

MOTHER GAVE
THIS DELICATE CHILD VINOL

And He Got Well and Strong, That's True

Monaca, Pa.—"My little boy, who is the youngest of three, was weak, nervous and tired all the time, so he was most unfit at school, and nothing seemed to help him. I learned of Vinol and gave it to him. It has restored his health and strength and he has gained in weight."—Mrs. Frederick Sommers, Monaca, Pa.
Vinol is a constitutional cod liver and iron remedy for delicate, weak, ailing children. Formula on every bottle, so you know what you are giving them. Children love it.

RIVES.

Jones Elam has been in from Dyersburg.

Finis Cummings, of Prescott, Ark., was a recent visitor of Plead Callcott.

Miss Jessie Callicott is convalescent of flu.

Mrs. J. L. Peery, of Polk, was a social visitor the past week of the Misses Guy.

The master trapper, Bud Pruett, report the profits from the sport extra good this season. It seems there is a mammoth coon tracking on dangerous ground near Mr. Pruett's haunts. Watch your step, Bre'r Coon, for no doubt your days are numbered.

Three soldiers from overseas duty came in this week, Claude Ellison, who lives north of town, and Messrs. Paul Calhoun and Brown Sanders, of the Troy vicinity. J. P. Harris, grandson of our neighbor, Mrs. M. C. Harris, is back in the States, detained for a few days at Camp Upton, N. Y. Coleman Harris, his brother, well known here among the younger social set, writes home he is on the Rhine in the occupational army, content to serve his country as long as needed.

Mrs. R. L. Phobus is in Humphreys County, guest of Dr. and Mrs. David Pruett near Waverly.

Miss Cecil Olive reports a very enjoyable visit in Paris.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Dillard, of Ridgeley, and Miss Ruby Locke, of Obion, were Sabbath guests of Misses Flo and Ava Tune.

The citizens of Moffatt were out en masse Sabbath to meet the noon trains. The occasion was an intended very quiet wedding, Mr. Walter Sparkman and Mrs. Nomic Baker contracting parties and Dr. Palmer performing the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Sparkman, after a few days visit with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thompson, will reside on one of the B. J. Wade farms near Rives.

We had a flurry of snow and falling temperature on St. Valentine's. To observe precaution of high medical advice against the flu cupid sheathed his darts and rushed to the style shop.

A friend of ours, a very conservative woman, denounces the exploits of the suffragettes in their silly effigy processions in the national capital, and we believe voices the sentiment of the women in Number Four, that they should in every way be ostracized by those of their sex who think upon the subject of suffrage intelligently. While women in vast numbers are informing themselves along lines to be capable of an intelligent vote these clamorous few are making themselves a conspicuous nuisance.

Mrs. Laura Hutcherson, of Obion, was in on a visit this week.

Andrew Nelma, of Nashville, guest of his sister, Mrs. Woose Womack, has returned home.

Mesdames T. J. Bonner, Allen Wade, Misses Aletha Bonner and Missie Harris were visitors Monday in Union City.

W. E. Shropshire has sold his interests in the livery barn and transfer business to Mr. Will Manéese. Mr. Manéese has also bought out the grocery business of J. F. Holloway in north Rives.

Mesdames R. L. Phobus, H. D. Webster, W. J. Caldwell, Allen Wade, Misses Bonner and Wade were guests for the day on the 13th inst. of Miss Missie Harris.

Mesdames J. J. Melvin, W. Z. Masengill and W. L. Bryan were down from Union City Wednesday of the past week attendants of a social meeting of the O. E. S. The report of the Worthy Matron of her visit to the Grand Chapter last month was replete with incidents interspersed with some wit, which supplemented by Mrs. Melvin brought the chapter into a very good humor for the cupid contest and following refreshment course. In the personnel of officers present the good of order was emphasized.

Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Allen celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary on last Tuesday, Feb. 18. Those present with them on this happy occasion were their children, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Allen and little daughter, Dorothea Anne, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Allen, Misses Beulah and Eulelah Allen. The out-of-town guests were Mrs. T. J. Dowling, Judge and Mrs. A. W. Stovall, of Jackson, Tenn., and Mr. G. M. Stovall, of Helena, Ark., sisters and brothers of Mrs. Allen; Mrs. Belle Amburn, of Farmland, Ind., and Mrs. Susan Tucker, of Washington, Ind., sisters of Mr. Allen. Two of the sisters and one brother of Mrs. Allen could not be present on account of illness.

The presents were many and all in gold, the children giving coins, the brothers and sisters jewels and a loving cup of gold beautifully engraved with the name of bride and groom, donors, dates, etc.

It was an ideal day, as was the wedding day fifty years ago, and one long to be remembered by those presents. Among the enjoyable features of the occasion were a number of songs by the five-year-old granddaughter, Dorothea Anne.

A delightful turkey dinner was served, the center piece being of sun-burst roses. When the last course had been served, on the stroke of three, the hour of the wedding ceremony, Judge Stovall, the oldest brother, read the following original lines:

TO DAN AND MARY.
'Tis fifty years since you were wed,
those were eventful years,
And many blessings crowned your head,
and alternate smiles and tears.
Let's take a reminiscent glance,
and trace the fleeting days,
And note the changeful hues of life,
where joy and sorrow stays.

'Twas in the year of sixty-nine, when life seemed young and strong
Your plighted love a flowering vine,
and sweeter than a song,
And in that far-flown Halcyon day,
beneath God's peaceful dome
Your hearts and hands made instant plans,
to form yourselves a home,

The home was not begilded with rare trinkets of the merrit,
But righteous love was built therein
and twined each other's heart.
The babes you kissed, those jewels rare,
and held with admiration,
Are still to you alive or dead, a noble inspiration.

'Tis not so long ago since then, a space of fifty years,
But in that time what marvels came and myriad hopes and fears.
No moving pictures graced the stage,
no phonographs to show,
Nor wireless message sought relief,
back fifty years ago.

No airplanes sailed thru genial skies,
to carry human souls,
No soldiers fought within the earth,
in trenches or in holes,
Electric lights nor telephones, nor electric cars or train,
No automobile speeding ways,
conceived by human brain.

But God was good to those who stood in paths of rectitude
As a half a century ago divinely laws
protude,

Let's thank the Lord for joining hands, of hands not made for show,

For joining hearts brimful of love,
just fifty years ago.
