Boy Scouts.

Wolf Patrol, Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts of America, is the name of the new boy scouts organization in Union City. This patrol was organized Monday at the Christian Endeavor Home by Rev. C. M. Zwinglie. The patrol will meet again next Monday at the Home at 5 p. m. when it is expected that at least two other patrols will be organized in order to make a good full troop.

Fine Restaurant.

Pardue & Moss, formerly in the building just south of the old post-office building, have opened a modern restaurant in the old postoffice. It is a lunch stand and restaurant combined with all the latest and best accommodations to be found. The walls are paneled with mirrors and the chairs are covered with white napkins. The lunch stand is a model of neatness and luxury. The dairy features and quick lunch are incomparable in a town of this size. The Pardue & Moss service is also in a special class, and the patrons of the place are well pleased.

The Swain Show.

Col. W. I. Swain is in town this week with his big "Kant Leek" tent on the Ligon lot, furnishing the patrons of the drama some interesting productions on the stage. The company is one of the best Colonel Swain has ever brought us, and that is saying a great deal. The repertoire is made up of the latest and biggest metropolitan successes, and the attendance is fine. Colonel Swain is an old-time showman and he never fails.

To-night (Friday) "Thelma" will be presented and to-morrow night they cease their engagement with the great convict play, "Fighting Fate." Admission very cheap. Seats for all. Good orchestra and a pleasing entertainment from start to stop.

Cures Hog Cholera.

B. A. Thomas' Hog Powders has a record of 95 cures out of every hundred. The makers of this medicine say they know what it will do and authorize us to guarantee a 90 per cent cure. This means that if B. A. Thomas' Hog Powders do not cure 90 per cent of your hogs it does not cost you a penny. Better look into this right now. Remember we do the guaranteeing. —Advised by Frank C. Wehman.—Adv.

FAIR HAS WORKED WONDERS

TRI-STATES SHOW MAGNIFICENT RESULTS OF CO-OPERATION.

MEMPHIS IS GREATLY PLEASED.

The Tri-State Fair at Memphis is a monument to co-operation. It shows beyond all doubt what concerted effort can do.

The fair this year will be held September 26 to October 5, and during the ten days thousands of farmers, business men and women from the surrounding territory will see the fruits of the last few years' wonderful development concentrated in the extensive fair grounds.

Diversification even beyond the fondest hopes of the men who started the fair movement only a few years ago will be shown this year. Corn, wheat, hays, oats, vegetables, live stock, swine, poultry and a score and one other money-makers for the farm will all come in for their share of approval. Crop rotation has proven its worth, and to the Tri-State Fair goes the lion's share of the credit for the movement in the Memphis territory. In this section there are no less than a dozen farmers who decided to adopt more modern methods after a visit to the Memphis fair. And this year they will have opportunity for even more remarkable instruction.

Harness racing, automobile racing, a splendid midway, and a half hundred other amusement features will be offered by the fair association this year. All of the railroads are giving rates and thousands are expected from this section of the state alone.

WONDERFUL CLOCK COMING.

Gebhard's famous clock will be one of the attractions at the Tri-State Fair at Memphis this year. Announcement was recently made that the Memphis Clock Co., makers of this clock from C. Gebhard & Sons, its makers, for the week of September 26 until October 5, inclusive. The clock was made in Mannheim, Germany. It was under construction 31 years; it has 15,000 distinct parts, which operate with 23 different astronomical motions. These motions vary from one second to a revolution of 29 years and six months. It is all operated by one pendulum. The big clock is only one of the hundred or more amusement features at the fair.

MODEL FARMS AT FAIR

AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT WILL BE REPLETE WITH INSTRUCTIVE FEATURES.

Visitors to the Tri-State Fair at Memphis during the ten days beginning September 26, will see one of the most complete exhibitions of miniature farms ever attempted in the South.

These farms will be arranged under the supervision of experts, whose purpose it is to show just how farming of different kinds can be conducted successfully.

One of the farms will be a model poultry farm, showing how best to handle poultry on a ten-acre tract.

Another will be a hog farm, showing how the greatest number of hogs can be handled on a given area of ground. This farm will show a series of crops to be planted so as to produce the greatest amount of feed throughout the year. It will also show model hog houses and tell how to handle swine to the best advantage.

A model grain and stock farm will also be shown, giving a splendid plan for a four-year rotation. This plan secures the maximum result from the land and at the same time adds to its fertility.

The fifth farm will show the proper method of growing and harvesting rice.

Each of the farms will be under fence, and all necessary buildings and equipment for operation will be included in the exhibits. There will also be up-to-the-minute charts and printed slips, the latter may be taken home for future reference. Experts will be in charge of the exhibits and will explain all details. The model farms will be the central feature of the Agricultural building.

TENNESSEE PER CAPITA FIRE LOSS IS HEAVIEST

Fire Prevention Commissioner Goes to National Convention.

Nashville, Sept. 11.—Fire Prevention Commissioner of Tennessee, Chas. W. Schuyler, is in Chicago attending the convention of the Annual Fire Marshals' Association of North America.

Mr. Schuyler has already attained a reputation on fire prevention work by his energetic work in furthering the present fire prevention law of the State in the last Legislature. This law is said by other State authorities to be the most modern law on the subject of any State in the union. Mr. Schuyler is on the program to address this association on "Suggestions for a National Clean Up Week, and the State Building Code."

The Fire Marshals' association of North America has advanced progressive ideas and methods towards the elimination of fire hazards in America," said Mr. Schuyler before leaving. "The fire waste in this country is enormous, running around $750,000,000 annually, covering the losses proper, upkeep of fire departments, fire fighting apparatus and business. If the cost of solicitors and other expenses of the fire insurance companies were added, it would bring the combined cost to the people of America right at a billion dollars, for it requires forty per cent of the insurance premiums for the maintenance of the fire insurance companies and sixty per cent of the total premiums are returned to the assured for the losses attained by them. A loss by fire is gone forever—it is that much of the nation's value wiped off the earth and can never be returned. Tennessee has the highest per capita loss of any State in the Union, or any country in the world. The cost to every man, woman and child in the State of Tennessee is $5.18 per annum. Seven of the largest European countries have a per capita loss of but thirty-three cents; England, fifty-four cents; Germany, nineteen cents; Austria, thirty cents; Sweden, thirteen cents; the Netherlands, twelve cents, and Switzerland, four cents.

Herbert M. Nelson, of the United States geological survey, reported that the loss of fire in one year in this country amounts to one-half the value of the buildings constructed annually, a tax upon the people exceeding the total value of the gold, silver, copper and petroleum produced in the United States and its territories each year."

The fire loss in America covering the last ten years exceeds the gold held by the United Kingdom, Austria-Hungary, Italy and Spain; is two hundred million in excess of the total authorized capital stock of all the National Banks in America; it exceeds the combined annual value of this country's six staple crops of wheat, oats, potatoes, rye, barley and buckwheat; is greater than the annual value of the cotton crop, and experts say that the more than eighty per cent of the fires in this country are caused by carelessness and easily preventable.

Mr. Schuyler said that he expected to obtain information from the experts in attendance at this convention that would be invaluable to the State in progressive methods of fire prevention, and would enable the introduction of new methods in this universal cause of conservation. Some States have been operating such departments for fifteen years, and it is stated that in many States the fire loss has been reduced from twenty per cent to fifty per cent.

Governor Rye is greatly interested in this conservation movement, besides other reforms he has engendered into his administration bearing on retrenchment policies.

The fire prevention department does not cost the State one cent, this department being supported by a special tax of one-half of one per cent on the net premium received on fire and marine insurance written in the State of Tennessee. This, of course, is paid directly by the people who carry fire insurance.

"THE MIDNIGHT SUN"

As Described by John L. Stoddard in His Lecture on Norway.

Straight from the polar sea, apparently, the wondrous northern light (an opalescent radiance born of the twilight and the dawn) came stealing o'er the waters like a benediction and to enhance its mystery and beauty, when I looked northward over the rounded shoulder of the globe, I saw the Midnight Sun. At this great height and northern latitude it did not sink to the horizon, but merely paused, apparently some twenty feet above the waves, then gradually rose again. It was the last countless sunsets which had that day been following each other round the globe. It was the first of countless sunrises which, hour after hour, in so many continents would wake to life again a sleeping world. I have seen many impressive sights in many lands, but nothing, until time for me shall be no more, can equal in solemnity the hour when, standing on this threshold of a continent, and on the edge of this immeasurable sea, I watched, without one moment's interval of darkness, the past transform itself in the present, and yesterday become to-day.
