was being fed to them. In Nashville no longer than last week, a man in very modest financial circumstances had the misfortune to lose three horses and one mule from 'blind staggers,' caused by feeding decomposed hay which had been 'ricked' in the field for two years.

"'Blind staggers' is the one disease which is easier to prevent than it is to cure, hence stockmen should take notice from other losers and carefully inspect the ration allowed. If found faulty, by all means reject it. However, I have no hesitancy in saying that nine-tenths of the cases which have come under my observation were caused by feeding inferior corn. I have found the average livestock owner slow to believe that the feed is the real, in fact only, cause of deaths from this character of disease. They oftentimes refuse to believe it, even when told by a qualified veterinary surgeon. Leuco encephalitis is one of the most fatal of all animal diseases. It is even more fatal than that much-dreaded disease tetanus (lock jaw).

The most frequent symptoms observed is inability to swallow, although mouth contains food; staggering gait, impaired vision resulting in many instances in total blindness; twitching and contraction of the voluntary muscles. Temperature usually normal or subnormal. Later the animals may become restless, delirious, paralyzed and unable to stand quietly, resulting in unconsciousness, coma and death, usually from exhaustion. Death in most instances takes place within thirty-six hours after the onset of the first symptoms. Whenever one horse in a stable develops 'blind staggers' all the other animals should be removed or the stable thoroughly cleaned by removing every vestige of grain and forage. A complete change of diet is absolutely necessary, as it is impossible to definitely determine what particular part of the feed is responsible for the disease. Where the disease has developed in horses and mules I have always found it safe to feed the rejected hay, corn or ensilage to cattle."
