FIRE AT CLARKSVILLE.

Worst Conflagration in History of City Rages.

Clarksville, Tenn., Dec. 29.—Damage of $250,000 was caused here to-night when fire swept the business section of the city. The fire, which broke out at 6:30 o'clock, was under control at 10 p. m. The damage is partly covered by insurance.

Beginning at Elders' Opera House, it swept the entire block, consisting of the Clarksville Coca-Cola bottling works, Grizzard & Co.'s general grocery store, Perkin & Grizzard, hardware; the Postal Telegraph Co.'s office, G. S. Moore's gun and bicycle repair shop and the Clarksville Buggy Co. Crossing the street, it wiped out the Lillian motion picture theater, one of the finest theaters in the South. Next to this came the Purity Candy Kitchen, and adjoining this E. B. Ely's confectionery store was also badly damaged.

Help was telegraphed from Nashville and Hopkinsville, both cities responding promptly. The Daily Leaf Chronicle was damaged, but it will issue its regular edition to-morrow. All the wires in town are down and the electric plants have suspended.

Trouble Ahead.

"I'm afraid this chafing dish my wife got is going to cause discord."

"Why so?"

"Well, I don't like her chafing and she doesn't care for my chafing."

What He Does.

Mr. Newens, while presented as a monologist, is all that and more. His entertaining purpose programs are truly entertainments with great purposes. He impersonates and yet he does not. He presents the characters of real men and women without costumes or make-up accessories. He is no way mechanically offensive. Probably the strongest point in his work is the message that he brings to his audience in every program. His entertainment is the sermon without the preacher, the lecture without the lecturer, the drama enacted without the actors and stage properties.

When he comes—January 5, at the opera house.
